Mickey Newsome, President and Chief Executive Officer, stated, "We demonstrated solid execution in all facets of our business during the third quarter. Each product category performed well with comparable sales up double digits in apparel, mid-single digits in footwear and positive in equipment. Apparel continues to benefit from licensed and performance active wear, while footwear continues to be driven by retro, classic and performance footwear. The equipment category showed significant improvement year over year as a result of improved buying and execution.

"With more of our product offerings selling at regular price than a year ago, we continue to report what we believe are industry-leading operating margins among publicly held full-line sporting goods retailers. In two of three quarters this year, we posted an operating margin in excess of ten percent. We have long stated the benefits of being a small market and low-cost operator, and our results in the first nine months of fiscal 2004 prove it again. With strong sales trends throughout the third quarter and so far in the fourth quarter, we expect our continued focus on customer service and leveraging of inventory efficiencies to produce another successful quarter for Hibbett and our stockholders."
