Item 3. Source and Amount of Funds or Other Consideration.

SMC, the investment manager and general partner of a number of private investment vehicles and managed accounts, may be deemed to beneficially own the 3,290,105 Shares held by such entities.

Depending upon the outcome of their discussions with the Issuer, the Reporting Persons reserve the right to formulate a plan or proposal with respect to the Issuer, including a plan or proposal that could result in any of the actions enumerated in clauses (a) through (j) of Item 4 of Schedule 13D.

The Reporting Persons sent a letter dated May 13, 2011 (a copy of which is attached as Exhibit C to this amendment) to the Issuer to indicate their view that the Issuer's proxy statement dated April 25, 2011 relating to the Issuer's forthcoming annual meeting of shareholders contains certain inaccuracies, and that a representative of the Reporting Persons intends to attend the meeting in person and vote thereat as described in the letter.

Further, the Reporting Persons reserve the right to revise their plans or intentions and to take any and all actions that they may deem appropriate to maximize the value of their investment in the Issuer in light of their general investment policies, market conditions, and subsequent developments affecting the Issuer.

Re: OPTi Inc. 2011 Annual Meeting of Shareholders

Dear Mr. Marren:

S. Muoio & Co. LLC ("SMC"), a Delaware limited liability company, has the shared power to vote or direct the vote of approximately 28 % of the outstanding shares of the common stock of OPTi Inc., a California corporation ("OPTi").

We refer to OPTi's proxy statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") on April 26, 2011 (the "2011 Proxy Statement") with respect to OPTi's annual meeting of shareholders to be held on May 23, 2011 (the "Annual Meeting").

SMC believes that the 2011 Proxy Statement includes inaccuracies regarding shareholders' rights to nominate, and cumulate votes for, candidates for election to OPTi's board of directors at the Annual Meeting. It appears to us that the 2011 Proxy Statement also is inconsistent with the OPTi's previous proxy disclosures, California law, and OPTi's articles of incorporation and bylaws.

Bernard T. Marren

S. Muoio & Co. LLC

Inaccuracies

SMC believes that the 2011 Proxy Statement does not accurately state the right of shareholders to make nominations for election of directors. The 2011 Proxy Statement under the caption "Voting and Solicitation" provides in relevant part:

"However, no shareholder shall be entitled to cumulate votes for any candidate unless the candidate's name has been properly placed in nomination pursuant to the procedures set forth in the Company's 2010 Proxy Statement. . . ."

This statement, which does not appear in OPTi's 2010 Proxy Statement, is inaccurate in at least three respects.

First, OPTi's 2010 Proxy Statement does not describe any procedures for a shareholder to nominate a candidate directly.<sup>1</sup> Thus, the statement inaccurately states that nomination procedures exist when, in fact, there are none.

Second, the statement is inconsistent with OPTi's bylaws (Article II, Section 2.8) which provide that a shareholder is entitled to cumulate votes "if the candidates' names have been placed in nomination prior to commencement of the voting . . .". The bylaws do not impose any other requirements with respect to nominations in order for a shareholder to vote cumulatively.

<sup>1</sup> The 2010 Proxy Statement describes the process by which a shareholder may propose a candidate for consideration by the Nominating Committee of OPTi's board of directors under the caption "Director Nominations – Shareholder Nominee". However, nothing in OPTi's articles of incorporation or bylaws or in California law requires a shareholder to submit nominations to the board in advance of the Annual Meeting, limits shareholders to voting only on nominees approved by the board, or prohibits a shareholder from nominating candidates directly at the Annual Meeting before voting begins.

---

Bernard T. Marren
May 13, 2011

S. Muoio & Co. LLC

Third, the statement does not accurately reflect California law. Section 708(b) of the Code provides in relevant part: "No shareholder shall be entitled to cumulate votes . . . unless the candidate or candidate's names have been placed in nomination prior to voting . . .". Thus, California law does not include, or even contemplate, any limitation on a shareholder's right to nominate candidate(s) beyond the simple requirement that the nomination be made prior to voting.

OPTi's 2011 Proxy Statement will cause shareholders to believe that they have no right to cumulate votes in the election of directors because of the procedural condition referenced in OPTi's 2010 Proxy Statement. In our view, no such procedural conditions exist or could exist under California law.<sup>2</sup>

We believe that the 2011 Proxy Statement also includes, under the caption "Voting and Solicitation," the following inaccurate statements:

"Only the four nominees set forth in this proxy statement have been properly nominated for election at the Annual Meeting. No other nominees will be considered at the Annual Meeting." (Emphasis added).

Neither of these inaccurate statements appears in OPTi's 2010 Proxy Statement.

<sup>2</sup> The 2010 Proxy Statement contemplated the possibility of additional nominees by including the following statement under the caption "PROPOSAL NUMBER 1 – Election of Directors – Directors and Nominees for Directors": "In the event that additional persons are nominated for election as directors, the proxy holders . . .". OPTi omitted this statement from the 2011 Proxy Statement.

---

Bernard T. Marren
May 13, 2011

S. Muoio & Co. LLC

The Code does not require that a shareholder formally nominate a candidate in advance of the annual meeting, or require that candidates for nomination to the board be submitted for advance review by members of the incumbent board who are themselves standing for election. While Section 601(a) of the Code requires that notice of any meeting at which directors are to be elected include "the names of nominees intended at the time of the notice to be presented by the board for election" (emphasis added), the statute imposes no similar requirement with respect to nominees to be presented by the shareholders at the meeting.

In addition, OPTi's charter documents<sup>3</sup> do not include any requirement that a shareholder provide advance notice of its intention either to cast votes for a candidate or to nominate a candidate at an annual meeting of shareholders. We thus believe that OPTi's shareholders may either cast votes for one or more candidates presented by the board or nominate one or more of their own candidates for consideration at the Annual Meeting. OPTi's suggestion that a candidate nominated by a shareholder would not be "properly nominated" is inaccurate. We believe that OPTi needs to correct these inaccurate statements.

The 2011 Proxy Statement includes under the caption "Voting and Solicitation" a statement that "votes cannot be cast for more than four (4) candidates." Section 708(a) of the Code establishes the right of a shareholder of a California corporation to cumulate votes in the election of directors. Under the statute, a shareholder may "give one candidate a number of votes equal to the number of directors to be elected multiplied by the number of votes to which the shareholder's shares are normally entitled, or distribute the shareholder's votes on the same principle among as many candidates as the shareholder sees fit" (emphasis added). Article II, Section 2.8 of OPTi's bylaws similarly provides that a shareholder may distribute votes "among any or all of the candidates, as the shareholder thinks fit." Thus, in our view, the 2011 Proxy Statement inaccurately states that shareholders may not cast votes for more than four candidates.

<sup>3</sup> OPTi's quarterly report on Form 10-Q filed with the SEC on February 14, 2011 incorporates these charter documents by reference from OPTi's registration statement on Form S-1 (File No. 33-59978) as declared effective by the SEC on May 11, 1993. Since February 14, 2011, OPTi has not filed a any current report on Form 8-K with the SEC disclosing any amendment of either its articles of incorporation or bylaws.

---

Bernard T. Marren
May 13, 2011

S. Muoio & Co. LLC

We believe that OPTi and its board of directors must take immediate steps to correct these misstatements.

Nomination at the Annual Meeting

The California Supreme Court has observed:

"At shareholders' meetings each shareholder is entitled to offer proposals to be voted on and to vote on proposals presented by management, and to nominate directors and to vote on the slate of directors nominated by management."

Stephenson v. Drever, 16 Cal. 4th 1167, 1176 (1997). OPTi's shareholders are entitled to a fair opportunity to present alternatives to the incumbent slate, as provided by the Code and OPTi's bylaws. OPTi is obligated to provide the shareholders with a fair opportunity to nominate and cast votes for the candidates of their own choosing. In this connection, as discussed above, the 2011 Proxy Statement, unlike the 2010 Proxy Statement, does not disclose how the proxy holders intend to exercise their vote in the event cumulative voting is in effect at the Annual Meeting. We believe that OPTi must provide this disclosure, so that the proxy authority being conferred by the shareholders is fully disclosed to its shareholders.

Written Ballots

Section 708(e) of the Code provides that elections for directors need not be by ballot unless a shareholder demands election by ballot at the meeting and before the voting has begun. This right to vote by ballot is also set forth in Article II, Section 2.8 of OPTi's bylaws. SMC intends to be present at the meeting and intends to demand voting by ballot before voting begins.

Shareholders have the right to cast votes for and/or nominate candidates of their own choosing. SMC contemplates nominating one or more additional candidates for election to the board and demanding cumulative voting in accordance with Section 708(b) of the Code and OPTi's bylaws. Therefore, ballots should permit the inclusion of additional nominees and allow shareholders to vote their shares cumulatively in the election of directors. In order to minimize any disputes at the meeting, SMC requests that OPTi provide it with the form(s) of any ballots that it intends to use at the meeting.

Section 707 of the Code provides that the board of directors may appoint inspectors of election and that the number of inspectors must be either one or three. If the board does not appoint inspectors in advance of the meeting, the chairman of the meeting must, on the request of any shareholder, appoint inspectors of election at the meeting. Article II, Section 2.13 of the OPTi's bylaws makes similar provision for the appointment of inspectors.

If the board has or intends to appoint inspectors of election, SMC expects that the inspectors will be both independent and disinterested. SMC requests that OPTi inform SMC promptly of the appointment, including the identities and number of inspectors so that any objections to the appointment can be timely addressed. SMC hereby provides OPTi with notice of its request that independent inspectors of the election be appointed if the board does not appoint independent inspectors in advance of the meeting.

Conclusion

SMC requests that the following steps be taken:

- That OPTi immediately amend the 2011 Proxy Statement to correct inaccuracies in the 2011 Proxy Statement with respect to the shareholders' right to nominate directors;
  - That OPTi permit its shareholders to nominate candidates for election of directors in accordance with California law, notwithstanding any contrary statements in the 2011 Proxy Statement;
  - That OPTi cause the election of directors at the Annual Meeting to be conducted by written ballot that allows shareholders to vote cumulatively and cast votes for the candidate(s) of their choice; and
  - That the board of directors of OPTi appoint three independent and disinterested inspectors of election pursuant to Section 707(a) of the California Corporations Code (the "Code") to act at the Annual Meeting (and any adjournment thereof) and to exercise the powers
