- (a) The compensation of directors and executive officers of system companies;

FROM THE PROXY STATEMENT OF XCEL ENERGY INC.:

DIRECTORS' COMPENSATION

The following table provides information on our compensation and reimbursement practices during 2002 for non-employee directors. The director who is employed by Xcel Energy, Mr. Wayne Brunetti, does not receive any compensation for his Board activities.

DIRECTORS' COMPENSATION FOR 2002

Annual Director Retainer	$ 33,600
Board Meeting Attendance Fees (per meeting)	$ 1,200
Telephonic Meeting Attendance Fees (per meeting)	$ 500
Committee Meeting Attendance Fees (per meeting)	$ 1,200
Additional Retainer for Committee Chair (Compensation & Nominating Committee and Operations & Nuclear Committee)	$ 3,000
Additional Retainer for Audit Committee (1)	$ 4,250
Additional Retainer for Finance Committee (2)	$ 3,834
Stock Equivalent Units	$ 52,800

(1) Audit Committee chair's annual retainer was increased from $3,000 to $6,000 effective August 2002.

(2) Finance Committee chair's annual retainer was increased from $3,000 to $5,000 effective August 2002.

Xcel Energy has a Stock Equivalent Plan for Non-Employee Directors to more closely align directors' interests with those of our shareholders. Under this Stock Equivalent Plan, directors may receive an annual award of stock equivalent units with each unit having a value equal to one share of our common stock. Stock equivalent units do not entitle a director to vote and are only payable as distribution of whole shares of the Company's common stock upon a director's termination of service. The stock equivalent units fluctuate in value as the value of our common stock fluctuates.

Additional stock equivalent units are accumulated upon the payment of and at the same value as dividends declared on our common stock. On April 19, 2002, non-employee directors of Xcel Energy received an award of 2,039.40 stock equivalent units representing approximately $52,800 in cash value.

Additional stock equivalent units were accumulated during 2002 as dividends were paid on our common stock. The number of stock equivalents for each non-employee director is listed in the share ownership chart, which is set forth below.

Directors also may participate in a deferred compensation plan, which provides for deferral of director retainer and meeting fees until after retirement from the Board. A director may defer director retainer and meeting fees into the Stock Equivalent Plan. A director who elects to defer compensation under this plan receives a premium of 20% of the compensation that is deferred.

COMMON STOCK OWNERSHIP OF DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

The following table sets forth information concerning beneficial ownership of our common stock as of March 3, 2003, for: (a) each director and the nominees for director; (b) named executive officers set forth in the Summary Compensation Table; and (c) the directors and executive officers as a group. Unless otherwise indicated, each person has sole investment and voting power (or shares such powers with his or her spouse) with respect to the shares set forth in the following table. None of the individuals listed in the Beneficial Ownership Table below owned more than 0.22% of Xcel Energy's common stock. None of these individuals owns any shares of Xcel Energy's preferred stock.

SECTION 16(a) BENEFICIAL OWNERSHIP REPORTING COMPLIANCE

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires our directors and officers to file with the Securities Exchange Commission reports regarding their ownership and changes in ownership of our stock. We are required to disclose whether we have knowledge that any person required to file such a report, may have failed to do so in a timely manner. Other than as described below, we believe that during 2002, all of our officers subject to such reporting obligations have satisfied all Section 16(a) filing requirements. The following directors filed Form 4 one day late: Roger R. Hemminghaus, Douglas W. Leatherdale, A. Patricia Sampson, C. Coney Burgess, A. Barry Hirschfeld, Albert F. Moreno, Allan L. The benefits listed in the Pension Plan Table are not subject to any deduction or offset. The compensation used to calculate the SERP benefits is base salary as of December 31 plus annual incentive. The Salary and Bonus columns of the Summary Compensation Table for 2002 reflect the covered compensation used to calculate SERP benefits.

The SERP benefit accrues ratably over 20 years and, when fully accrued, is equal to (a) 55% of the highest three years covered compensation of the five years preceding retirement or termination minus (b) any other qualified and non-qualified benefits. The SERP benefit is payable as an annuity for 20 years, or as a single lump-sum amount equal to the actuarial equivalent present value of the 20-year annuity.

Benefits are payable at age 62, or as early as age 55, but would be reduced 5% for each year that the benefit commencement date precedes age 62. The approximate credited years of service under the SERP as of December 31, 2002, were as follows:

Mr. Brunetti	15 years
Mr. Kelly	35 years
Mr. Johnson	24 years
Mr. Bonavia	5 years
Mr. Petillo	6 years
Mr. Wilks	25 years

Notwithstanding any special provisions related to pension benefits described under "Employment Agreements and Severance Arrangements," the Company has granted additional credited years of service to Mr. Brunetti for purposes of SERP accrual. The additional credited years of service (approximately seven) are included in the above table. Additionally, the Company has agreed to grant full accrual of SERP benefits to Mr. Brunetti at age 62 and to Mr. Bonavia at age 57 and 8 months, if they continue to be employed by the Company until such age.

130

REPORT OF THE COMPENSATION AND NOMINATING COMMITTEE OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The executive compensation and benefit programs of the Company are administered by the Compensation and Nominating Committee of the Board of Directors (the "Committee"). The Committee is composed of W. Thomas Stephens, Chair, C. Coney Burgess, David A. Christensen, A. Barry Hirschfeld, Douglas W. Leatherdale, and A. Patricia Sampson, all of whom are independent, "non-employee directors" of the Company, as defined by Section 16(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "1934 Act"), and "outside directors" as defined within the meaning of Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. The Board has delegated to the Committee the responsibility of establishing the Company's compensation philosophy, as well as the compensation package for the Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer and other named executives of the Company. This includes establishing and administering the Company's base salary program, executive annual and long-term incentive programs, and executive benefit programs. The Committee also recommends and administers compensation and benefit programs for all Company executives and key talent.

COMPENSATION PHILOSOPHY

Edgar Filing: XCEL ENERGY INC - Form U5S/A

The Committee's goal is to attract, retain, and motivate the outstanding executive talent needed to deliver superior returns to shareholders and provide the highest quality of service to customers. The Company's executive compensation philosophy uses a combination of salary and performance-based (incentive) compensation, delivered through annual and long-term incentives, to align management's interests with those of shareholders. This philosophy results in a compensation mix for senior officers in which annual and long-term incentives account for more than 50 percent of the executives' annual compensation. In addition, the Company's compensation program helps to reinforce management's link to shareholders by establishing plans that compensate executives based on corporate, business unit, and individual performance goals. Finally, significant use of equity-based incentives encourages management to respond to business challenges and opportunities as owners as well as employees.

In establishing a compensation strategy for the Company, the Committee worked with an independent, nationally recognized compensation and benefits consulting firm and took into account several factors:

- The desire to align management interests with those of shareholders.
- The desire to strongly link management pay to both annual and long-term Company performance.
- The need to attract talent from broader markets as the utility industry changes, to retain individuals of outstanding ability and to motivate such individuals to achieve superior performance.

As a result, the Committee has approved a compensation strategy designed to meet these objectives and encourage executives to achieve in a highly evolving competitive environment. Base salaries and annual and long-term incentive opportunities are set to the median of utility industry and, where appropriate, general industry levels to provide an incentive for executives to optimize the Company's performance. In addition, stock-based compensation has become a significant portion of overall executive pay. Base salaries are reviewed annually, with increases tied to such factors as individual performance, the executive's duties and responsibilities, financial results, and changes in the marketplace. Federal tax law limits the deductibility of executive compensation in excess of $1,000,000 unless certain exceptions are met. It is the Committee's intent to maintain the deductibility of executive compensation to the extent reasonably practicable and to the extent consistent with its other compensation objectives. However, a portion of Mr. Brunetti's salary exceeded $1,000,000 in 2002 and that portion that exceeded $1,000,000 was not deductible by the Company.

BASE SALARY

The Committee targeted base salaries to the 50th percentile of a combined group of utility and general industry companies (on a revenue adjusted basis) as described above. Under the terms of his employment agreement, Mr. Brunetti was entitled to a base salary not less than his salary immediately prior to the Merger, which was $685,000. In connection with the assumption of increased responsibilities following the Merger, effective August 2000, Mr. Brunetti received a salary adjustment to $895,000. This was intended to be his salary level for the balance of 2000 as well as all of 2001. Consequently, Mr. Brunetti did not receive any salary increase for 2001. Effective January 2002, Mr. Brunetti received a salary adjustment to $1,065,000. Similarly, the other Named Executive Officers received salary adjustments effective January 2002. These base salaries are included in the "Salary" column of the Summary Compensation Table.

ANNUAL INCENTIVE

Annual incentives are administered under the Xcel Energy Executive Annual Incentive Award Plan (the "Xcel Annual Incentive Plan"), which was approved by shareholders in 2000. Annual incentive awards are targeted to the 50th percentile of blended utility industry and general industry levels, as discussed above, and are based on achieving corporate financial and operational goals and business unit operational goals.

Target Annual Incentive Awards for 2002

Corporate goals include targeted earnings per share, a customer loyalty index (which includes customer service measurements), safety and reliability. Business Unit goals include customer service, reliability, safety and meeting budget, measured at a business unit level.

Target annual incentive awards (as a percent of base salary) are set for all Xcel Energy officers, ranging from 85% of salary for Mr. Brunetti to 55% of salary for the other Named Executive Officers. Maximum awards may be up to two times the target awards.

The annual incentive formula is calculated using predetermined performance measures. For Mr. Brunetti, the formula is weighted 100% to attaining corporate goals. For the other executive officers, including Named Executive Officers, the formula is weighted 67% to attaining corporate goals and 33% to attaining business unit operational goals.

In order to encourage increased share ownership by executive officers, the Xcel Annual Incentive Plan provides the option for executives to receive their payments in shares of common stock or shares of restricted common stock (which vests in equal annual installments over a three year period) in lieu of cash. A 5% premium is added to amounts paid in shares of common stock, and a 20% premium is added to amounts paid in shares of restricted common stock.

Calculation and Payment of 2002 Annual Incentive Awards

Based on corporate performance during 2002, no payouts of Annual Incentive Awards were made to the Named Executive Officers.

LONG-TERM INCENTIVES

Long-term incentives are administered under the Xcel Energy Omnibus Incentive Plan, approved by shareholders in 2000. This plan allows for several forms of incentive compensation from which the Committee may select in designing long-term incentives.

For 2002, the Xcel Energy long-term incentive plan had two components:

- stock options; and
- performance shares.

Long-term incentive opportunities range from 425% of base salary for Mr. Brunetti to 170% of base salary for the other Xcel Energy Named Executive Officers. Stock options are targeted to deliver 50% of each officer's long-term incentive opportunity, with the remaining 50% delivered through the performance share component.

Stock Option Component. In 2000, the Committee made one stock option grant to all of the Named Executive Officers. This grant was "front-loaded" and intended to cover a three-year period, during which the Committee intends to make no further grants to the Named Executive Officers. Accordingly, no additional option grants were made to the Named Executive Officers during 2001 or 2002.

The 2000 grant, which was reported in prior proxy statements, contains a "performance vesting" provision which provides that the options will become exercisable at the earlier of: the date Xcel Energy common stock closes at a price which equals or exceeds $32.890625; or August 21, 2005.

Once vested, the options may be exercised at any time on or before August 20, 2010.

Performance Share Component. The performance share component uses a single measure, Total Shareholder Return ("TSR"). Xcel Energy's TSR will be measured over a three-year period, using overlapping cycles. Xcel Energy's TSR is compared to the TSR of other companies in the EEI Electrics Index as a peer group. At the end of each three-year period, the performance unit component provides for payment at target for performance at the 50th percentile of the peer group and at 200% of target for performance at or above the 75th percentile of the peer group. The performance unit component provides smaller payments for performance below the 50th percentile. No payment would be made for performance below the 35th percentile.

Awards in the performance share component are made in shares, each of which represents the value of one share of Xcel Energy common stock. The number of shares awarded is calculated by dividing the executive's target award by the fair market value of Xcel Energy common stock on the date of the grant.

For the measurement cycle that ended in 2002, the TSR was at the 11th percentile resulting in no payout.

For the 2002 to 2004 measurement cycle, Mr. Brunetti was awarded 119,566 shares. Other Named Executive Officers were awarded from 30,690 to 13,944 shares. These awards are included in the Long-Term Incentive Plans Awards in Last Fiscal Year Table.

Other Perquisites and Benefits

Other perquisites and benefits provided to executives generally are not tied to the Company's financial performance, but are primarily designed to attract and retain executives. Among the perquisites and benefits provided by the Company in 2002 to its executives are Company-paid life insurance in an amount equal to four times base pay, and benefits provided under the Xcel Energy Inc. Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Plan and the Xcel Energy Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan that make up for retirement benefits that cannot be paid under the Company's qualified retirement plans due to Internal Revenue Code limitations and the exclusion of certain elements of pay from pension-covered earnings. The level of retirement benefits provided by these plans in the aggregate is reflected in the Pension Plan Table.

Certain executive officers, including four of the Named Executive Officers, may receive severance benefits in accordance with the Xcel Energy Senior Executive Severance Policy, which is described in more detail under the section below entitled "Employment Agreements and Severance Arrangements."

STOCK OWNERSHIP GUIDELINES

Edgar Filing: XCEL ENERGY INC - Form U5S/A

The Committee believes that it is essential to align management's interests with those of the shareholders. In order to emphasize this belief, Xcel Energy adopted stock ownership guidelines for the executives. The Committee believes that linking a significant portion of an executive's current and potential future net worth to Xcel Energy's success, as reflected in the stock price, ensures that executives have a stake similar to that of Xcel Energy shareholders. Such guidelines also encourage the long-term management of the Company for the benefit of the shareholders. The share ownership guideline for each executive is based on the executive's position. The guideline for the Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer is five times base salary. The guideline for the Chief Financial Officer is four times base salary. Other Business Unit Heads have a guideline of three times base salary. All other Company officers have share ownership guidelines of two times base salary. Each executive is expected to achieve the applicable ownership guidelines by August 1, 2005, and each is expected to reach interim milestones at August 1, 2003 and August 1, 2004. All shares that the executive is entitled to vote count toward compliance with the ownership guidelines.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER COMPENSATION

The compensation of Wayne H. Brunetti, Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer, is determined by the process described in the short-term and long-term performance components above, namely base salary, annual incentive, performance unit, and stock options. Mr. Brunetti received a long-term incentive opportunity of 425% of base salary and an annual incentive award target of 85% of base salary. As discussed above, due to the front-end loaded option grant in 2000, he was not granted any additional options in 2002. However, he was awarded 119,566 performance shares.

Mr. Brunetti received a base salary adjustment for the year 2002 in the amount of $170,000. His base salary is included in the "Salary" column of the Summary Compensation Table above.

CONCLUSION

The Committee believes that Xcel Energy's executive compensation package effectively serves the interests of the Company and its shareholders. The balance of base pay and annual and long-term incentives provides increased motivation to executives to contribute to and participate in the Company's long-term success. The Committee is dedicated to ensuring that the Company's total compensation package continues to meet the needs of the Company and will monitor and revise compensation policies as necessary.

EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENTS AND SEVERANCE ARRANGEMENTS

Wayne H. Brunetti Employment Agreement

At the time of the merger agreement, NCE and NSP also entered into a new employment agreement with Mr. Brunetti, which replaced his existing employment agreement with NCE when the Merger was completed. The initial term of the new agreement is four years, with automatic one-year extensions beginning at the end of the second year and continuing each year thereafter unless notice is given by either party that the agreement will not be extended. Under the terms of the agreement, Mr. Brunetti served as Chief Executive Officer and President and a member of our Board of Directors for one year following the Merger, and commencing August 18, 2002 (one year after the Merger) began serving as Chief Executive Officer, President and Chairman of our Board of Directors of Xcel Energy. Mr. Brunetti is required to perform the majority of his duties at the headquarters of Xcel Energy in Minneapolis, Minnesota, and was required to relocate the residence at which he spends the majority of his time to the Twin Cities area. His agreement also provides that if Mr. Brunetti becomes entitled to receive severance benefits, he will be forbidden from competing with Xcel Energy and its affiliates for two years following the termination of his employment, and from disclosing confidential information of Xcel Energy and its affiliates.

Under his employment agreement, Mr. Brunetti will receive the following compensation and benefits:

- a base salary not less than his base salary immediately before the Merger;
- the opportunity to earn annual and long-term incentive compensation amounts not less than he was able to earn immediately before the Merger;
- life insurance coverage and participation in a supplemental executive retirement plan; and
- the same fringe benefits as he received under his NCE employment agreement, or, if greater, as those of the next higher executive officer of Xcel Energy.

If Mr. Brunetti's employment were to be terminated by Xcel Energy without cause or if he were to terminate his employment for good reason, he would be entitled to receive the compensation and benefits described above as if he had remained employed for the employment period remaining under his employment agreement and then retired, at which time he would be eligible for all retiree benefits provided to retired senior executives of Xcel Energy. In determining the level of his compensation following termination of employment, the amount of incentive compensation he would receive would be based upon the target level of incentive compensation he would have received in the year in which his termination occurred, and he would receive cash equal to the value of stock options, restricted stock and stock-based awards he would have received instead of receiving the awards. In addition, the restrictions on his restricted stock would lapse and his stock options would have become vested. Finally, Xcel Energy would be obligated to make Mr. Brunetti whole for any excise tax on severance payment that he incurs.

Mr. Brunetti also had a change-of-control employment agreement with NCE. The Merger did not cause a "change of control" under this agreement, so it did not become effective as a result of the Merger. However, in case his agreement becomes effective because of a later change of control, Mr. Brunetti has waived his right to receive any severance benefits under the change-of-control employment agreement to the extent they would duplicate severance benefits under his employment agreement.

Paul J. Bonavia Employment Agreement

In connection with and effective upon completion of the Merger, we and Paul J. Bonavia entered into an amendment to an employment agreement between Mr. Bonavia and NCE. Except as discussed below, the original agreement expired December 14, 2000. In connection with the Merger, Mr. Bonavia's position changed from Senior Vice President, General Counsel and President of NCE's International Business Unit to President of our Energy Markets Business Unit. In the amendment, Mr. Bonavia agreed not to assert before January 6, 2003 that his duties and responsibilities had been diminished, and thus he has waived the right to claim certain benefits under the Xcel Energy Senior Executive Severance Policy relating to this change in his status prior to that date. If certain conditions were met on January 6, 2003 or within seven business days thereafter, which conditions include the termination of Mr. Bonavia's employment, Mr. Bonavia would have been entitled to severance benefits comparable to those provided to the other senior executives under the Xcel Energy Senior Executive Severance Policy described below. Mr. Bonavia and we have recently entered into another amendment to this agreement. As part of this amendment, Mr. Bonavia agreed to continue his employment through August 31, 2003. Mr. Bonavia also agreed not to assert that his duties and responsibilities have been diminished. In return, we agreed that if we terminate Mr. Bonavia's employment for any reason other than cause, or if Mr. Bonavia terminates his employment for any reason after August 31, 2003, then he will be entitled to severance benefits comparable to those provided to the other senior executives under the Xcel Energy Senior Executive Severance Policy.

Severance Policy

NSP and NCE each adopted a 1999 senior executive severance policy in March 1999. These policies were combined into a single Xcel Energy Senior Executive Severance Policy, which will continue until August 18, 2003 and may be extended beyond August 2003. All of our executive officers other than Mr. Brunetti participate in the policy.

Under the policy, a participant whose employment is terminated at any time before August 18, 2003, the third anniversary of the Merger, will receive severance benefits unless:

- the employer terminated the participant for cause;
- the termination was because of the participant's death, disability or

retirement;

- the division or subsidiary in which the participant worked was sold and the buyer agreed to continue the participant's employment with specified protections for the participant; or
- the participant terminated voluntarily without good reason.

To receive the severance benefits, the participant must also sign an agreement releasing all claims against the employer and its affiliates, and agreeing not to compete with the employer and its affiliates and not to solicit their employees and customers.

The severance benefits for executive officers under the policy include the following:

- a cash payment equal to 2.5 times the participant's annual base salary, annual bonus and annualized long-term incentive compensation, prorated incentive compensation for the year of termination and perquisite allowance;
- a cash payment equal to the additional amounts that would have been credited to the executive under pension and retirement savings plans, if the participant had remained employed for another 2.5 years;
- continued welfare benefits for 2.5 years
- financial planning benefit for two years, and outplacement services costing not more than $30,000; and
- an additional cash payment to make the participant whole for any excise tax on excess severance payments that he or she may incur, with certain limitations specified in the policies.

Some of the executive officers of NCE who participate in the severance policy also had change-of-control employment agreements with NCE. The Merger was not considered a change of control under these agreements, so they did not become effective as a result of the Merger. However, if they become effective because of a later change of control, the severance benefits under the Xcel Energy Senior Executive Severance Policy will be reduced by any severance benefits that the participant receives under such an employment agreement.

PENSION PLAN TABLES

NRG Energy participates in Xcel Energy's noncontributory, defined benefit pension plan. Such plan covers substantially all of NRG Energy's employees. As of January 1, 1999, the pension benefit formula that applies to the Named Executive Officers was changed and each Named Executive Officer, together with all other affected nonbargaining employees, was given an opportunity to choose between two retirement programs, the traditional program and the pension equity program. Messrs. Peterson and Mataczynski have selected the traditional program and Messrs. Pieper, Sass and Brewster have selected the pension equity program.

Under the traditional program applicable to certain of the Named Executive Officers, the pension benefit is computed by taking the highest average compensation below the integration level times 1.1333% plus the highest average compensation above the integration level times 1.6333%. The result is multiplied by credited service. The integration level is one-third of the social security wage base. The annual compensation used to calculate average compensation is base salary for the year plus bonus compensation paid in that same year. There is no maximum on the number of years of service used to determine the pension benefit. The benefit amounts under the pension equity program are computed in the form of a lump sum.

Both programs feature a retirement spending account, which credits $1,400 plus interest annually. The opening balance as of January 1, 1999 was $1,400 multiplied by years of service.

EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENTS

Scott J. Davido

Scott J. Davido is party to a Key Executive Retention, Restructuring Bonus and Severance Agreement with NRG Energy dated as of February 18, 2003. Under the agreement, Mr. Davido is entitled to: (i) a time-vested retention bonus of $150,000 (the "Retention Bonus") (ii) compensation for participation in the restructuring of NRG Energy (the "Restructuring Bonus") and (iii) certain severance benefits.

Mr. Davido has been given the entire Retention Bonus and will be entitled to keep the entire Retention Bonus provided he does not voluntarily terminate his employment before July 31, 2003. If Mr. Davido does voluntarily terminate his employment before July 31, 2003, he will be entitled to keep a prorata portion of his bonus based on the number of days remaining until July 31, 2003.

Mr. Davido is entitled to a Restructuring Bonus upon the (i) the consummation of a consensual out of court restructuring of all or substantially all of the debt of NRG Energy, (ii) the confirmation of a plan of reorganization for NRG Energy or (iii) the completion of a sale of all or substantially all of the assets of

NRG Energy. Mr. Davido is not entitled to a Restructuring Bonus if he is terminated for cause, his employment ends due to disability or retirement or he voluntarily terminates his employment. The Restructuring Bonus is equal to two times the sum of (i) Mr. Davido's base salary and (ii) the greater of: (a) Mr. Davido's average bonus over the last two years or (b) Mr. Davido's target annual bonus established under a bonus plan for the year in which the restructuring occurs.

Mr. Davido is entitled to certain severance payments in particular situations where Mr. Davido's employment with NRG Energy is terminated. If Mr. Davido is terminated without cause or resigns for good reason he is entitled to all of the following: (i) two times the sum of (a) Mr. Davido's base salary and (b) the greater of: (x) Mr. Davido's average bonus over the last two years or (y) Mr. Davido's target annual bonus established under a bonus plan for the year in which the termination occurs; (ii) a prorata portion of Mr. Davido's unpaid target annual incentive; (iii) a payment equivalent to the COBRA premiums in effect as of the termination; and (iv) a cash payment of vacation and/or paid time off earned but not taken by Mr. Davido. If Mr. Davido's employment is terminated for disability, death or retirement, he (or his estate) is entitled to his base salary and vacation earned but untaken through the termination.

All of the obligations under Mr. Davido's Key Executive Retention, Restructuring Bonus and Severance Agreement are guaranteed by Xcel Energy. In addition, Mr. Davido has agreed not to compete with NRG Energy for a period of one year after the termination of his employment.

Ershel Redd

Ershel Redd is party to a severance agreement with NRG Energy dated as of January 30, 2003. Under the agreement, Mr. Redd is entitled to severance benefits equivalent to those under the Xcel Energy Business Unit Vice President Severance Plan. Specifically, if (i) Mr. Redd's employment is terminated without cause, (ii) his position is eliminated without a comparable position being offered, (iii) his salary is reduced by more than 10% (and he subsequently voluntarily terminates his employment) or (iv) he is required to relocate (and he subsequently voluntarily terminates his employment), then Mr. Redd is entitled to lump-sum and continuing severance benefits during the "severance period" (18 months after employment termination). Further, all of the obligations under Mr. Redd's severance plan are guaranteed by Xcel Energy.

The lump-sum severance benefit is equal to the aggregate of: (i) unpaid salary through the date of termination and a prorata share of Mr. Redd's target annual incentive; (ii) 1.5 times the sum of Mr. Redd's salary and target annual incentive; (iii) certain retirement benefits Mr. Redd would have earned had he been employed during the severance period; and (iv) certain contributions the NRG would have made to Mr. Redd's defined contribution and supplemental executive savings plans. The continuing benefits include: (i) medical, dental, vision and life insurance; (ii) outplacement services (up to $15,000); (iii) financial counseling; and (iv) the "flexible prerequisite allowance."

William Pieper

William Pieper is party to an NRG Executive Officer and Key Personnel Severance Plan with NRG Energy dated as of July 16, 2001 (as modified by a letter agreement between Mr. Pieper, NRG Energy and Xcel Energy dated as of July 16, 2002).

Edgar Filing: XCEL ENERGY INC - Form U5S/A

Under the agreement, if Mr. Pieper's employment is terminated by NRG Energy without cause or Mr. Pieper voluntarily terminates his employment within three months of a material change or reduction in his responsibilities at NRG Energy, then Mr. Pieper is entitled to certain severance benefits. Specifically, Mr. Pieper is entitled to (i) 1.5 times the sum of (a) his base salary and (b) the greater of (x) Mr. Pieper's average annual bonus over the two years preceding the termination or (y) Mr. Pieper's target annual bonus for the year of termination, (ii) the unpaid prorata portion of Mr. Pieper's targeted annual incentive, (iii) a net cash payment equivalent to the COBRA rates of the welfare benefits of medical, dental and term life insurance for twelve months, (iv) a cash payment for earned and untaken vacation time and (v) the continued vesting of options granted under the Long-Term Incentive and Compensation Plan for a period of two years.

In addition, under the agreement, if there is a change of control of NRG Energy and Mr. Pieper's employment is terminated within 6 months prior to such change of control or 12 months following such change of control, then Mr. Pieper is entitled to certain severance benefits. Specifically, Mr. Pieper is entitled to (i) 2.5 times the sum of (a) his base salary and (b) the greater of (x) Mr. Pieper's average annual bonus over the two years preceding the termination or (y) Mr. Pieper's target annual bonus for the year of termination, (ii) the unpaid prorata portion of Mr. Pieper's targeted annual incentive, (iii) a net cash payment equivalent to the COBRA rates of the welfare benefits of medical, dental and term life insurance for twelve months, (iv) a cash payment for earned and untaken vacation time and (v) all outstanding long-term incentive awards subject to the treatment provided under the long-term incentive plan of NRG Energy.

The letter agreement dated July 16, 2002 provides that rather than immediately terminating his employment and seeking severance benefits due to a material change or reduction in his responsibilities at NRG Energy (after NRG Energy became a wholly-owned subsidiary of Xcel Energy), NRG Energy has instead extended the time frame in which Mr. Pieper may terminate his employment and seek such severance benefits by 15 months, provided Mr. Pieper does not terminate his employment within 12 months of July 15, 2002.

George Schaefer

George Schaefer is party to a letter agreement with NRG Energy dated as of December 18, 2002, which provides Mr. Schaefer certain severance benefits in the event his employment with NRG Energy is terminated. Specifically, in the event Mr. Schaefer's employment is terminated without cause or Mr. Schaefer resigns for good reason, he is entitled to a lump sum payment equal to his base salary and a lump sum payment for all costs associated with health benefits under COBRA for a period of twelve months.

DIRECTOR COMPENSATION

Directors of NRG Energy do not receive compensation for service in such capacity.
