Item 5. Past Contacts, Transactions, Negotiations and Agreements.

Item 5(c) is hereby amended and supplemented by the addition of the paragraph below on page 44 of the Scheme Document following the sentence that reads Since June 2003, management of AsiaSat and the Board have considered from time to time de-listing from NYSE and de-registering from the SEC due to the high cost involved in maintaining the NYSE listing and SEC registration. :

AsiaSat has believed that the costs imposed on it as a result of its status as a reporting company under the Exchange Act are disproportionately high relative to its other costs and to its revenues. These costs have included the costs associated with preparing AsiaSat's annual report on Form 20-F, including the costs of its external auditors and its external legal counsel. More recently, AsiaSat has been concerned with the costs associated with implementing, and then complying on an ongoing basis with, the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. AsiaSat have incurred a one-time expense of approximately US$750,000 for documentation and implementation of internal systems relating to preparation for compliance with Section 404, and an additional one-time expense of approximately US$260,000 for external auditor fees. Furthermore, AsiaSat estimates that it will have to incur additional annual expenses going forward of US$250,000. Management time and additional personnel to handle the increased obligations as a result of Section 404 are unfortunately difficult to quantify.

Item 5(c) is amended to revise the 7th paragraph of page 49 of the Scheme Document to read as follows:

Edgar Filing: ASIA SATELLITE TELECOMMUNICATIONS HOLDINGS LTD - Form SC 13E3/A

On 27 February 2007, the Independent Board Committee met with CLSA, with Paul Weiss in attendance via conference call, to discuss the procedures to be followed by CLSA in preparing its letter to the Independent Board Committee and the process to be followed by the Independent Board Committee in reaching the determination that would be reflected in its letter to the Scheme Shareholders and the Optionholders. The members of the Independent Board Committee also discussed the receipt of the 26 February 2007 letter. In light of that letter, and in particular the view of the Fund that the Share Offer price under the Share Offer Proposal was inadequate, based among other things on the Fund's view of the intrinsic value of AsiaSat, the Independent Board Committee members requested that CLSA perform a discounted cash flows (DCF) analysis that would provide datapoints bearing on the intrinsic value of the Share Offer Price.

Item 9. Reports, Opinions, Appraisals and Certain Negotiations.

Item 9(b) is amended and supplemented by the addition of the following paragraphs:

As set out in the section "The Privatisation of AsiaSat" in Part VII of the Scheme Document, on 10 January 2007, representatives of CITIC Group and GECC had a meeting with representatives of Morgan Stanley in Beijing. During the meeting, in order to facilitate a discussion of the potential offer price range, a presentation was furnished by Morgan Stanley which summarized (i) historical trading prices, based on public information, (ii) implied offer multiples and premiums at a range of offer prices, based on public information, (iii) the types of premiums and multiples that had been paid in the context of precedent global satellite acquisitions and Hong Kong privatisations. In addition, the presentation also included an indicative timetable and privatisation considerations.

The presentation was based on published financial information of AsiaSat and published market information, and did not reflect CITIC or GECC's view of the fundamental valuation of AsiaSat. No formal offer price recommendation was given by Morgan Stanley during the meeting. Morgan Stanley was not requested to perform any independent examination or investigation of AsiaSat's business or assets, nor was it mandated to provide a fairness opinion in connection with any proposed transaction or in any other way to assess the fairness of the terms of any potential offer.

Morgan Stanley did not attempt to verify the accuracy or completeness of the information supplied by CITIC, GECC and other sources, and the presentation did not reflect in any way the view of Morgan Stanley on either valuation or fairness. The presentation was provided for the information of the representatives of CITIC and GECC and did and does not constitute the view of CITIC and GECC or either of their respective boards of directors on valuation or a recommendation as to how any AsiaSat Shareholder or ADS Holder should vote in connection with the proposal to adopt the Scheme. CITIC and GECC did not consider the presentation to be an assessment of, or statement about, the fairness of the terms of any potential offer or material to its final determination of the Offer Prices.

Item 9(b) is amended to revise the paragraph headed "DCF Analysis" of page 60 of the Scheme Document as follows:

CLSA also analysed the Share Offer Price by calculating the net present value of free cash flows estimated to be generated by AsiaSat using the DCF methodology. When making the DCF calculation, CLSA used estimated free cash flows through year 2014 based on projections through year 2011 provided by AsiaSat's management (prepared in November 2006) as set out in "Part VII - US Special Factors". CLSA made certain adjustments to management's projections to reflect AsiaSat's audited results for the year ended 31 December 2006. CLSA also adjusted certain revenue and expense items, and capital expenditure, following discussions with AsiaSat's management regarding, among other factors, AsiaSat's operating environment and business expansion plans. CLSA has not independently verified the information conveyed by AsiaSat's management. CLSA applied a constant growth rate of 3.0% to generate AsiaSat's free cash flow for years between 2012 and 2014, and calculated AsiaSat's terminal value by dividing the 2014 free cash flow by a range of discount rates of between 9.0% and 10.0% less a range of terminal perpetual growth rates of between 1.5% to 2.5%. CLSA then used the same range of discount rates to discount to present values the free cash flows for years between 2007 and 2014 and the terminal value as of 2014 and adjusted for AsiaSat's net debt balance to derive an indicative valuation range for AsiaSat Shares.

The DCF analysis indicated an equity value range of HK$16.01 to HK$19.20 per AsiaSat Share, and the Share Offer Price falls within the upper part of such range. The DCF analysis should not be regarded as an indication of what price AsiaSat Shares should or could be achieved or indications of profit forecast.
