ITEM 9. REGULATION FD DISCLOSURE

The following information is furnished pursuant to Item 9, "Regulation FD Disclosure" and Item 12, "Disclosure of Results of Operations and Financial Condition." The information furnished in this Form 8-K and the Exhibit attached hereto shall not be treated as filed for purposes of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, nor shall it be deemed incorporated by reference in any filing under the Securities Act of 1933, except as shall be expressly set forth by specific reference in such filing.

On February 5, 2004, Mettler-Toledo International Inc. ("Mettler-Toledo") issued a press release (the "Release") setting forth its financial results for the year and three months ended December 31, 2003. A copy of the Release is furnished hereto as Exhibit 99.1 to this report.

Mettler-Toledo evaluated its operating performance for the year and three months ended December 31, 2003 based on several factors, including (i) net earnings before restructuring charges, (ii) Adjusted Operating Income (both before and including restructuring charges) and (iii) Free Cash Flow.

Net earnings before restructuring charges for the year ended December 31, 2003 represents Mettler-Toledo's net earnings before the impact of a restructuring charge, recorded in the three months ended March 31, 2003, related to the final union settlement on a manufacturing facility closure in France. Net earnings before restructuring charges and one-time tax gain in the year ended December 31, 2002 represents Mettler-Toledo's net earnings before the impact of a restructuring charge, recorded in the three months ended June 30, 2002, related to headcount reductions and manufacturing transfers, and a one-time tax gain in respect of a tax restructuring program and related tax audits. Mettler-Toledo provides information on net earnings before restructuring charges and non-recurring items because it believes the information provides important financial information in measuring and comparing its operating performance on an ongoing basis. Mettler-Toledo wanted investors to be aware of the effects of restructuring charges and one-time tax gain on its operating results for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002. Net earnings before restructuring charges and one-time tax gain is not intended to represent net earnings under U.S. GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to net earnings as an indicator of Mettler-Toledo's performance.

Mettler-Toledo defines Adjusted Operating Income as operating income (gross profit less research and development, selling, general and administrative expenses and restructuring charges) before amortization, interest expense and non-recurring costs. Mettler-Toledo believes it is important to present Adjusted Operating Income both before and including restructuring charges so that investors are aware of the effects of restructuring charges on its operating results for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002. As discussed in Mettler-Toledo's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2002, Mettler-Toledo provides information on Adjusted Operating Income because Mettler-Toledo believes that Adjusted Operating Income provides important financial information in measuring and comparing its operating performance on an ongoing basis, and as such is used as an important performance measurement by management. In Mettler-Toledo's Annual Report on Form 10-K, it measured the operating performance of its segments using Adjusted Operating Income. Adjusted Operating Income is not intended to represent operating income under U.S. GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to earnings before taxes as an indicator of Mettler-Toledo's performance.

Mettler-Toledo defines Free Cash Flow as net cash provided by operating activities less capital expenditures before restructuring and acquisition payments. Mettler-Toledo considers Free Cash Flow an important indicator of the operational strength and performance of its businesses. Free Cash Flow is not intended to represent the various cash flow measures recorded under U.S. GAAP (e.g., net cash provided by operating activities) and should not be considered as an alternative to such measures as an indicator of Mettler-Toledo's performance.

Mettler-Toledo believes each of these financial measures provides useful additional information to supplement the information provided under U.S. GAAP. Mettler-Toledo warns investors not to place undue reliance on any of these financial measures, and they should not be considered as a replacement of earnings before taxes, net earnings or net cash provided by operating activities determined under U.S. GAAP as a measure of its operating performance.

The Release provides a reconciliation of all of the above financial measures to the most comparable financial measures recorded under U.S. GAAP.
