Gannett Co., Inc. (“Gannett”) believes the Board of Tribune Publishing Company (“Tribune”) has not responded appropriately to Gannett’s premium, all-cash, certain offer Shareholders need to send a clear message to the Board to enter into serious, constructive discussions with Gannett by WITHHOLDING their votes on the election of Directors at the June 2, 2016 Annual Meeting

Gannett has Commenced a Withhold Campaign Against All 8 Tribune Director Nominees Gannett has made a premium, all-cash offer to acquire Tribune for $12.25 per share, representing a premium of 63% to Tribune's unaffected stock price Gannett believes the Tribune Board's outright rejection of Gannett's offer and refusal to constructively engage in serious conversations with Gannett on its offer is not an appropriate response Gannett believes recent changes to the Board to add directors with significant ties to Michael Ferro call into question the true independence of Tribune's Board Withholding on Tribune's Board will send a clear and coordinated message that its Board should immediately enter into serious, constructive discussions with Gannett regarding its offer and actively pursue superior and certain value for its stockholders, rather than exposing the value of the stockholders' investment to the serious downside risk of Tribune's "new," unproven strategy Gannett Urges All Tribune Stockholders to WITHHOLD Their Votes on the GOLD Proxy Card at the Upcoming Annual Meeting

Gannett's Premium, All-Cash Offer Has a High Degree of Certainty and Can Close Quickly Gannett has proposed to acquire Tribune for $12.25 per share in cash, representing: Premium of 63% to Tribune's closing stock price on April 22, 2016; and Premium of 58% to Tribune's volume weighted average trading price over the past 90 days as of April 22, 2016 Gannett can quickly consummate a transaction without any financing condition and has been advised, after careful consideration, that the proposed combination will not impact tax-free treatment of Tribune's recent spin-off transaction Gannett has completed extensive regulatory analysis of the proposed transaction based on publicly available information and is confident that the necessary approval under the HSR Act can be obtained Gannett is ready to dedicate the resources necessary to complete due diligence and to negotiate a transaction on an expedited basis Call Upon Tribune's Board of Directors to Act in the Best Interests of Tribune Stockholders by Engaging With Gannett on its Offer

Gannett believes the Board of Tribune acted unreasonably in rejecting Gannett's premium, all-cash, certain offer

Gannett believes Tribune's lack of constructive engagement is rooted in its Board's corporate governance deficiencies. Specifically, Tribune's Board: Refuses to engage in serious conversations with Gannett on its offer. Added four directors with close ties to its new Chairman "Will undergo some change at the Company's annual meeting of shareholders set for June 2, 2016"(1) Two independent directors (Ellen Taus and Renetta McCann) have not been renominated to the Tribune Board. Tribune Board will then be comprised of eight directors, including Mr. Ferro, his hand-picked CEO Justin Dearborn and three additional directors (Carol Crenshaw, Richard Reck and Donald Tang) with significant ties to Ferro and no discernable newspaper or, in the case of Ms. Crenshaw and Mr. Tang, public company board experience. Gannett Believes the Board's Failure to Respond to Gannett's Offer is Rooted in Corporate Governance Deficiencies. Note:(1) Tribune letter to Gannett (April 22, 2016). Gannett Believes the Sale of Minority Stake Combined with Changes to the Board Deliver to Ferro Disproportionate Control of the Company, to the Detriment of Tribune's Shareholders.

Gannett believes the lack of a corporate governance structure to ensure accountability is exacerbated by the Board's recent issuance of approximately 16% of shares to Michael Ferro at $8.50/share and Board changes that delivered disproportionate control to him. Shareholders have NO ability to: Act by Written Consent Call a Special Meeting Nominate Director Candidates Through Proxy Access. On May 9, 2016, Tribune announced adoption of a poison pill, putting up yet another roadblock to prevent its shareholders from realizing the compelling value of Gannett's offer. The pill does not have a "qualified offer" provision that would allow shareholders to overrule a Board's determination not to redeem the pill in the face of an offer that meets certain specified criteria. The Tribune Board is largely insulated against accountability to its shareholders. Gannett Believes the Board's Failure to Respond to Gannett's Offer is Rooted in Corporate Governance Deficiencies (cont'd)
