Vale concludes the acquisition of Colombian coal assets

Rio de Janeiro, April 1, 2009 Companhia Vale do Rio Doce (Vale) announces that it concluded the acquisition of the export thermal coal assets of Cementos Argos S.A. (Argos) in Colombia for US$ 305.8 million.

The assets acquired are: (a) El Hatillo coal mine, under ramp up and with nominal capacity of 4.5 million metric tons per year, located in the Cesar department; (b) Cerro Largo, a coal deposit under exploration; (c) a minority stake in the Fenoco consortium that owns the concession and operation of the railroad linking the coal operations to the SPRC port; and (d) 100% of the concession of the Rio Cordoba SPRC port in the Caribbean coast of the Magdalena Department.

Since Colombia is the world's third largest exporter of high-quality thermal coal, given its low level of sulfur and high calorific value, Vale is seeking to build a coal asset platform in the country to enhance our growth options in the coal business.

Investment in the coal business is an important part of Vale's growth strategy. We have coal operations in Australia, in the regions of Hunter Valley and Bowen Basin, and two joint ventures in China, which own a coal mine and a coke plant. Vale is developing Moatize, a large coal project in Mozambique, and has other coal projects in more preliminary stage of development in Australia and Mongolia.

This press release may include declarations about Vale's expectations regarding future events or results. All declarations based upon future expectations, rather than historical facts, are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Vale cannot guarantee that such declarations will prove to be correct. These risks and uncertainties include factors related to the following: (a) the countries where Vale operates, mainly Brazil and Canada; (b) the global economy; (c) capital markets; (d) the mining and metals businesses and their dependence upon global industrial production, which is cyclical by nature; and (e) the high degree of global competition in the markets in which Vale operates. To obtain further information on factors that may give rise to results different from those forecast by Vale, please consult the reports filed with the Brazilian Comissão de Valores Mobiliários (CVM), the French Autorité des Marchés Financiers (AMF), and with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), including Vale's most recent Annual Report on Form 20F and its reports on Form 6K.
