3. DETAILS OF THE OPERATION

3.1. Detailed Description of the Operation

On August 30, 2013 KOF, through its Brazilian subsidiary, reached an agreement subject to customary conditions precedent and authorizations for these type of operations such as the approval of CADE and The Coca-Cola Company, to indirectly acquire 100% of the shares of Spaipa in Brazil, for which KOF, through its Brazilian subsidiary, and the Sellers executed a stock purchase agreement (the “Agreement”) where the Parties agreed the indirect acquisition of 100% of the capital stock of Spaipa and the direct acquisition of the shares of Bascar, RB and PRSA (“Spaipa’s Holdings”) for a purchase price as of signing of the Agreement equivalent to US$1,855 million payable in Reais

Spaipa produces and distributes Coca-Cola, Fanta, Kuat, Del Valle and other trademark beverages of The Coca-Cola Company serving 735 cities more than half of the state of São Paulo and the state of Paraná. Spaipa was founded in 1995 under Brazilian law, through the merger of three bottlers that operated in different Brazilian territories dating back to 1946 and as of September 30, 2013 it operates 4 bottling facilities and 7 distribution centers with more than 6,000 employees serving almost 17 million consumers. During 2012 Spaipa registered total sales volume of 208 million unit cases, not including beer.

The Agreement includes common terms and conditions for this type of transactions including Sellers’ representations and warranties regarding Spaipa’s and Spaipa’s Holdings business, KOF’s right through its Brazilian subsidiary to be indemnified in the event certain contingencies of Spaipa and Spaipa’s Holdings materialize and in the event of breach of representations, warranties or covenants of the Sellers and Spaipa contained in the Agreement. The Agreement also includes an agreement of the Parties that provides that the Sellers will manage the business of Spaipa and Spaipa’s Holdings in a manner consistent with its past practice, preserving the value of Spaipa and Spaipa’s Holdings from the period between the signing of the Agreement until and including the closing of the Operation. The Agreement is governed by the laws of Brazil.

The Operation was approved by KOF’s board of directors in the extraordinary meeting on August 29, 2013, The Coca-Cola Company on September 16, 2013 and CADE through the official document number 919 - Ato de Concentração nº 08700.007983/2013-52 on September 18, 2013 pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Agreement.

3.2. Purpose of the Operation

The main purposes of the Operation are the following:

- Strengthen the long-term vision that the Company has in Brazil considering the potential of its domestic consumption and the socioeconomic dynamics of the country.

- Reinforce KOF's position as the leading bottler of the Coca-Cola system in Brazil.
- Expand the Company's geographic presence in Brazil, creating a link between the operations of the Company in the state of Mato Grosso do Sul and the state of São Paulo.
- Capture synergies of approximately US$33 million at the operating cash flow level over the next 18 to 24 months. These synergies will result from the reorganization of the logistic network, administrative expenses efficiencies and the implementation of the Company's commercial practices.

3.3. Financing Sources and Expenditures Resulting from the Operation

The purchase price of the Operation as of the signing of the Agreement is the equivalent to US$1,855 million payable in Reais and was financed with bank debt in Dollars hired by KOF with certain Mexican and foreign financial institutions for a total amount of US$2,000 million of which US$500 million were acquired on August 29, 2013 and on October 11, 2013 KOF acquired an additional amount of US$1,500 million. This bank debt is secured by six Mexican subsidiaries of KOF.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Proforma Financial Statements consider that the debt incurred by KOF to finance the Operation was US$1,855 million as of December 31, 2012 and as of September 30, 2013.

The agreements documenting this debt contain restrictions on liens, fundamental changes such as mergers and sale of certain assets, and other common limitations for this type of loans that are consistent with the provisions contained in other loans that KOF has entered. These agreements also include the obligation to comply with a maximum net leverage ratio.

The expenses associated with the Operation, including, but not limited to, fees and expenses of auditors, notaries, financial, legal and tax advisors will be borne by each of the Parties as applicable. KOF estimates that the Company's expenses for the Operation will be approximately the amount of Ps.12.5 million.

3.4. Date of Approval of the Operation

On August 29, 2013, KOF's board of directors approved the Operation in an extraordinary meeting.

As provided in Article 47 of the Mexican Securities Market Law and in KOF's by-laws, the Operation does not required to be approved in a general shareholders meeting since it does not represent 20% or more of KOF's consolidated assets according to the financial statements of the Company as of September 30, 2013 included in the Interim Report.

3.5. Accounting Treatment of Operation

For purposes of Spaipa's financial information mentioned in this section 3.5, it is understood that such financial information is combined with the financial information of Spaipa's Holdings.

The proforma financial statements as of September 30, 2013 of KOF and Spaipa included in this Information Memorandum have been obtained from the consolidated financial statements of KOF presented at the CNBV on October 24, 2013 and the financial statements of Spaipa obtained from Spaipa's administration and prepared in accordance to the Brazilian GAAP which converges with IFRS.

In order to obtain a correct understanding of the figures these should be read jointly with the financial statements of KOF and Spaipa mentioned above.

For comparison purposes, in this Information Memorandum, certain reclassifications were made to Spaipa financial statements in order to bring their accounting policies in line with those used by KOF.

The accounting treatment of the Operation in accordance with IFRS 3 effects would be as follows:

Business combinations must be recognized using the purchase method, which requires in all cases (i) to evaluate that the asset acquired qualifies as a business, (ii) identify the acquirer, (iii) determine the acquisition date, (iv) evaluate on the initial recognition the identifiable acquired assets, assumed liabilities, as well as the non-controlling interest of the acquired, (v) evaluate the disbursement, and (vi) recognize the goodwill acquired or gain in purchase according to IFRS.

3.5.1 Additional Costs of the Operation

In accordance with IFRS 3, additional costs will be accounted in results of operations at the time of disbursement and will not be part of the cost of the acquired entity.

3.5.2 Spaipa Cost Allocation of the Acquired Assets and Assumed Liabilities

Before the allocation, the purchaser entity (i) will review if the disbursement differs from cash in order to assure that the assets and liabilities are accurately valued, (ii) identify all the assets and liabilities, including intangibles, regardless of whether they are recorded on the purchaser entity.

Among other sources of relevant information, it is possible to use independent appraisals and actuarial or any other valuations in order to determine the estimated fair values for the acquired assets and assumed liabilities.

3.5.3 Goodwill

The excess cost of the acquired entity over the net allocated amounts of the acquired assets and assumed liabilities is recognized as goodwill.

3.5.4 Goodwill Accounting Treatment

5. RISK FACTORS

5.1. Risks Factors Related to KOF

For more information of the risk factors related to KOF see the Annual Report that can be found in the following websites: www.coca-colafemsa.com and www.bmv.com.mx.

5.2. Risk Factors Related to the Operation

The Operation may affect the market price of KOF's shares

As a result of the Operation, the market price of KOF's shares may fluctuate.

Contingencies inherent to the business of Spaipa may materialize

As a result of the Operation certain contingencies inherent to the business of Spaipa can materialize and indemnification from the Sellers in such regard may be limited in terms of the Agreement.

The balance sheet after the Operation becomes effective may differ from the proforma balance sheet

KOF's and Spaipa's proforma financial information as of December 31, 2012 and September 30, 2013 included in this Information Memorandum to show its balance sheet after the Operation becomes effective, should be deemed as if the Operation had been effective since the periods above mentioned subject to changes deriving from the results of its operations and the application of the accounting standards IFRS 3, and the effects of other factors that are beyond the control of the management of the Company. Consequently, the proforma financial information may not show the actual financial situation of both KOF and Spaipa as of December 31, 2012 and September 30, 2013.

Economic, political and tax conditions in Brazil may adversely affect the business of the Company

As a result of the Operation, KOF's exposure to Brazil will be higher and the business of the Company may be increasingly affected by the general conditions of the Brazilian economy.

The decrease in the growth rate of the Brazilian economy, periods of negative growth and increases in inflation or interest rates could lead to a lower demand of the Company's products and reduction of real prices of KOF's products.

The depreciation of the Real with respect to the Dollar increases the cost of some raw materials purchased by KOF, since the price is paid or determined in Dollars, see "Item 3 . Key Information- Risk Factors - Risk Relating to Our Company" of the Annual Report. This could adversely affect the results, financial position and shareholders of the Company.

Brazil has different type of taxes which apply to KOF's Brazilian subsidiary.

In the future Brazil could adopt tax laws applicable to the business of the Company, may impose new taxes or increase the existing ones and this may have an adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, projections and results. See "Item 3. Key Information- Risk Factors - Risk Relating to Our Company" of the Annual Report.

Brazilian political events may significantly affect the Company's Operation. On October 5, 2014 the presidential election in Brazil will lead to the election of a new president. Brazil's new president may implement significant changes in laws, public policy and/or regulations that could affect Brazil's political and economic situation. Any such changes may have an adverse effect on KOF's business. The Company cannot assure that the political events in Brazil, that are beyond of KOF's control may not have an adverse effect on the business, financial condition and results of the Company.

As a result of the Operation, KOF incurred in debt for a significant amount

In connection with the Operation, KOF acquired debt for US$2,000 million of which US$500 million were acquired on August 29, 2013 and on October 11, 2013 KOF US$1,500 million more were acquired. The contractual total debt of KOF increased to US$4,905 million after the Operation.

This debt increase will also increase the amount of interest expenses and therefore could reduce the amount of cash available for future investment opportunities.

The Company may not successfully integrate Spaipa and achieve the operational efficiencies and/or expected synergies

A key element to achieve the benefits and expected synergies of the Operation is to integrate the operation of Spaipa with the current operation of KOF in Brazil in a timely and effective manner. There is no assurance that these efforts will be successful or completed as expected by the Company, and the operations, financial condition and results of KOF could be affected adversely and significantly.

NOTE 4 – Basis of Preparation of the Proforma Financial Statements

The objective of the Proforma Financial Statements is to present the acquisition describe in the Note 2 as if it occurred on December 31, 2012 and September 30, 2013. The preparation of Proforma Financial Statements was conducted on the following bases:

1. Use of estimations: for the preparation of the figures shown in the balance sheet contained in this section, some estimates and assumptions were determined by KOF's management, which could affect the figures and were based under the best estimates and knowledge of the management considering the available information, nevertheless actual results could differ from those estimates.
2. The figures included in the column "combined" of the Proforma Financial Statements is the sum of the basic consolidated financial statements, previously described, under IFRS for KOF and Brazilian GAAP for Spaipa.

3. The proforma adjustments included in the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2012 and as of September 30, 2013; as well as in the income statement for the year ended in December 31, 2012 and the nine month period ended on September 30, 2013 are describe below:

a) Initial purchase price allocation of Spaipa's acquisition in accordance with IFRS 3. The purchase price paid for the acquisition as of the signing of the Agreement is equivalent to US$1,855 million payable in Reais. Considering the event of an exchange rate of 2.0435 Reais per Dollar as of December 31, 2012 versus the carrying value of the net assets acquired at December 31, 2012 and September 30, 2013, respectively, generate for the Proforma Financial Statements a goodwill as of December 31, 2012 and September 30, 2013 of Ps.16,990 million and Ps.18,675 million respectively, which was included in the line of intangible assets. In accordance with IFRS 3 fair values of the net assets acquired must be determine and could adjust the proforma adjustments mentioned above once concluded.

The Proforma Financial Statements assumed that KOF contracted a Dollar denominated debt as of December 31, 2012 for an amount equivalent to US$1,855 million. Also, it was assumed that KOF contracted a Dollar denominated debt of US$1,355 million as of September 30, 2013 plus the contractual debt acquired prior to September 30, 2013 for US$500 million, which is included in the financial statement position at such date.

Additionally, it is necessary to consider the following assumptions for the preparation of the Proforma Financial Statements:

i. The statements of financial position and the basic income statements as of December 31, 2012 of KOF have been audited. The statements of financial position and the basic income statements of KOF as of September 30, 2013 and the combined statements of financial position and the basic combined income statements of Spaipa as of December 31, 2012 and September 30, 2013 have not been audited.

ii. The combined financial statements of Spaipa as of September 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012 have not been adjusted in accordance with IFRS 3; therefore the carrying values of its assets and liabilities may be adjusted once concluded the determination of the fair market values of Spaipa pursuant to IFRS 3.

iii. iv. The Proforma Financial Statements do not include the possible tax effects that the Operation may have over the applicable tax regime of the Company and the related effects directly over the Operation.

v. On October 2, 2013 the Spaipa's Holdings capitalized said company for a total amount of R$330 million Reais. This adjustment is shown in the combined statement of financial position of Spaipa as of September 30, 2013.

The Proforma Financial Statements mentioned above have been prepared exclusively as required by the Rules, therefore KOF's and Spaipa's managements do not make any representation that such financial statements necessarily show the consolidated results of the Operation and the financial position of KOF and Spaipa as if it occurred on December 31, 2012 and September 30, 2013. Additionally, in order to comply with the actual IFRS some additional adjustments could be required in order to prepare the Proforma Financial Statements of KOF and Spaipa in accordance with the effective IFRS, including such related to Spaipa's fair values determination.

7. DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF THE RESULTS OF THE OPERATION AND FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE ISSUER

Management Discussion and Analysis

The following discussion should be read in conjunction with the quarterly reports released by KOF as of December 31, 2012 and September 30, 2013, which are available on the following website: www.coca-colafemsa.com. The following analysis is performed with the purpose of providing a better understanding of the financial statements of the Company and the proforma financial statements considering the Operation.

The information includes baseline financial figures that were originally reported by the Company and proforma financial information which reflects the financial performance of KOF when consolidating Spaipa.

7.1 Operating Results

Total Revenues

With the addition of Ps.14,184 million generated by Spaipa during 2012, total revenues of KOF would have grown 9.6% in the year. During the first nine month period ended September 30, 2013, Spaipa's operation would have contributed Ps.8,595 million of total revenues, representing an increase of 7.8% over KOF's baseline scenario.

As such, total revenues generated by Spaipa would have represented 8.8% and 7.3% of the consolidated entity during 2012 and the nine month period ended September 30, 2013, respectively.

Gross Profit

KOF's proforma consolidated gross profit would have increased Ps.4,914 million in 2012 and Ps.2,845 million in the nine month period ended September 30, 2013, representing an increase of 7.2% and 5.5% compared to KOF's baseline scenario, respectively. Spaipa's gross profit represents 6.7% of the proforma results for 2012 and 5.2% of the proforma results for the nine month period ended September 30, 2013.

Income Before Taxes

The proforma income before taxes for the period ended December 2012 would have grown by Ps.1,863 million, representing an increase of 9.3% as compared with the baseline scenario. In the nine month period ended September 30, 2013, the proforma income before taxes would have recorded a decrease of Ps.1,455 million, representing a variation of 11.8% when compared to the baseline scenario. These variations are explained by the incorporation of the results of Spaipa in each period.

Taxes

Proforma income taxes as a percentage of proforma income before taxes and share of the profit of associates and joint ventures accounted for using the equity method would have represented 31.0% in 2012 and 31.3% in the nine month period ended September 30, 2013.

Net Income

With the incorporation of Spaipa's results, the proforma net income as of December 31, 2012 would have presented an increase of 9.9% compared to the baseline scenario of the Company, reaching Ps.15,278 million. Net margin would have remained stable at 9.4%.

For the period ended September 30, 2013, the proforma net income would have been Ps.7,716 million, 8.8% lower compared with KOF's baseline scenario. This decrease is the result of a provision that is a consequence of a tax contingency. At the closing of the Operation a capital increase for the same amount was made in Spaipa by the Spaipa's Holdings at the cost and expense of the Sellers.

7.2 Financial Position, Liquidity and Capital Resources.

Variations in the items contained in the proforma balance sheet as of December 31, 2012 and the nine month period ended September 30, 2013, are explained by the inclusion of Spaipa figures, which are related to its business as usual operational results.

Proforma Consolidated Net Debt

The purchase price of the Operation as of the signing of the Agreement is the equivalent to US$1,855 million payable in Reais and was financed with bank debt in Dollars hired by KOF with certain Mexican and
