PART I

Item 1. Description of Business

Summary

QuikByte Software, Inc. ("we", "us", "our", "QuikByte" or the "Company") is a shell company (as defined in Rule 12b-2 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act")) and plans to seek a target company with which to merge or to complete a business combination. In any transaction, we will be the surviving entity, and our stockholders will retain a percentage ownership interest in the post-transaction company. The amount of the retained equity ownership by our stockholders will be negotiated by our management and the target company. We currently have no relevant operating business, revenues from operations or assets.

We were incorporated on January 26, 1989 under the laws of the State of Colorado, for the purpose of developing and marketing computer software. At that time, the Company was primarily engaged in developing Internet commerce solutions and products for businesses and consumers, and raising equity funding. The Company ceased operations in 1992 and has since remained inactive.

During the first quarter of fiscal year 2007, a change in control of the Company occurred (as detailed below) resulting in the resignation of the previously existing officers and directors of the Company. Following the change in control, the Company's principal business objective for the remainder of the fiscal year and beyond such time is to achieve long-term growth potential through a combination with a business rather than immediate, short-term earnings. The Company will not restrict its potential candidate target companies to any specific business, industry or geographical location and, thus, may acquire any type of business.

Change in Control

On March 2, 2007, QuikByte and KI Equity Partners V, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("KI Equity"), entered into a securities purchase agreement ("Purchase Agreement") under which QuikByte agreed to sell to KI Equity, and KI Equity agreed to purchase from QuikByte, 60,000,000 shares of QuikByte's common stock (the "Shares") for a purchase price of $600,000 or $0.01 per share. The closing of the transactions under the Purchase Agreement (known hereinafter as the "Change of Control") occurred on March 23, 2007 ("Closing").

The issuance of the Shares was exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), pursuant to Section 4(2) thereof and such other available exemptions. As such, the Shares may not be offered or sold in the United States unless they are registered under the Securities Act, or an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act is available. No registration statement covering the Shares has been or is expected to be filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC" or "Commission") or with any state securities commission in connection with the issuance of the Shares. However, QuikByte has granted certain demand and piggyback registration rights to KI Equity with respect to the Shares. At the Closing, QuikByte and KI Equity executed a registration rights agreement granting the foregoing registration rights.

Prior to the Closing, Bruno Koch, J.B. Heidebrecht and Mark Nixon, each of whom were former executive officers and directors of QuikByte, for all or a portion of the period commencing January 26, 1989 and ending on or about December 31, 1991 (collectively, the "Former Principals") agreed to terminate any and all agreements and contracts with QuikByte and irrevocably release QuikByte from any and all debts, liabilities and obligations, pursuant to the terms and conditions of a certain settlement agreement ("Settlement Agreement") executed by the parties. QuikByte paid the Former Principals, at the Closing, an aggregate cash payment of $30,000. The Former Principals also cancelled, and returned to QuikByte, an aggregate of 2,450,000 shares of common stock.

Prior to Closing, Ponce Acquisition, LLC (“Ponce Acquisition”) also agreed to cancel, and returned to QuikByte, an aggregate of 7,450,000 shares of common stock. The Company had issued 7,500,000 shares of its common stock on January 31, 2007 to Ponce Acquisition for $15,000, or $0.002 per share. The proceeds from this issuance were used to pay a portion of the costs to bring the Company current in its reporting obligations under the Exchange Act. Michael A. Littman, who was the Company’s legal counsel prior to the Change of Control, is the managing member of Ponce.

Effective as of the Closing, in accordance with the terms of the Purchase Agreement, the existing officers and directors of QuikByte resigned, and Kevin R. Keating was appointed Director, Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, President, Secretary and Treasurer of QuikByte.

In addition, effective as of the Closing, Jeff L. Andrews and Margie L. Blackwell were appointed Directors of the Company. Accordingly, at the Closing, in accordance with the provisions of the Purchase Agreement, a change of a majority of QuikByte’s directors occurred.

Kevin R. Keating is the father of Timothy J. Keating, the principal member of Keating Investments, LLC. Keating Investments, LLC is the managing member of KI Equity. Timothy J. Keating is the manager of KI Equity. Additionally, Jeff L. Andrews and Margie L. Blackwell are members of Keating Investments, LLC.

Prior to the Closing, on March 21, 2007, the Company issued 60,000,000 shares of its common stock to KI Equity for aggregate consideration of $600,000, or $0.01 per share. The proceeds from this sale were used to settle a variety of pre-existing liabilities of the Company.

Following the Closing, on March 26, 2007, the Company issued 7,500,000 shares of its common stock to KI Equity for aggregate consideration of $75,000, or $0.01 per share. The proceeds from this sale are being used for working capital to pay expenses to maintain the reporting status of the Company.

Also on March 26, 2007, the Company issued 1,600,000 shares of its common stock to Kevin R. Keating, the sole officer and director of the Company, for services rendered to the Company valued at $16,000, or $0.01 per share. It also issued 5,500,000 shares of its common stock to Garisch Financial, Inc. (“GFI”) for consulting services rendered to the Company valued at $55,000, or $0.01 per share.

The shares of Common Stock issued to KI Equity, Kevin R. Keating and GFI in March of 2007 were issued under an exemption from registration under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act. As such, the shares of Common Stock issued to KI Equity, Kevin R. Keating and GFI will be restricted shares, and the holder thereof may not sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of such shares without registration under the Securities Act or an exemption therefrom. The Company has granted demand and piggyback registration rights to KI Equity, Kevin R. Keating and GFI with respect to the above shares.

Current Business

The Company, based on proposed business activities, is currently a “blank check” company. The SEC defines those companies as “any development stage company that is issuing a penny stock, within the meaning of Section 3(a)(51) of the Exchange Act, and that has no specific business plan or purpose, or has indicated that its business plan is to merge with an unidentified company or companies.” Many states have enacted statutes, rules and regulations limiting the sale of securities of “blank check” companies in their respective jurisdictions. The Company is also a “shell company,” defined in Rule 12b-2 under the Exchange Act as a company with no or nominal assets (other than cash) and no or nominal operations. Management does not intend to undertake any efforts to cause a market to develop in our securities, either debt or equity, until we have successfully concluded a business combination. The Company intends to comply with the periodic reporting requirements of the Exchange Act for so long as we are subject to those requirements.

The Company's current business strategy is to investigate and, if such investigation warrants, acquire a target company or business seeking the perceived advantages of being a publicly held corporation. The Company's principal business objective for the next 12 months and beyond such time will be to achieve long-term growth potential through a combination with a business rather than immediate, short-term earnings. The Company will not restrict our potential candidate target companies to any specific business, industry or geographical location and, thus, may acquire any type of business

Employees

As of December 31, 2007, the Company had no employees or consultants. Prior to the Change of Control, Reed Clayson, our former President, allocated a portion of his time to our business activities, primarily maintaining our status as a reporting company under the Exchange Act and seeking a business combination with a private operating company, without compensation. Following the Change of Control, Kevin R. Keating, our current Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, President, Secretary and Treasurer, assumed these responsibilities, also without compensation.

Risk Factors

An investment in our common stock involves investment risks and the possibility of the loss of an investor's entire investment. A prospective investor should evaluate all information about us and the risk factors discussed below in relation to his financial circumstances before investing in us.

No Current Operating Business. We currently have no relevant operating business, revenues from operations or assets. Our business plan is to seek a merger or business combination with an operating business. We face all of the risks inherent in the investigation, acquisition, or involvement in a new business opportunity. An investor's purchase of any of our securities must be regarded as placing funds at a high risk in a new or "start-up" venture with all of the unforeseen costs, expenses, problems, and difficulties to which such ventures are subject.

Going Concern. Since inception, the Company has generated no revenues and has incurred a cumulative operating loss of $1,749,928 and a cumulative net loss of $1,473,782. We currently have no source of operating revenue, and only limited working capital with which to pursue our business plan, which contemplates the completion of a business combination with an operating company. The amount of capital required to sustain operations until the successful completion of a business combination is subject to future events and uncertainties. It may be necessary for the Company to secure additional working capital through loans or sales of common stock, and there can be no assurance that such funding will be available in the future. These conditions raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Our auditor has issued a "going concern" qualification as part of its opinion in the Audit Report for the year ended December 31, 2007.

No Assurance of Success or Profitability. There is no assurance that we will acquire a suitable and favorable business opportunity in a reverse merger or similar transaction. In addition, even if we become involved in a business opportunity, there is no assurance that the business we acquire will generate revenues or profits, or that the value of our common stock will increase as a result of the acquired business opportunity.

Possible Business -- Not Identified and Highly Risky. We have not identified and have no commitments to enter into or acquire a specific business opportunity. Therefore we can disclose the risks and hazards of a business or opportunity that we might acquire only in a general manner, and cannot disclose the risks and hazards of any specific business or other opportunity that we may enter into. An investor can expect a potential business opportunity to be quite risky. Our acquisition of or participation in a business opportunity could result in a total loss to our investors and stockholders if the target business is unsuccessful. Further, any investment in us may continue to be highly illiquid.

Type of Business Acquired. The type of business that may be acquired is not identified. Therefore, our investors and stockholders have to rely on our management to determine which target business to pursue. There are no controlling parameters of the business to be acquired. Thus, ultimately an investment will depend on the target business and therefore investors in us will be subject to all the risks that would be associated with that selected business. Our management may have the right to approve and authorize a reverse merger transaction with a target company without obtaining the vote of the majority of our stockholders.

Impracticability of Exhaustive Investigation. We have limited funds and lack full-time management which will likely make it impracticable to conduct a complete and exhaustive investigation and analysis of a business opportunity before we commit our limited capital and other resources to acquire a target business. Management decisions, therefore, likely will be made without detailed feasibility studies, independent analysis, market surveys, and the like which, if we had more funds available to us, would be desirable. We will be particularly dependent in making decisions upon information provided by the promoter, owner, sponsor, or others associated with the business opportunity seeking to be acquired by us.

Lack of Diversification. Because of our limited financial resources, it is unlikely that we will be able to diversify our acquisitions or operations. The inability to diversify our activities into more than one area will subject our investors and stockholders to economic fluctuations within a particular business or industry and therefore increase the risks associated with the investment. We only intend to acquire a single business opportunity and thus your investment will lack diversification.

Maintenance of Reporting Company Status. We will require audited financial statements from target companies that we propose to acquire. No assurance can be given, however, that the post-transaction company will, following the closing of the reverse merger transaction, be able to continue to meet the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act including, without limitation, the timely preparation of reviewed and audited financial statements. We, at the time of acquisition, will be subject to the reporting provisions of the Exchange Act, and thus will be required to furnish certain information about significant acquisitions, including audited financial statements for any business that the shell company acquires. In cases where we have completed a reverse merger transaction and reviewed audited financial statements cannot subsequently be obtained, the continued ability of the post-transaction company to remain a reporting company and publicly trading will be in jeopardy and may significantly reduce the value of your investment.

Investment Company Regulation. We do not intend to become classified as an "investment company" under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "Investment Act"). We believe that we will not become subject to regulation under the Investment Act because (i) we will not be engaged in the business of investing or trading in securities, and (ii) any acquisition undertaken will result in the target company obtaining a majority interest in us. Should there be a requirement to register as an investment company, it would cause significant registration and compliance costs. Any violation of the Investment Act will subject us to materially adverse consequences. Should the SEC find that we are subject to the Investment Act, and order registration under the Investment Act, we would resist such finding and take steps to avoid such registration. Irrespective of whether the SEC or we were to prevail in such dispute about whether or not we are an investment company, the damages and delays would be costly.

Other Regulation. Any acquisition made by us may be of a business that is subject to regulation or licensing by federal, state, or local authorities. Foreign companies may also be considered, and be subject to similar business regulations as are applicable in the United States and also may be subject to limitations on ownership by foreign persons and entities. Compliance with such regulations and licensing can be expected to be a time-consuming, expensive process and may limit our other investment opportunities. We intend to pursue potential business opportunities in foreign countries, including China, and as such, such opportunities will be subject to foreign country laws and regulations affecting foreign investment, business operations, currency exchange, repatriation of profits, and taxation, which will increase the risk of your investment.

Dependence upon Management. We will be heavily dependent upon the skills, talents, and abilities of our management to implement our business plan. Our management may devote limited time to our affairs, which may be inadequate for our business, and may delay the acquisition of any business opportunity considered. Furthermore, management has little experience in seeking, investigating, and acquiring businesses and will depend upon its limited business knowledge in making decisions regarding our acquisition of a business opportunity. Because investors will not be able to evaluate the merits of possible business acquisitions by us, they should critically assess the information concerning the management.

Dependence upon Outside Advisors. To supplement the business experience of management, we may be required to employ accountants, technical experts, appraisers, attorneys, or other consultants or advisors. Some of these outside advisors may be our affiliates or their affiliated entities. The selection of any such advisors will be made by our management without any input from stockholders.

Conflicts of Interest. Our management has other business interests to which they will devote primary attention. As a result, conflicts of interest may arise that can be resolved only through the exercise by them of their judgment as may be consistent with their fiduciary duties. Our management will try to resolve conflicts to the best advantage of all concerned.

Need for Additional Financing. In all likelihood we will need additional funds to take advantage of any available acquisition business opportunity. Even if we were to obtain sufficient funds to acquire an interest in a business opportunity, we may not have sufficient capital to fully exploit the opportunity. Our ultimate success will depend upon our ability to raise additional capital at the time of the acquisition and thereafter. When additional capital may be needed, there can be no assurance that funds will be available from any source or, if available, that they can be obtained on acceptable terms.

Borrowing Transactions. There is a possibility that any acquisition of a business opportunity by us will require borrowing against the assets of the business opportunity to be acquired, or against the projected future revenues or profits of the business opportunity. This leverage could increase our exposure to larger losses. There is no assurance that any business opportunity acquired through borrowing and leverage will generate sufficient revenues to cover the related debt and expenses.

No Foreseeable Dividends. We do not intend to pay any dividends. We do not foresee making any cash distributions in the manner of a dividend or otherwise.

Loss of Control by Present Management and Stockholders. It is likely that any acquisition of an operating company will result in a change in control of the then current directors, officers and the stockholders. Therefore, our management prior to the acquisition will be changed to those of the target company and its stockholders, who will then control the combined company. At that time, our stockholders will be at investment risk for the decisions about the business by persons that they may not know or have any ability to influence through a board seat or by the voting mechanism of stockholders.

Dilutive Effects of Issuing Additional Common Stock. In any reverse merger transaction, for tax reasons and management reasons, the owners of the target company will be issued a large number of shares of common stock and/or preferred stock which will dilute the ownership interest of our current stockholders. In addition, at the time of the reverse merger, it will be likely that there will be additional authorized but unissued shares that may be later issued by the then new management for any purpose without the consent or vote of the stockholders. The acquisition issuance and additional issuances that may occur will dilute the interests of our stockholders after any reverse merger transaction.

Thinly-traded Public Market. Our securities will be very thinly traded, and the price, if traded, may not reflect the value of the Company. In the event of a reverse merger transaction, we may have to undertake a further reverse split of our shares, similar to the reverse split we effectuated this year. There can be no assurance that there will be an active market for our shares either now or after we complete the reverse merger. The market liquidity will be dependant on the perception of the operating business and any steps that its management might take to bring the Company to the awareness of investors. There can be no assurance given that there will be any awareness generated. Consequently investors may not be able to liquidate their investment or liquidate it at a price that reflects the value of the business. If a more active market should develop, the price may be highly volatile. Because there may be a low price for our securities, many brokerage firms may not be willing to effect transactions in the securities. Even if an investor finds a broker willing to effect a transaction in the securities, the combination of brokerage commissions, transfer fees, taxes, if any, and any other selling costs may exceed the selling price. Further, many lending institutions will not permit the use of such securities as collateral for any loans. Our shares are currently quoted on the Over-the-Counter Bulletin Board ("OTCBB"). Management intends to strongly consider undertaking a business transaction with a private operating company which will allow our shares to be quoted and traded on the NASDAQ Global Market, NASDAQ Capital Market or a national exchange. However, there can be no assurance that, upon a business combination, we will qualify our shares for quotation or listing on NASDAQ or a national exchange, or be able to maintain the criteria necessary to insure continued quotation or listing.

Penny Stock Regulations. Our securities are subject to the SEC's "penny stock" rules. The penny stock rules may affect the ability of owners of our shares to sell them. There may be a limited market for penny stocks due to the regulatory burdens on broker-dealers. The market among dealers may not be active. Investments in penny stocks often are unable to sell stock back to the dealer that sold them the stock. The mark-ups or commissions charged by the broker-dealers might be greater than any profit an investor may make. Because of large spreads that market makers quote, investors may be unable to sell the stock immediately back to the dealer at the same price the dealer sold the stock to the investor.

SEC Sales Regulations. Our securities are subject to the SEC's rule that imposes special sales practice requirements upon broker-dealers that sell such securities to other than established customers or accredited investors. For transactions covered by the rule, the broker-dealer must make a special suitability determination for the purchaser and receive the purchaser's written agreement to the transaction prior to the sale. Consequently, the rule may affect the ability of purchasers of our securities to buy or sell in any market.

Possible Rule 144 Sales. The majority of our shares currently outstanding are "restricted securities" within the meaning of Rule 144 under the Securities Act. As restricted shares, these shares may be resold only pursuant to an effective registration statement or under the requirements of Rule 144 or other applicable exemption from registration under the Act and as required under applicable state securities laws. Rule 144 provides in essence that a person must hold their restricted securities for certain periods of time before restrictions may be removed from their shares and/or their shares may be sold. A sale under Rule 144 or under any other exemption from the Act, if available, or pursuant to subsequent registrations of our shares, may have a depressive effect upon the price of our shares in any market that may develop.

The following discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and the related notes included in this report.

Company Background

Currently, the Company is a shell company as defined in Rule 12b-2 of the Exchange Act. It plans to seek a target company with which to merge or to complete a business combination. In any transaction, the Company will be the surviving entity, and our stockholders will retain a percentage ownership interest in the post-transaction company. The amount of the retained equity ownership of our stockholders will be negotiated by our management and the target company. The Company currently does not have any relevant operating business, revenues from operations or assets.

The search for a target business will not be restricted to any specific business, industry or geographic location and we may participate in a business venture of virtually any kind or nature. The business plan is intended to be broad so that we are not limited in evaluating and pursuing any business objective that would bring value to our stockholders. We anticipate that we will be able to complete only one potential business combination because of our nominal assets and limited financial resources. We also believe that we will require additional capital from time to time to be able to support our reporting obligations and maintenance of our corporate status and to fund any business combination expenses. We currently do not have any identified sources of working capital funds. There is no assurance that we will be able to find a business opportunity or that we will be able to complete a business combination.

The Company was incorporated in the State of Colorado on January 26, 1989. Its original business purpose was to develop and market computer software. Although the Company was able to fund operations during the 1989 to 1991 period, its capital resources were depleted by 1992, and at that time the Company became dormant.

In September 2006, the Company filed a Form 8-A12G to register the common stock under Section 12(g) of the Exchange Act. During 2006, the common stock began being quoted on the OTCBB.

On March 2, 2007, KI Equity entered into the Purchase Agreement pursuant to which it bought 60,000,000 shares of common stock from the Company for a purchase price of $600,000. The sale of common stock was completed on March 21, 2007. The issuance of these shares was intended to qualify for an exemption from registration under the Securities Act, pursuant to Section 4(2) thereof and other available exemptions. As a result, these shares are considered "restricted securities." There is no registration statement covering these shares for resale by the holder thereof. The Company, however, has granted certain demand and piggyback registration rights to KI Equity with respect to the shares under a registration rights agreement.

In connection with the KI Equity securities purchase, the Former Principals consisting of Bruno Koch, J.B. Heidbrecht and Mark Nixon, each of whom were former executive officers and directors of the Company for all or a portion of the period commencing January 26, 1989, and ending on or about December 31, 1991, agreed to terminate any and all agreements and contracts with the Company and to release the Company from any and all debts, liabilities and obligations, pursuant to the Settlement Agreement. The Company paid the Former Principals an aggregate cash payment of $30,000. The Former Principals also returned to the Company for cancellation an aggregate of 2,450,000 shares of common stock.

Also in connection with the KI Equity securities purchase, Ponce Acquisition, a stockholder of the Company, agreed to return to the Company for cancellation an aggregate of 7,450,000 shares of common stock.

On March 23, 2007, the existing officers of the Company resigned and the existing directors appointed Kevin R. Keating as the Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, President, Secretary and Treasurer. At the same time, the existing directors appointed Kevin R. Keating, Jeff L. Andrews and Margie L. Blackwell as directors and then resigned. The change of control was made in compliance with the requirements of Section 14(f) of the Exchange Act.

On March 26, 2007, the Company issued 7,500,000 shares of common stock to KI Equity for a purchase price of $75,000. The proceeds from the purchase price are being used for working capital to pay expenses to maintain the reporting status of the Company.

On March 26, 2007, the Company issued 1,600,000 shares of common stock to Kevin R. Keating, for services rendered to the Company valued at $16,000.

On March 26, 2007, the Company issued 5,500,000 shares of common stock to GFI for consulting services rendered to the Company valued at $55,000.

The issuance of shares to KI Equity, Kevin R. Keating and GFI on March 26, 2007 was intended to qualify for an exemption from registration under the Securities Act, pursuant to Section 4(2) thereof and other available exemptions. As a result, these shares are considered "restricted securities." There is no registration statement covering these shares for resale by the holders thereof. The Company, however, has granted certain demand and piggyback registration rights to KI Equity, Kevin R. Keating and GFI with respect to the shares under registration rights agreements.

The Company currently is authorized under its Articles of Incorporation, as amended, to issue 250,000,000 shares of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share, and 2,000,000 shares of preferred stock, $0.0001 par value per share. There are no shares of preferred stock outstanding. Following the issuance of shares of common stock to KI Equity, Kevin R. Keating and GFI and the share cancellations by the Former Principals and Ponce Acquisition, LLC, currently there are 79,302,460 shares of common stock outstanding, of which KI Equity owns 67,500,000 shares, or approximately 85.1% of the outstanding common stock.

In addition, the Company is dependent upon certain related parties to provide continued funding and capital resources. If continued funding and capital resources are unavailable at reasonable terms, the Company may not be able to implement its plan of operations. Our financial statements indicate that without additional capital, there is substantial doubt as to our ability to continue as a going concern.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Quikbyte Software, Inc. (A Development Stage Company) as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity (deficit) and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audit included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Quikbyte Software, Inc. as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 1 to the financial statements, the Company's accumulated deficit from operations and its difficulties in maintaining sufficient working capital raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans concerning these matters are also described in Note 1. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

(A Development Stage Company)
Notes to Financial Statements

1. Organization and Basis of Presentation

Organization and Business

QuikByte Software, Inc. (the Company) was incorporated on January 26, 1989 under the laws of the State of Colorado, for the purpose of developing and marketing computer software. The Company was primarily engaged in developing Internet commerce solutions and products for businesses and consumers, and raising equity funding. The Company ceased operations in 1992 and has since remained inactive.

During the first quarter of fiscal year 2007, a change in control of the Company occurred resulting in the resignation of the previously existing officers and directors of the Company (see Note 3).

Following the change in control, the Company's principal business objective for the remainder of the fiscal year and beyond such time will be to achieve long-term growth potential through a combination with a business rather than immediate, short-term earnings. The Company will not restrict its potential candidate target companies to any specific business, industry or geographical location and, thus, may acquire any type of business.

Basis of Presentation

To date, the Company has not earned revenues from its principle operations and as a result is currently in the development stage as defined by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 7, Accounting and Reporting by Development Stage Enterprises ("SFAS No. 7").

Going Concern

The Company currently has no source of operating revenue, and has only limited working capital with which to pursue its business plan, which contemplates the completion of a business combination with an operating company. The amount of capital required to sustain operations until the successful completion of a business combination is subject to future events and uncertainties. It may be necessary for the Company to secure additional working capital through loans or sales of common stock, and there can be no assurance that such funding will be available in the future. These conditions raise substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern.

The accompanying financial statements have been presented on the basis of the continuation of the Company as a going concern and do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or the amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes ("SFAS No. 109"), which requires the recognition of deferred tax liabilities and assets at currently enacted tax rates for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included in the financial statements or tax returns. A valuation allowance is recognized to reduce the net deferred tax asset to an amount that is more likely than not to be realized. The tax provision shown on the accompanying statement of operations is zero since the deferred tax asset generated from net operating losses is offset in its entirety by a valuation allowance. State minimum taxes are expensed as incurred.

Notes to Financial Statements

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents, if any, include all highly liquid instruments with an original maturity of three months or less at the date of purchase.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Company's financial instruments include accounts payable and accrued expenses. The carrying amounts of financial instruments approximate fair value due to their short maturities.

Net Loss Per Share

Basic loss per share (EPS) is calculated by dividing the loss available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted EPS reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted into common stock. The Company currently has no dilutive securities and as such, basic and diluted loss per share are the same for all periods presented.

Comprehensive Loss

Comprehensive loss is defined as all changes in stockholders' equity (deficit), exclusive of transactions with owners, such as capital investments. Comprehensive loss includes net loss, changes in certain assets and liabilities that are reported directly in equity such as translation adjustments on investments in foreign subsidiaries and unrealized gains (losses) on available-for-sale securities. For the year ended December 31, 2007 and For the Cumulative Period From Inception (January 26, 1989) to December 31, 2007, the Company's comprehensive loss was the same as its net loss.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2007, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 159, "The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities," which gives companies the option to measure eligible financial assets, financial liabilities and firm commitments at fair value (i.e., the fair value option), on an instrument-by-instrument basis, that are otherwise not permitted to be accounted for at fair value under other accounting standards. The election to use the fair value option is available when an entity first recognizes a financial asset or financial liability or upon entering into a firm commitment. Subsequent changes in fair value must be recorded in earnings. SFAS No. 159 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007.

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued SFAS No. 157, "Fair Value Measurement." This Statement defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in generally accepted accounting principles, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 applies under other accounting pronouncements that require or permit fair value measurements. The FASB having previously concluded in those accounting pronouncements that fair value is the relevant measurement attribute. Accordingly, this statement does not require any new fair value measurements. However, for some entities, the application of this statement will change current practice. SFAS No. 157 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007, and interim periods within those fiscal years.

(A Development Stage Company)
Notes to Financial Statements

In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 141 (revised December 2007), "Business Combinations" ("SFAS 141R"), which replaces FASB Statement No. 141, "Business Combinations." This statement requires an acquirer to recognize identifiable assets acquired, liabilities assumed, and any non-controlling interest in the acquiree at the acquisition date, measured at their full fair values at that date, with limited exceptions. Assets and liabilities assumed that arise from contractual contingencies as of the acquisition date must also be measured at their acquisition-date full fair values. SFAS 141R requires the acquirer to recognize goodwill as of the acquisition date, and in the case of a bargain purchase business combination, the acquirer shall recognize a gain. Acquisition-related costs are to be expensed in the periods in which the costs are incurred and the services are received. Additional presentation and disclosure requirements have also been established to enable financial statement users to evaluate and understand the nature and financial effects of business combinations. SFAS 141R is to be applied prospectively for acquisition dates on or after the beginning of the first annual reporting period beginning on or after December 15, 2008.

In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 160, "Non-controlling Interests in Consolidated Financial Statements" ("SFAS 160"). SFAS 160 requires non-controlling interests to be treated as a separate component of equity, rather than a liability or other item outside of equity. This statement also requires the amount of consolidated net income attributable to the parent and the non-controlling interest to be clearly identified and presented on the face of the income statement. Changes in a parent's ownership interest, as long as the parent retains a controlling financial interest, must be accounted for as equity transactions, and should a parent cease to have a controlling financial interest, SFAS 160 requires the parent to recognize a gain or loss in net income. Expanded disclosures in the consolidated financial statements are required by this statement and must clearly identify and distinguish between the interest of the parent's owners and the interests of the non-controlling owners of a subsidiary. SFAS 160 is to be applied prospectively for fiscal years beginning on or after December 15, 2008, with the exception of presentation and disclosure requirements, which shall be applied retrospectively for all periods presented.

The adoption of these new Statements, when effective, is not expected to have a material effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations, or cash flows.

3. Change of Control

On March 2, 2007, QuikByte and KI Equity Partners V, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("KI Equity") entered into a securities purchase agreement ("Purchase Agreement") under which QuikByte agreed to sell to KI Equity, and KI Equity agreed to purchase from QuikByte, 60,000,000 shares of QuikByte's common stock (the "Shares") for a purchase price of $600,000 ("Purchase Price"), or $0.01 per share. The closing of the transactions under the Purchase Agreement occurred on March 23, 2007 ("Closing").

The issuance of the Shares is intended to be exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), pursuant to Section 4(2) thereof and such other available exemptions. As such, the Shares may not be offered or sold in the United States unless they are registered under the Securities Act, or an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act is available. No registration statement covering the Shares has been or is expected to be filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC" or "Commission") or with any state securities commission in connection with the issuance of the Shares. However, QuikByte has granted certain demand and piggyback registration rights to KI Equity with respect to the Shares. At the Closing, QuikByte and KI Equity executed a registration rights agreement ("Registration Rights Agreement") granting the foregoing registration rights.

QuikByte paid the Former Principals, at the Closing, an aggregate cash payment of $30,000. The Former Principals also cancelled, and returned to QuikByte, an aggregate of 2,450,000 shares of common stock.

4. Stockholders’ Equity (Deficit)

On March 2, 2007, the Company amended its Articles of Incorporation to reduce its authorized capital stock. The amendment reduced the authorized common stock from 500,000,000 shares, with a par value of $0.0001 per share, to 250,000,000 shares, with a par value of $0.0001 per share. The amendment also reduced the authorized preferred stock from 100,000,000 shares, with a par value of $0.0001 per share, to 2,000,000 shares, with a par value of $0.0001 per share.

The amendment also provided for a 1-for-20 reverse stock split (“Reverse Split”) of the Company’s common stock outstanding on March 16, 2007. No fractional shares of common stock or scrip certificate were issued to the holders of the shares of common stock by reason of the foregoing Reverse Split. Any fractions resulting from the Reverse Split computation were rounded up to the next whole share, resulting in the issuance of 9 additional shares of common stock on a post Reverse Split basis. The total number of shares of common stock that the Company is authorized to issue remains 250,000,000 shares after the Reverse Split.

On March 21, 2007, as a condition to the Change of Control Transaction as discussed in Note 3, Ponce Acquisitions cancelled and returned to QuikByte an aggregate of 7,450,000 shares of common stock (on a post-Reverse Split basis). The tax effects of temporary differences that give rise to significant portions of the Company's net deferred tax assets at December 31, 2007 and 2006 are as follows:

	December 31, 2007	December 31, 2006
Assets
Net Operating tax carry forwards	$ 255,361	$ 163,609
Gross deferred tax asset	255,361	163,609
Valuation allowance	(255,361)	(163,609)

Disclosure controls and procedures are controls and other procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in company reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the Company reports filed under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to management, including our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Report of Management - Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

As of the end of the period covered by this report, management carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act). Based on this evaluation, our principal executive officer and principal financial officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures are, as of the dates of the financial statements reflected in this Form 10-KSB, effective to ensure that the information required to be disclosed by us that we file or submit under the Exchange Act, is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC rules and forms.

The Company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed by, or under the supervision of, our principal executive officer and principal financial officer and effected by our board of directors to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of the Company's financial reporting and the preparation of the Company's financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Internal control over financial reporting includes policies and procedures that pertain to the maintenance of records that in reasonable detail accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the Company's assets; provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of the Company's financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that the receipts and expenditures are being made only in accordance with the authorization of our board of directors and management; and provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of the Company assets that could have a material effect on its financial statements.

Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act requires the Company's officers and directors, and persons who own more than ten percent of a registered class of the Company's equity securities, to file reports of ownership and changes in ownership with the SEC. Officers, directors and greater than ten percent beneficial owners are required by Commission regulations to furnish the Company with copies of all forms they file pursuant to Section 16(a). Based solely on the Company's review of the copies of such forms it received or written representations from reporting persons required to file reports under Section 16(a), to the Company's knowledge, all of the Section 16(a) filing requirements applicable to such persons with respect to fiscal 2007 were complied with except for two Form 3s filed on February 22, 2007, one for Redgie T. Green and the other for Wesley F. Whiting, which were both filed after the Commission's requisite deadline for insider filings.

Code of Ethics

A code of ethics relates to written standards that are reasonably designed to deter wrongdoing and to promote:

- 1) Honest and ethical conduct, including the ethical handling of actual or apparent conflicts of interest between personal and professional relationships;
- 2) Full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable disclosure in reports and documents that are filed with, or submitted to the SEC and in other public communications made by the Company;
- 3) Compliance with applicable government laws, rules and regulations;
- 4) The prompt internal reporting of violations of the code to an appropriate person or persons identified in the code; and
- 5) Accountability for adherence to the code.

Due to the limited scope of QuikByte's current operations, QuikByte has not adopted a corporate code of ethics that applies to its executive officers.

Board Committees and Meetings

The Company does not have any committees of the board of directors at this time.

The board of directors does not have a nominations committee because it does not believe that a defined policy with regard to the consideration of candidates recommended by stockholders is necessary at this time because it believes that, given the limited scope of QuikByte's operations, a specific nominating policy would be premature and of little assistance until QuikByte's business operations are at a more advanced level. There are no specific, minimum qualifications that the board of directors believes must be met by a candidate recommended by the board of directors. Currently, the entire board of directors decides on nominees, on the recommendation of any member of the board of directors, followed by the board's review of the candidates' resumes and interview of candidates. Based on the information gathered, the board of directors then makes a decision on whether to recommend the candidates as nominees for director. QuikByte does not pay any fee to any third party or parties to identify or evaluate or assist in identifying or evaluating potential nominee.

There has not been any defined policy or procedure requirements for stockholders to submit recommendations or nomination for directors. QuikByte does not have any restrictions on stockholder nominations under its articles of incorporation or by-laws. The only restrictions are those applicable generally under Colorado law and the federal proxy rules. The board of directors will consider suggestions from individual stockholders, subject to evaluation of the person's merits. Stockholders may communicate nominee suggestions directly to the board of directors, accompanied by biographical details and a statement of support for the nominees. The suggested nominee must also provide a statement of consent to being considered for nomination. There are no formal criteria for nominees.

Currently the board of directors functions as an audit committee and performs some of the same functions as an audit committee, including the following: (1) selection and oversight of our independent accountant; (2) establishing procedures for the receipt, retention and treatment of complaints regarding accounting, internal controls and auditing matters; and (3) engaging outside advisors. The Company is not a "listed company" under SEC rules and therefore is not required to have an audit committee comprised of independent directors.

The board of directors has determined that its members do not include a person who is an "audit committee financial expert" within the meaning of the rules and regulations of the SEC. The board of directors has determined that each of its members is able to read and understand fundamental financial statements and has substantial business experience that results in that member's financial sophistication. Accordingly, the board of directors believes that each of its members have the sufficient knowledge and experience necessary to fulfill the duties and obligations that an audit committee would have.

Item 10.Executive Compensation*Compensation Discussion and Analysis

QuikByte currently is a shell company with nominal assets, no employees and no active business operations. QuikByte's business plans are to seek a private operating company with which to merge or to complete a business combination in a reverse merger transaction. As such, QuikByte has no formal compensation program for its executive officers, directors or employees.

QuikByte is not a "listed company" under SEC rules and is therefore not required to have a compensation committee. Accordingly, QuikByte has no compensation committee.

During the last two fiscal years, QuikByte has not provided any salary, bonus, annual or long-term equity or non-equity based incentive programs, health benefits, life insurance, tax-qualified savings plans, special employee benefits or perquisites, supplemental life insurance benefits, pension or other retirement benefits or any type of nonqualified deferred compensation programs for its executive officers or employees.

QuikByte has adopted the 1989 stock option plan, and there are no stock options outstanding as of the date of this filing.

The proceeds from this sale were used to settle a variety of pre-existing liabilities of the Company.

On March 26, 2007, the Company issued 7,500,000 shares of its common stock to KI Equity for aggregate consideration of $75,000, or $0.01 per share. The proceeds from this sale are being used for working capital to pay expenses to maintain the reporting status of the Company.

Effective March 26, 2007, the Company entered into the Management Agreement with Vero Management, under which Vero Management provides a broad range of managerial and administrative services to the Company including, but not limited to, assistance in the preparation and maintenance of the Company's financial books and records, the filing of various reports with the appropriate regulatory agencies as are required by State and Federal rules and regulations, the administration of matters relating to the Company's stockholders including responding to various information requests from stockholders as well as the preparation and distribution to stockholders of relevant Company materials, and office space, corporate identity, telephone and fax services, mailing, postage and courier services for a fixed fee of $2,000 per month, for an initial period of twelve months. At the end of the initial twelve month term, the agreement will continue to remain in effect until terminated in writing by either party.

Effective July 1, 2007, the Management Agreement was amended to reduce the fixed monthly fee to $1,000 per month.

Kevin R. Keating owns and controls Vero Management and is also the sole officer and a director of the Company. The terms of the Management Agreement were determined based on terms which the Company believes would be available to it from third parties on an arms' length basis.

Certain conflicts of interest exist and may develop in the future between QuikByte and its officers and directors due to the fact that each has other business interests to which they devote their primary attention. Each officer and director may continue to do so notwithstanding the fact that management time should be devoted to the business of QuikByte. QuikByte has not established policies or procedures for the resolution of current or potential conflicts of interest between QuikByte, its officers and directors or affiliated entities. There can be no assurance that management will resolve all conflicts of interest in favor of QuikByte, and conflicts of interest may arise that can be resolved only through the exercise by management their best judgment as may be consistent with their fiduciary duties. Management will try to resolve conflicts to the best advantage of all concerned.
