Hanson acquires Marshalls' Clay Products division

Hanson PLC, the international building materials company, has today completed the acquisition of Marshalls Clay Products Ltd from Marshalls plc for a total consideration of £65 million.

Marshalls Clay Products is a UK manufacturer of clay bricks and pavers operating from four facilities in the north of England. It produces approximately 160 million brick equivalents p.a. and employs around 350 people. In the year to December 31, 2004, Hanson expects Marshalls Clay Products' earnings before interest and tax to be approximately £7.0 million (before group charges).

The acquisition will be integrated into Hanson Building Products UK, a division of Hanson PLC, which is one of the UK's leading suppliers of clay bricks, concrete blocks, pre-cast concrete flooring and bagged aggregates. Combining the two businesses will significantly enhance earnings through operational and administrative savings.

David Szymanski, Managing Director of Hanson Building Products UK, said: "We are very pleased to be acquiring Marshalls Clay Products. It brings good long-term clay reserves, fits well with our product range and will strengthen our customer offering in extruded bricks and clay pavers."

Commenting on the acquisition, Alan Murray, Chief Executive of Hanson PLC, said: "This acquisition is consistent with our strategy of growth through bolt-on acquisitions. Marshalls Clay Products is a profitable and cash generative business and will enhance our position in one of our core markets. We will continue to pursue further value adding acquisition opportunities."
