Investor Presentation March 2016

Use of non-GAAP financial information Diebold has included non-GAAP financial measures in this presentation to supplement Diebold's consolidated financial statements presented on a GAAP basis. Definitions of these non-GAAP financial measures and reconciliations of these non-GAAP financial measures to the most directly comparable GAAP financial measures are included elsewhere in this presentation. Diebold's management uses constant currency, non-GAAP product, service and total gross margins, non-GAAP operating expense, non-GAAP operating profit, non-GAAP tax rate, non-GAAP net earnings, and non-GAAP diluted earnings per share, and excludes gains, losses or other charges that are considered by Diebold's management to be outside of Diebold's core business segment operating results. Net debt and free cash flow are liquidity measures that provide useful information to management about the amount of cash available for investment in Diebold's businesses, funding strategic acquisitions, repurchasing stock and other purposes. The company calculates constant currency by translating the prior year results at the current year exchange rate. These non-GAAP financial measures may have limitations as analytical tools, and these measures should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for analysis of Diebold's results as reported under GAAP. Items such as impairment of goodwill and intangible assets, though not directly affecting Diebold's cash position, represent the loss in value of goodwill and intangible assets over time. The impairment expense associated with this loss in value is not included in non-GAAP operating profit, non-GAAP net earnings, non-GAAP diluted earnings per share and therefore does not reflect the full economic effect of the loss in value of those goodwill and intangible assets. In addition, items such as restructuring charges and non-routine expenses that are excluded from non-GAAP gross profit, non-GAAP operating expense, non-GAAP operating profit, non-GAAP net earnings, and non-GAAP diluted earnings per share can have a material impact on cash flows and earnings per share. In addition, free cash flow does not represent the total increase or decrease in the cash balance for the period. The non-GAAP financial information that we provide also may differ from the non-GAAP information provided by other companies. We compensate for the limitations on our use of these non-GAAP financial measures by relying primarily on our GAAP financial statements and using non-GAAP financial measures only supplementally. We also provide robust and detailed reconciliations of each non-GAAP financial measure to the most directly comparable GAAP measure, and we encourage investors to review carefully those reconciliations. We believe that providing these non-GAAP financial measures in addition to the related GAAP measures provides investors with greater transparency to the information used by Diebold's management in its financial and operational decision-making and allows investors to see Diebold's results "through the eyes" of management. We further believe that providing this information better enables investors to understand Diebold's operating performance and to evaluate the efficacy of the methodology and information used by management to evaluate and measure such performance.

Forward-looking statements In this presentation, statements that are not reported financial results or other historical information are “forward-looking statements”.
