Proxy Statement

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON VOTING PROCEDURES

Who is entitled to vote at the annual meeting, and how many votes do they have?

Common shareholders who own shares as of February 28, 2003 may vote at the meeting. Each share has one vote. There were 164,857,818 shares of common stock outstanding on that date.

When were the enclosed solicitation materials first given to shareholders?

The enclosed annual report and proxy voting form, together with this Notice of Annual Meeting and Proxy Statement, were first sent, or given, to shareholders on or about March 21, 2003.

What is a quorum of shareholders?

A quorum is the presence at the annual meeting in person or by proxy of shareholders entitled to cast a majority of all the votes entitled to be cast. Since there were 164,857,818 shares of common stock outstanding on February 28, 2003, the presence of holders of 82,428,910 shares is a quorum. We must have a quorum to conduct the meeting.

How many votes does it take to pass each matter?

If a quorum of shareholders is present at the meeting, we need:

a plurality of all the votes cast to elect each director, and a majority of all the votes cast to ratify PricewaterhouseCoopers as our independent accountants, and pass the shareholder proposals.

How are abstentions and broker non-votes treated?

Abstentions and broker non-votes count for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum. For all matters, abstentions and broker non-votes will not have any effect on the result of the vote.

How do I vote?

You must be present, or represented by proxy, at the annual meeting in order to vote your shares. Since many of our shareholders are unable to attend the meeting in person, we send proxy cards or voting instruction forms to all of our shareholders.

If my shares are held in street name by my broker, will my broker vote my shares for me?

If your shares are held in a brokerage account, you will receive a full meeting package including a voting instruction form to vote your shares. Your brokerage firm may permit you to vote by telephone or by the Internet. Brokerage firms have the authority under New York Stock Exchange rules to vote their clients' unvoted shares on certain routine matters. If you do not vote, your brokerage firm may choose to vote for you or leave your shares unvoted. We urge you to respond to your brokerage firm so that your vote will be cast.

What is a proxy?

A proxy is another person you authorize to vote on your behalf. We solicit proxies so that all common shares may be voted at the annual meeting even if the holders do not attend the meeting.

Table of Contents

How will my proxy vote my shares?

If you properly sign and return your proxy card or voting instruction form or complete your proxy via the telephone or the Internet, your shares will be voted as you direct. If you sign and return your proxy card or voting instruction form but do not specify how you want your shares voted, they will be voted FOR the election of all nominees for Director as set forth under Election of Constellation Energy Directors, FOR the ratification of the independent accountants and AGAINST the shareholder proposals. Also, you will give your proxies authority to vote, using their discretion, on any other business that properly comes before the meeting.

How do I vote using my proxy card?

There are three steps.

1. Vote on each of the matters as follows:

Item 1. The names of the Class I directors to serve three-year terms are listed on your proxy card. You have three options:

Option 1. To vote for all of the directors, you check the box marked FOR.

Option 2. To vote for some of the directors and against the rest, you check the box marked FOR and then draw a line through the names of the directors that you want to vote against.

Option 3. To abstain from voting for all of the directors (that is, not vote for or against any of the directors), you check the box marked WITHHOLD AUTHORITY.

Items 2, 3 and 4. Check the box FOR, or AGAINST, or ABSTAIN (to cast no vote).

2. Sign and date your proxy card. If you do not sign and date your proxy card, your votes cannot be counted.
3. Mail your proxy card in the pre-addressed, postage-paid envelope.
4. Check the box on your proxy card if you plan to attend the annual meeting.

Can I vote by proxy even if I plan to attend the annual meeting?

Edgar Filing: CONSTELLATION ENERGY GROUP INC - Form DEF 14A

Yes. If you vote by proxy, you do not need to fill out a ballot at the annual meeting, unless you want to change your vote.

Why might I receive more than one proxy card? Should I vote on each proxy card I receive?

First, you may have various accounts with us that are registered differently, perhaps in different names or different social security or federal tax identification numbers. Second, you may also own shares indirectly through your broker or through our employee savings plans. Your broker or the plan trustee will send you a proxy or voting instruction form for these shares. You should vote on each proxy or voting instruction form you receive and mail it to the address shown on the proxy or form. If employee savings plan participants do not vote their shares, the plan trustee will vote the shares in the same proportion as the trustee was instructed to vote shares for which it received voting instruction forms.

We will in the future send an Annual Report for each of your accounts. We also provide promptly upon request a copy of the Annual Report to any shareholder who requests it.

How do I change my vote?

You may change your vote at any time before the annual meeting by:

notifying Kathleen A. Chagnon, Corporate Secretary, in writing at 750 E. Pratt Street, 18th Floor, Baltimore, MD 21202, that you are changing your vote; or completing and sending in another proxy card or voting instruction form with a later date (including by means of a telephone or internet vote); or attending the annual meeting and voting in person.

Who is soliciting my proxy, how is it being solicited, and who pays the cost?

Edgar Filing: CONSTELLATION ENERGY GROUP INC - Form DEF 14A

Constellation Energy, on behalf of the Board of Directors, through its directors, officers and employees, is soliciting proxies primarily by mail. However, proxies may also be solicited in person, by telephone or facsimile. We have retained Georgeson Shareholder to assist us with the solicitation of proxies for a fee of approximately $13,500, plus out-of-pocket expenses. Constellation Energy pays the cost of soliciting proxies.

We will send a copy of this description for free to any shareholder who requests it by contacting Shareholder Services at the address listed on page 3.

DIRECTORS' COMPENSATION

The Board met 10 times for regularly scheduled meetings in 2002. Each of the directors, with the exception of Mr. Bramble, attended 75% or more of the total number of meetings of the Board and of any committees on which the director served.

We do not pay directors who are also employees of Constellation Energy or its subsidiaries for their service as directors. In 2002, non-employee directors received the following compensation:

$20,000 annual retainer, and a $2,000 annual retainer for each committee chairperson, common stock award with a value of approximately $35,000, $1,250 fee for each regular or special Board or Board committee meeting attended, and reasonable travel expenses to attend meetings.

Directors could defer receipt of some or all of their 2002 retainers and fees in a cash account.

In light of the Board's increased responsibilities, including those arising as a result of recent legislation and related rules, effective for 2003 the Board compensation design was revised. Compensation now consists of a $30,000 annual retainer; an equity award with a value of approximately $35,000; a $10,000 annual retainer for the chairperson of the audit committee, and a $5,000 annual retainer for each other committee chairperson; and a $1,250 fee for each regular or special Board or Board committee meeting attended. In addition, directors are reimbursed for reasonable travel expenses to attend meetings.

Directors had the opportunity to elect to defer some or all of their 2003 retainers in deferred stock units or in a cash account, and to defer some or all of their fees in a cash account. Deferred stock units are bookkeeping entries that track the performance of Constellation Energy common stock and are not actual shares of stock. The bookkeeping entries reflect Constellation Energy common stock price changes, dividends, stock splits and other capital changes. At the end of their Board service, directors receive cash based on the value of their deferred stock units.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND TRANSACTIONS

James R. Curtiss, a director of Constellation Energy, is a partner in the law firm of Winston & Strawn. A subsidiary of Constellation Energy paid fees to this firm for legal services rendered in 2002.

The role of the Audit Committee is to assist the Board of Directors in its oversight of Constellation Energy's financial reporting process. We operate pursuant to a charter that was last amended and restated by the Board on May 24, 2002. Finally, we have received the written disclosures and the letter from the independent auditors required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1, Independence Discussions with Audit Committees, as currently in effect, and have considered whether the provision of non-audit services by the independent auditors to Constellation Energy is compatible with maintaining the auditor's independence and have discussed with the auditors the auditor's independence.

These programs do not increase the amount of supplemental pension benefits or deferred compensation. To provide security, accrued supplemental pension benefits and deferred compensation are funded through a trust at the time they are earned. An executive officer's accrued benefits in the supplemental pension trust become vested when any of these events occur: retirement eligibility; termination, demotion or loss of benefit eligibility without cause; a change of control of Constellation Energy followed within two years by the executive's demotion, termination or loss of benefit eligibility; or reduction of previously accrued benefits. As a result of becoming vested, the executive would be entitled to a payout of the vested amount from the supplemental pension trust at employment termination. An executive's benefits under the deferred compensation plan always are fully vested and are payable upon employment termination.

Severance and Other Agreements

Constellation Energy has severance agreements with Messrs. Shattuck, Poindexter and Wallace, Ms. Smith and Mr. Heintz. The severance agreements provide benefits if (1) there is a change in control of Constellation Energy, and (2) within two years of the change in control, the executive's employment is terminated without cause, or the executive resigns for good reason, as defined in the severance agreements. The executives are required to release Constellation Energy and its subsidiaries from legal claims as a condition to receiving the benefits.

The severance agreements provide benefits equal to three times the sum of (1) the executive's annual base salary and (2) the average of the executive's two highest annual incentive awards paid (or deemed paid at target for recently hired executives) in the last five years. Payment is made in a cash lump sum after employment ceases.

For an executive who is ineligible to retire, the agreements also provide enhanced retirement benefits, computed assuming the executive: (1) has service equal to actual service plus 3 years of deemed service (Mr. Wallace's agreement provides a minimum 40% service percentage); and (2) has satisfied the minimum age and service eligibility requirements for benefits under the supplemental retirement plan.

For an executive who is eligible to retire, the agreements also provide retirement benefits computed without any penalty for early retirement (Mr. Wallace's agreement also provides a minimum 40% service percentage).

For any executive, the agreement further provides for the payment of the present value of the employer subsidy for active employee medical and dental benefits for 3 years. Also, for an executive who is at least age 55 with seven or more years of service, the agreement provides for the payment of the present value of the employer subsidy for medical and dental benefits for retired employees (based on the deemed age and service used above to compute retirement benefits). Each executive is also entitled to 60 days of outplacement services at a cost not to exceed $50,000.

Upon a change of control of Constellation Energy, the executive is also entitled to an accelerated payout of restricted stock or acceleration of the option exercise period in accordance with the terms of the Long-Term Incentive Plan. Also, the executive is entitled to an accelerated annual incentive payment, computed assuming maximum performance achievement and pro-rated for service during the performance period in the event of a change of control of Constellation Energy and termination of the executive's employment within two years thereafter.

When Mr. Poindexter resigned as Chairman of the Board in 2002, he entered into an agreement with Constellation Energy pursuant to which he will continue to provide exclusive services to Constellation Energy as an employee until his scheduled October 1, 2003 retirement. Under this agreement, Constellation Energy agreed to continue his current annual base salary of $900,000 and his annual incentive plan target opportunity of 100% of base salary. The agreement also confirmed Mr. Poindexter's benefits prior to and at retirement under the Constellation Energy compensation, retirement and welfare benefit plans in which he participates. In addition, Constellation Energy agreed that Mr. Poindexter will retain certain home office equipment after retirement. While Mr. Poindexter serves on the board of, or is involved with certain energy industry, trade and community groups, consistent with its policy for past Board Chairmen, Constellation Energy will continue to provide him with various types of support for these activities, including reimbursement of expenses, office space, administrative support and transportation services.

When Mr. Brooks was hired in 2001, Constellation Energy agreed to reimburse him for up to $3,000,000 of loss in his former employer equity awards to the extent the loss is caused by certain future events. If at any time Mr. Brooks' employment is terminated by Constellation Energy without cause, Constellation Energy will reimburse him for any such loss. If before April 2003 a change in control of Constellation Energy occurs and Mr. Brooks resigns because his duties are diminished, or if after March 2003 he voluntarily resigns, Constellation Energy will reimburse him for any such loss. Constellation Energy is not obligated to reimburse Mr. Brooks for any such loss if (i) the former employer equity awards vest, (ii) he retains his right to the former employer non-vested equity awards after his employment termination, (iii) action he takes relieves the former employer from delivering the equity awards, or (iv) the value of the vested equity awards at any time exceeds $3,000,000.

As part of its efforts to retain Mr. Brooks so that Constellation Energy may continue to benefit from his significant expertise in the origination and risk management business, Constellation Energy agreed to pay him a total cash amount of $1,150,000, with 40% vesting on July 1, 2002, and the remaining 60% vesting on July 1, 2003. The 40% that vested in 2002 totaled $460,000 and is shown in the column of the Summary Compensation Table on page 12 titled All Other Compensation. In the event of a change in control of Constellation Energy or termination of Mr. Brooks' employment by Constellation Energy without cause prior to July 1, 2003, the remaining $690,000 will immediately vest and be paid.

When he was hired in January 2002, Mr. Wallace entered into an employment agreement with Constellation Energy that is effective until December 31, 2004. Under the terms of the agreement, Mr. Wallace serves as President of Constellation Generation Group, LLC, at a minimum annual base salary of $500,000, and with a $500,000 annual incentive award guarantee for 2002. Mr. Wallace's 2002 annual incentive award is shown in the column of the Summary Compensation Table on page 12 titled Bonus. For 2003 and 2004, Mr. Wallace's annual incentive award target opportunity will be no less than the target opportunity for Constellation Energy's Chief Executive Officer. The agreement also provides for grants of stock options and restricted stock, which are disclosed in the Option Grant Table on page 14, and in the Long-Term Incentive Plan Table on page 15. The agreement further provides seven years of vesting service under the supplemental pension plan. In the event of termination of Mr. Wallace's employment by Constellation Energy without cause or Mr. Wallace's resignation from employment with Constellation Energy for good reason, subject to his execution of a waiver releasing Constellation Energy and its affiliates from any claims, base salary will be paid through December 31, 2004, annual incentive awards through December 31, 2004 will be paid at target, restricted stock and stock options will be subject to accelerated vesting, and supplemental pension plan benefits will fully and immediately vest.

When Ms. Smith was hired in 2001, Constellation Energy agreed to grant her options to purchase Constellation Energy common stock, with an aggregate value of $1,500,000, a ten year exercise period, and vesting in three equal annual installments beginning no later than November 22, 2001. To satisfy this commitment, in 2001 Constellation Energy granted Ms. Smith an option to purchase 150,000 shares of stock, and on February 5, 2002 granted Ms. Smith an option to purchase 206,000 shares of stock. Both grants are shown in the column of the Summary Compensation Table on page 12 titled Long-Term Compensation Securities Underlying Options, and the 2002 grant is also disclosed in the Option Grant Table on page 14. Constellation Energy also agreed that if any event occurs (such as termination of Ms. Smith's employment) that would cause any such stock options to expire prior to the end of the ten year exercise period, Constellation Energy will make an immediate cash payment to compensate her for any lost value due to such early expiration, up to $1,500,000. However, Ms. Smith is not entitled to any such payment if she becomes employed by a direct competitor of Constellation Energy prior to the expiration date.

Constellation Energy also entered into a severance agreement with Ms. Smith, and in the event her employment is terminated by Constellation Energy without cause or if she resigns from her employment with Constellation Energy for good reason between certain dates, Constellation Energy will pay her the following aggregate cash amounts in 24 equal monthly installments: (i) May 22, 2001 and December 31, 2003 $1,400,000; (ii) January 1, 2004 and December 31, 2004 $1,000,000; and (iii) January 1, 2005 and December 31, 2005 $700,000. The agreement also provides that outstanding equity awards will continue to vest on schedule in the event Ms. Smith's employment is terminated by Constellation Energy without cause or if she resigns from her employment with Constellation Energy for good reason before 2006.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MANAGEMENT ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Committee on Management

The Committee on Management is responsible for executive compensation policies. We also approve all compensation plans, specific salary amounts, and other compensation awards for individual executives. All of our Committee members are non-employee directors.

Philosophy

We design compensation policies to encourage executives to manage Constellation Energy and its subsidiaries (collectively, the company) in the best long-term interests of shareholders and to allow the company to attract and retain executives best suited to lead it in a changing industry. We have retained an outside executive compensation consultant since 1993. Our consultant provides information and advice on a regular basis. In addition, internal compensation analysts, certified by WorldatWork (formerly the American Compensation Association), use published survey data, outside consultants, and other resources to make recommendations to us.

Our Committee determined that the relevant labor market for base salary in 2002 for company executives is the energy services industry. In 2002, we used a comparison group of energy services companies similar in size to Constellation Energy and that have significant nonregulated businesses. The data was analyzed and adjusted to account for Constellation Energy's size. We believe these energy services companies best represent the portion of the executive labor market in which Constellation Energy competes. For some nonregulated subsidiary executives, we also used labor market data from various industries that are similar to their respective businesses. For short-term and long-term incentive opportunities, we benchmarked incentive opportunity provided in these same energy services companies.

The elements of executive compensation are:

base salary,
short-term incentive awards, and long-term incentive awards.

The Committee's philosophy is that base salary should approximate the median level of the relevant labor market. Base salary and short-term incentive awards should approximate the median level of the relevant labor market for average performance, and the 75th percentile for superior performance. Long-term incentive awards for superior performance should bring total compensation to approximately the 75th percentile of the relevant labor market. As described below, corporate and/or subsidiary business and individual performance are among the criteria we use in determining base salary, and are key components in determining both short-term and long-term incentive awards.

Annual Cash Compensation

Edgar Filing: CONSTELLATION ENERGY GROUP INC - Form DEF 14A

Base Salary. We used publicly available compensation data and the Committee's compensation philosophy to determine base salary range increases for the named executives in 2002.

We determined that the base salaries we established in 2001 or before were appropriate for 2002 for Mr. Shattuck, Mr. Poindexter and Mr. Brooks. Therefore, no base salary increase was approved during 2002 for these executives. We determined the starting base salary amount for a newly hired executive, Mr. Wallace, in 2002, based on the established salary range for his position. Ms. Smith received a salary increase based on the Committee's annual review of her individual performance and her position in the salary range. Mr. Heintz received a salary increase based on the Committee's annual review of his subsidiary business and individual performance and his position in the salary range.

Table of Contents

Short-Term Incentives. Bonus payments for Mr. Shattuck and other named executives represent the short-term incentive component of executive compensation. The Committee considered bonuses for Mr. Shattuck and the other named executives based on achievement of corporate financial and business plan objectives, and individual performance.

The Committee evaluated the 2002 corporate financial results by adjusting the reported earnings to exclude special items, and also to reflect the impact of a change in strategy for managing the competitive energy supply business from trading toward physical delivery, which required a change from mark-to-market accounting to accrual accounting. This 2002 corporate financial performance was in excess of the maximum performance level established by the Committee at the beginning of the year. The Committee also took into account a subjective assessment of individual performance, and of business plan performance which included: strengthening Constellation Energy's balance sheet by selling approximately $780 million of non-core assets, and by using the proceeds of a $2.5 billion long-term debt issuance to repay short-term debt, refinance maturing long-term debt, and fund acquisition activities; successfully generating 45 million megawatt hours in 2002, up from 37 million megawatt hours in 2001; doubling the new wholesale gross margin that is managed by our competitive supply business; expanding Constellation Energy's presence in the commercial and industrial markets with the acquisitions of NewEnergy and Alliance Energy; and Baltimore Gas and Electric Company being named a J.D. Power customer satisfaction leader among eastern utilities and ranked among the best of the top 25 percent of regulated utilities in terms of operating and maintenance costs. Based on this review, the Committee made bonus payments for 2002 performance to Mr. Shattuck and the other named executives that are shown in the column in the Summary Compensation Table on page 12 titled Annual Compensation - Bonus.

In connection with hiring Mr. Wallace during 2002 and Ms. Smith during 2001, each executive was guaranteed to receive a 2002 bonus payment. Accordingly, a portion of each executive's bonus was not deductible for federal income tax purposes. As noted in the last paragraph of this report, the Committee's general intent is to preserve the deductibility of compensation payments to executive officers, but this goal is secondary in importance to achievement of the company's compensation philosophy discussed earlier in this report, including attracting and retaining executives best suited to successfully lead the company.

Long-Term Incentives

The Constellation Energy Long-Term Incentive Plan will be in effect until 2012. The Plan allows various types of awards that are linked to corporate performance, including restricted stock subject to performance-based contingencies and stock options. Outstanding grants under the Plan include performance-based restricted stock and stock options. The value of these long-term incentive grants correlates to future performance: the performance-based restricted stock grants are generally subject to forfeiture if performance criteria are not satisfied and the stock options provide value to the executive only to the extent the market price appreciates over the option term. All grants are subject to forfeiture if the executive's employment terminates for certain reasons during the applicable performance period.

2002 Award Payouts. Messrs. Shattuck, Poindexter, and Heintz did not earn awards of Constellation Energy common stock under the Plan based on the 2000-2002 performance period, as growth in the Constellation Energy share price at the end of the three-year performance period fell below the award threshold. The restricted stock granted to these executives for the 2000-2002 performance period was forfeited, along with the Constellation Energy stock purchased with dividends accumulated on the restricted shares throughout the performance period. In connection with hiring Mr. Brooks and Ms. Smith during 2001, each executive was guaranteed to receive a payout of the 2000-2002 performance-based restricted stock at target levels regardless of performance, and without proration for service during the performance period. The award payouts to Mr. Brooks and Ms. Smith, which included Constellation Energy stock purchased with dividends accumulated on the restricted shares throughout their participation during the performance period, are shown in the column of the Summary Compensation Table on page 12 titled Long-Term Incentive Plan Payout.

2002 Grants. During 2002, the Committee made various grants to provide appropriate levels of long-term incentive compensation to Mr. Shattuck and certain other named executives.

The Committee granted time-based restricted stock as follows: to Mr. Shattuck 83,333 shares (33,333 shares with a one-year restriction period and 50,000 shares with a five-year restriction period); to Mr. Poindexter 58,333 shares (33,333 shares with a one-year restriction period and 25,000 shares with a five-year restriction period with immediate vesting at retirement), and to Mr. Wallace 136,430 shares (48,810 shares with a one-year restriction period, 28,810 shares with a two-year restriction period, 28,810 shares with a three-year restriction period, and 30,000 shares with a five-year restriction period). The values of these shares on the date of grant are shown in the column of the Summary Compensation Table on page 12 titled Restricted Stock Awards and the values of the shares that were unvested on December 31, 2002 are shown in footnote 2 in the Summary Compensation Table on page 12.

In addition, nonqualified stock options were granted to Messrs. Shattuck, Brooks, Wallace and Heintz and to Ms. Smith, and are shown in the column of the Summary Compensation Table on page 12 titled Long-Term Compensation Securities Underlying Options and in the Option Grant Table on page 14.

2001 Grants. During 2001, in connection with the hiring of Mr. Shattuck, Mr. Brooks and Ms. Smith, the Committee granted to each executive performance-based restricted stock under the 2000-2002 performance plan. Like other executives who received grants with this same performance period in 2000, the only performance criterion was growth in the Constellation Energy share price. For Mr. Shattuck, the award payout could range from a minimum award if a specified performance level was achieved at the end of the performance period, progressing to a higher award payout for higher performance. As described above under 2002 Award Payouts, Mr. Shattuck's 2000-2002 performance-based restricted stock grant was forfeited. For Mr. Brooks and Ms. Smith, the award payout could range from a guaranteed target award progressing to a higher award payout for higher performance. As described above under 2002 Award Payouts, these executives received their guaranteed target award payouts, along with Constellation Energy stock purchased with dividends accumulated on the restricted shares throughout their participation during the performance period. Award payouts for both executives were not prorated for service during the performance period.

During 2001, as part of a retention program, Mr. Brooks and Ms. Smith also received a nonqualified stock option grant, which allows them to acquire shares of common stock at the fair market value on the date of grant, over a specified period of time. The options vest 40% on July 1, 2002 and 60% on July 1, 2003 and are exercisable for ten years from the grant date; provided, however, the option immediately vests if employment is terminated by Constellation Energy without cause. In addition, Ms. Smith's grant will continue to vest on schedule if she resigns from her employment with Constellation Energy for good reason. The grants for Mr. Brooks and Ms. Smith are shown in the column in the Summary Compensation Table on page 12 titled Long-Term Compensation Securities Underlying Options.

2000 Grants. In addition to the grants to certain executives of the 2000-2002 performance-based restricted stock described above, stock options were also granted to certain executives in 2000, and are shown in the column of the Summary Compensation Table on page 12 titled Long-Term Compensation Securities Underlying Options.

February 2003 Grants. In February 2003, the Committee recognized that certain of the executive officers have clearly demonstrated their collective ability to effectively execute the strategies necessary to advance the company's future success. In an effort to retain these executives and provide an incentive for their continued focus on the execution of the company's strategies, the Committee made the following grants of time-based restricted stock with a one-year restriction period: to Mr. Shattuck 52,285 shares, to Mr. Brooks 24,206 shares, and to Ms. Smith 13,555 shares.

Policy Concerning $1 Million Deduction Limitation

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code limits to $1 million the tax deduction of public companies for compensation paid to their chief executive officers and the four other most highly compensated executive officers. There are several exemptions to Section 162(m), including one for qualified performance-based compensation. To be qualified, performance-based compensation must meet various requirements, including shareholder approval. Our Committee's general intent is to design and administer the executive compensation programs in a manner that will preserve the deductibility of compensation payments to executive officers. However, this goal is secondary in importance to achievement of the company's compensation philosophy discussed earlier in this report, including managing Constellation Energy and its subsidiaries in the best long-term interests of shareholders. We previously adopted, and our shareholders approved, the Executive Annual Incentive Plan and the Executive Long-Term Incentive Plan in order to meet the performance-based qualification under the Internal Revenue Code. While we adopted the above-mentioned plans, we feel it is appropriate to maintain the flexibility of our Committee to exercise judgement in assessing an executive's performance in order to achieve the desired compensation objectives, which may result in certain nondeductible compensation payments from time to time, including with regard to certain 2002 payments described in the Short-Term Incentives section of this report.

PRICEWATERHOUSECOOPERS LLP AS INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANTS FOR 2003

YOUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT SHAREHOLDERS VOTE FOR THIS PROPOSAL. IF NOT OTHERWISE SPECIFIED, PROXIES WILL BE VOTED FOR APPROVAL OF THIS PROPOSAL.

The Board of Directors, acting on the recommendation of the Audit Committee, has appointed PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP (PwC) as the independent accountants of Constellation Energy for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2003. PwC has been Constellation Energy's independent accountants since 1941. A member of PwC will be at the annual meeting and will have the opportunity to make a statement and answer appropriate questions. If the shareholders fail to ratify PwC as the independent accountants, the Board of Directors will reconsider its selection.

PwC audited Constellation Energy's 2002 consolidated financial statements and Constellation Energy's transfer agent functions. As part of its audit function, PwC also performed an audit related to the acquisition of Constellation NewEnergy, Inc. and reviewed Constellation Energy's 2002 annual report to shareholders and various filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission and Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. The financial information systems design and implementation services performed in 2002 have concluded, and no such services will be performed in 2003 or thereafter. Services performed for fees included in the "All Other Fees" category include audit services related to the issuance of securities of $110,612, audits of affiliates and other audit related services of $233,604 and tax services of $368,860.

Below is a breakdown of fees paid to PwC in 2002 in accordance with current SEC rules:

Audit Fees	Financial Information Systems Design and Implementation Fees	All Other Fees

In order to implement the requirements of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, the SEC has made certain changes in the categorization of fees paid to independent accountants for 2004 proxy disclosures. PROPOSAL NO. 3 SHAREHOLDER

PROPOSAL CONCERNING PERFORMANCE-BASED STOCK OPTION GRANTS

YOUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT SHAREHOLDERS VOTE AGAINST THIS SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL. THE BOARD'S REASONING IS SET FORTH FOLLOWING THE PROPOSAL IN A STATEMENT OF OPPOSITION, WHICH SHAREHOLDERS ARE URGED TO READ CAREFULLY.

We have been advised by the United Brotherhood of Carpenters Pension Fund, 101 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, DC 20001, that it holds approximately 700 shares of common stock and that the following proposal will be presented for action at the annual meeting:

Indexed Options Proposal

Resolved, that the shareholders of Constellation Energy Group, Inc. (Company) request that the Board of Directors adopt an executive compensation policy that all future stock option grants to senior executives shall be performance-based. For the purposes of this resolution, a stock option is performance-based if the option exercise price is indexed or linked to an industry peer group stock performance index so that the options have value only to the extent that the Company's stock price performance exceeds the peer group performance level.

Statement of Support: As long-term shareholders of the Company, we support executive compensation policies and practices that provide challenging performance objectives and serve to motivate executives to achieve long-term corporate value maximization goals. We believe that stock option grants can and do often provide levels of compensation beyond those merited. Further, we believe that stock option grants without specific performance-based targets often reward executives for stock price increases due solely to a general stock market rise, rather than to extraordinary company performance.

The resolution advocates performance-based stock options. It defines performance-based stock options as indexed stock options whose exercise price moves with an appropriate peer group index composed of a company's primary competitors. It should be noted that there are other forms of indexed options that use other types of market indices. The resolution requests that the Company's Board ensure that future Company stock option plans link the options exercise price to an industry performance index associated with a peer group of companies selected by the Board, such as those companies used in the Company's proxy statement to compare 5 year stock price performance.

Implementing an indexed stock option plan would mean that our Company's participating executives would receive payouts only if the Company's stock price performance was better than that of the peer group average. By tying the exercise price to a market index, indexed options reward participating executives for outperforming the competition. Indexed options would have value when our Company's stock price rises in excess of its peer group average or declines less than its peer group average stock price decline. By downwardly adjusting the exercise price of the option during a downturn in the industry, indexed options remove pressure to reprice stock options. In short, superior performance would be rewarded.

Edgar Filing: CONSTELLATION ENERGY GROUP INC - Form DEF 14A

At present, stock options granted by the Company are not indexed to peer group performance standards. As long-term owners, we feel strongly that our Company would benefit from the implementation of a stock option program that rewarded superior long-term corporate performance. We urge your support for this important governance reform.

Table of Contents

YOUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT SHAREHOLDERS VOTE AGAINST THIS SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL FOR THE REASONS SET FORTH BELOW:

Constellation Energy believes that the shareholder proposal to require that all future stock option grants to senior executives be indexed or linked to an industry peer group stock performance index is not in the best interests of Constellation Energy or its shareholders. While we acknowledge that indexed options can be an excellent tool, a policy requiring options to be indexed or linked to a peer group index would unnecessarily restrict Constellation Energy's ability to provide appropriate and effective incentives for its continued growth, development and financial success. Moreover, because as noted in the proposal, the exercise price of indexed options moves with an index, such a policy is inconsistent with the requirement in our Executive Long-Term Incentive Plan ("Plan"), which was approved by shareholders on May 24, 2002, that options have an exercise price that is no less than the market price of our common stock on the date of grant.

The Committee on Management of the Board of Directors, which is comprised of only non-employee directors, has the authority to review and approve all executive compensation arrangements. The Committee seeks to ensure that Constellation Energy's total compensation package is competitive, provides appropriate links between executive compensation and company and executive performance, and aligns the interests of executives with those of shareholders.

Under the Committee on Management's compensation philosophy, the elements of executive compensation are base salary, short-term incentive and long-term incentive awards. The Committee takes into account all factors believed by it to be relevant when determining executive compensation arrangements, including the award of stock options and other incentive-based compensation. Stock options are an important tool available to the Committee to provide the long-term incentive opportunity component of executive compensation. Stock options have been invaluable in the Company's recent successful efforts to attract many new members of our management team, and to retain key team members.

Very few large corporations restrict option grants to indexed options. A policy with such restrictions would put Constellation Energy at a disadvantage in the highly competitive market for executive talent. The Board believes that the proposed policy would needlessly limit the flexibility of the Committee on Management to construct the compensation arrangements it views as being fair and reasonable and consistent with Constellation Energy's future success. In addition, as noted above, indexed options are inconsistent with the specific terms of the Plan, which was approved by shareholders. If the proponent's policy were to be adopted, the Committee on Management would be unable to award any options pursuant to the Plan and a new plan would have to be submitted for shareholder approval at considerable expense. In the meantime, the Committee on Management would be deprived of a very valuable incentive compensation tool. This could adversely affect Constellation Energy.

In summary, the Board believes that it is critical that the Committee on Management retain the flexibility to compete for the most qualified executives needed to successfully manage Constellation Energy's businesses. Further, the value of Constellation Energy stock options is already directly linked to the increase in the price of the common stock, and therefore to shareholder value. Accordingly, we recommend that you vote AGAINST Proposal No. 3.

This proposal will not be adopted unless it receives the affirmative votes of the holders of a majority of the votes cast on such proposal. Abstentions and broker non-votes will not be counted as either for or against the proposal. If not otherwise specified, proxies will be voted AGAINST approval of the proposal.

PROPOSAL NO. 4 SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL CONCERNING STOCK OPTION EXPENSING

YOUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT SHAREHOLDERS VOTE AGAINST THIS SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL. THE BOARD'S REASONING IS SET FORTH FOLLOWING THE PROPOSAL IN A STATEMENT OF OPPOSITION, WHICH SHAREHOLDERS ARE URGED TO READ CAREFULLY.

We have been advised by the Board of Trustees of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers' Pension Benefit Fund, 1125 Fifteenth Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005 that it holds 7,408 shares of common stock and that the following proposal will be presented for action at the annual meeting:

Option Expensing Proposal

Resolved, that the shareholders of Constellation Energy Corporation ("Company") hereby request that the Company's Board of Directors establish a policy of expensing in the Company's annual income statement the costs of all future stock options issued by the Company.

Statement of Support: Current accounting rules give companies the choice of reporting stock option expenses annually in the company income statement or as a footnote in the annual report (See: Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement 123). Most companies, including ours, report the cost of stock options as a footnote in the annual report, rather than include the option costs in determining operating income. We believe that expensing stock options would more accurately reflect a company's operational earnings.

Stock options are an important component of our Company's executive compensation program. Options have replaced salary and bonuses as the most significant element of executive pay packages at numerous companies. The lack of option expensing can promote excessive use of options in a company's compensation plans, obscure and understate the cost of executive compensation and promote the pursuit of corporate strategies designed to promote short-term stock price rather than long-term corporate value.

A recent report issued by Standard & Poor's indicated that the expensing of stock option grant costs would have lowered operational earnings at companies by as much as 10%. The failure to expense stock option grants has introduced a significant distortion in reported earnings, stated Federal Reserve Board Chairman Alan Greenspan. Reporting stock options as expenses is a sensible and positive step toward a clearer and more precise accounting of a company's worth. Globe and Mail, "Expensing Options is a Bandwagon Worth Joining," Aug. 16, 2002.

Warren Buffett wrote in a New York Times Op-Ed piece on July 24, 2002:

There is a crisis of confidence today about corporate earnings reports and the credibility of chief executives. And it's justified.

For many years, I've had little confidence in the earnings numbers reported by most corporations. I'm not talking about Enron and WorldCom examples of outright crookedness. Rather, I am referring to the legal, but improper, accounting methods used by chief executives to inflate reported earnings

Options are a huge cost for many corporations and a huge benefit to executives. No wonder, then, that they have fought ferociously to avoid making a charge against their earnings. Without blushing, almost all CEOs have told their shareholders that options are cost-free

When a company gives something of value to its employees in return for their services, it is clearly a compensation expense. And if expenses don't belong in the earnings statement, where in the world do they belong?

Many companies have responded to investors' concerns about their failure to expense stock options. In recent months, more than 100 companies, including such prominent ones as Coca Cola, Washington Post, and General Electric, have decided to expense stock options in order to provide their shareholders more accurate financial statements. Our Company has yet to act. We urge your support.

YOUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT SHAREHOLDERS VOTE AGAINST THIS SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL FOR THE REASONS SET FORTH BELOW:

Constellation Energy prides itself on being a leader in following sound accounting practices and in providing complete and transparent financial statement disclosures. We are fully prepared to make accounting changes that bring our earnings and cash flows into better alignment, even if the earnings impact is negative. We demonstrated this with our shift in the first quarter of 2002 from mark-to-market accounting to accrual accounting as we managed our competitive supply business away from trading and toward physical delivery. We adopted this change because we believed that it more accurately reflected the economic results of our competitive supply business.

It is with this corporate philosophy in mind that we recommend a vote against Proposal No. 4. This proposal advocates changing our stock option accounting policy from the intrinsic value based method to the fair value based method.

It is important to note that both valuation methods fully comply with existing United States accounting standards. We have consistently utilized the intrinsic value based method for reporting purposes and, accordingly, have not recorded a charge to earnings at the date options are granted when the options have an exercise price equal to market value per share on that date. This method is in accordance with Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, which is specifically permitted by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 123, Accounting for Stock-based Compensation.

The alternative fair value based method, introduced by SFAS No. 123, relies upon subjective assumptions and projections, including predictions of changes in our stock price, to value options at the date of option grant to determine periodic charges to earnings. This methodology has the potential to produce valuations that differ materially from the actual option cost that can only be determined at the date of option exercise when the difference between the exercise price and the then-current market price of our stock is ascertainable. We believe this difference represents the economic cost to the Company of the related options.

Our decision to adopt the intrinsic value based method alternative is not based upon a desire to withhold pertinent information from the users of our financial statements, but, rather to ensure that important information is presented in the most useful and least confusing manner. We believe that the inclusion of supplemental pro forma disclosures of net income and earnings per share in the notes to our financial statements as if the fair value based method had been adopted fully informs the users of our financial statements of the potential impact of our stock option grants. Using a representative 2003 grant level in line with historical plan design, we estimate that implementation of the fair value based method would reduce Constellation's 2003 forecasted earnings (which are subject to risks and uncertainties, including those set forth in our 2002 Annual Report on Form 10-K) by approximately 3 cents per share, a relatively immaterial 1%.

It is anticipated that accounting standards will require all companies to expense stock options in the future under a revised set of rules. The Financial Accounting Standards Board is promoting convergence with International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) standards, which may result in further changes to the U.S. accounting standards on stock-based compensation. SFAS No. 123 and the relevant IASB standards have several significant differences. Resolution of those differences could result in the promulgation of a new U.S. accounting standard that would mandate recognizing a different amount of expense than would result from applying SFAS No. 123 today. If we were to adopt SFAS No. 123 and then were required to change to yet another set of rules, it would unnecessarily subject users of our financial statements to explanations of two accounting changes. While we support one set of accounting rules uniformly applied, the Board of Directors believes that it is premature to change the method of accounting for stock options now when the existing accounting requirements are being reexamined and may change in the near future. Accordingly, we recommend that you vote AGAINST Proposal No. 4.

This proposal will not be adopted unless it receives the affirmative votes of the holders of a majority of the votes cast on such proposal. Abstentions and broker non-votes will not be counted as either for or against the proposal. If not otherwise specified, proxies will be voted AGAINST approval of the proposal.
