Commission File No. 333-59616

Date: July 24, 2001

This filing contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements include, but are not limited to, (i) statements about the benefits of the merger between First Union Corporation and Wachovia Corporation, including future financial and operating results, cost savings, enhanced revenues, and accretion to reported earnings that may be realized from the merger; (ii) statements with respect to First Union's and Wachovia's plans, objectives, expectations and intentions and other statements that are not historical facts; and (iii) other statements identified by words such as "believes", "expects", "anticipates", "estimates", "intends", "plans", "targets", "projects" and similar expressions. These statements are based upon the current beliefs and expectations of First Union's and Wachovia's management and are subject to significant risks and uncertainties. Actual results may differ from those set forth in the forward-looking statements.

The following factors, among others, could cause actual results to differ materially from the anticipated results or other expectations expressed in the forward-looking statements: (1) the risk that the businesses of First Union and Wachovia will not be integrated successfully or such integration may be more difficult, time-consuming or costly than expected; (2) expected revenue synergies and cost savings from the merger may not be fully realized or realized within the expected time frame; (3) revenues following the merger may be lower than expected; (4) deposit attrition, operating costs, customer loss and business disruption following the merger, including, without limitation, difficulties in maintaining relationships with employees, may be greater than expected; (5) the ability to obtain governmental approvals of the merger on the proposed terms and schedule; (6) the failure of First Union's and Wachovia's stockholders to approve the merger; (7) competitive pressures among depository and other financial institutions may increase significantly and have an effect on pricing, spending, third-party relationships and revenues; (8) the strength of the United States economy in general and the strength of the local economies in which the combined company will conduct operations may be different than expected resulting in, among other things, a deterioration in credit quality or a reduced demand for credit, including the resultant effect on the combined company's loan portfolio and allowance for loan losses; (9) changes in the U.S. and foreign legal and regulatory framework; and (10) adverse conditions in the stock market, the public debt market and other capital markets (including changes in interest rate conditions) and the impact of such conditions on the combined company's capital markets and asset management activities. Additional factors that could cause First Union's and Wachovia's results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements can be found in First Union's and Wachovia's reports (such as Annual Reports on Form 10-K, Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q and Current Reports on Form 8-K) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and

First Union and Wachovia have, we believe, a unique opportunity to create one of the finest financial service companies in the world. With $329 billion in assets and strong capital ratios, we can have the size and scope to compete with any institution in the country.

We believe our shareholders will benefit from:

- . higher cash operating earnings immediately;
- . a strong dividend; and
- . accelerated long-term growth of the combined companies.

Given these benefits, SunTrust is, in our view, trying to prevent the formation of a very strong competitor using any means available. SunTrust has never been able to reach an agreement to merge with Wachovia, it does not have an agreement now, and there is no guarantee that it would ever complete a transaction with Wachovia.

We believe SunTrust wants to subject Wachovia to months of disruption, uncertainty and wrangling while First Union and Wachovia are planning for a seamless integration. The contrast could not be more clear.

We see the competitive strengths of First Union and Wachovia's strategic partnership as compelling--the right combination for building long-term shareholder value.

If you are a Wachovia or First Union shareholder, we urge you to vote for the Wachovia/First Union merger by returning the white proxy card.
