$$JR = VN \times [FatorDI - 1], \text{ where:}$$

VN = Nominal Unit Value, stated to 6 (six) decimal places, without rounding up or down; and

DI Factor (Fator DI) =

Product of the DI rates, from the date of the beginning of capitalization, inclusive, to the date of the calculation, exclusive, calculated to 8 (eight) decimal places, the figures being rounded up or down, according to the formula below:

Fator DI =

n_{DI} = total number of DI rates, " n_{DI} " being a whole number;

TDI_k = DI rate expressed per day, calculated to 8 (eight) decimal places, rounded up or down as follows:

DI_k = DI rate, on an annual percentage basis, based on 252 (two hundred and fifty-two) working days, calculated and published by CETIP, referring to day "k";

Edgar Filing: ULTRAPAR HOLDINGS INC - Form 6-K

4.2.3.3. Once the factors are accumulated, the resulting DI Factor will be stated to 8 (eight) decimal places, without rounding up or down.

4.2.4. The DI Rate to be used must be calculated to the identical number of decimal places as that published by the body responsible for its calculation, except when expressly indicated otherwise.

4.2.5. If on the due date of any pecuniary obligations by the Issuer, no DI Rate has been published by CETIP, the latest published DI Rate shall be used, there being no compensation due whatever between the Issuer and the Debenture Holders, when the next applicable DI Rate is published. If the DI Rate is not published for a period of more than 10 (ten) consecutive days, the terms set out under items 4.2.6. and 4.2.7. below apply, with regard to the definition of new parameters for Debenture Remuneration.

4.2.6. In the case of the ceasing, absence of calculation and/or publishing of the DI Rate for more than 10 (ten) consecutive days after the date expected for its calculation, and/or publication, or the legal impossibility of applying the DI Rate to the Debentures, the Fiduciary Agent must, within a maximum period of 20 (twenty) days, counting from the event, hold a General Debenture Holders Meeting (according to the method and time periods specified in Clause X of this Debenture Issue Contract, and article 124 of Brazilian Corporate Law), for the deliberation, in common agreement with the Issuer, on the new parameters for the payment of remunerative interest, to be proposed by the Issuer.

4.2.7. If there is no agreement reached on the new Remuneration between the Issuer and the Debenture Holders, representing a minimum of 2/3 (two thirds) of the Debentures in Circulation, the Issuer must redeem all the Debentures in Circulation, within a period of 30 (thirty) days, counting from the date of the respective General Meeting of Debenture Holders, for their Nominal Unit Value, with interest due added up to the date of the effective redemption, calculated pro rata temporis, from the Date of Issue or the date of the last interest payment, whichever is the case. In this instance, for the calculation of the remunerative interest applicable to the Debentures to be redeemed, the most recent DI Rate to be published officially, shall be used.

4.2.8. For the purposes of calculating the Debenture Remuneration, the Period of Capitalization is defined as the time interval from the Issue Date, inclusive, in the case of the first Capitalization Period, or the date of the immediately preceding Remuneration Payment, inclusive, in the case of the other Capitalization Periods, and ends on the date of the next Remunerative Interest Payment due, exclusive. Each Capitalization Period succeeds the previous one, without a continuous link
