PART I.

ITEM 1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

GENERAL

AgroCan Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), owns all of the capital stock of AgroCan (China) Inc., a British Virgin Islands corporation ("AgroCan China"). AgroCan China owns three subsidiary companies (the "Subsidiaries") located in the People's Republic of China ("China" or the "PRC"), one of which is a Sino-Foreign Equity Joint Venture (the "Joint Venture"). Unless the context indicates otherwise, reference to the Company shall include the Subsidiaries.

AgroCan China was established in 1996 to take advantage of the growing demand for fertilizers and other products and technologies that enhance the agricultural output of China. As of December 31, 2000, the Company had established an annual production capacity of 125,000 metric tons ("MT") for compound fertilizers in two of the largest agricultural provinces of China, Guangxi and Jiangxi, and planned to enter markets in other provinces. The Company is expanding its distribution channels, product lines and services in order to provide comprehensive solutions to niche markets of the agricultural sectors of China.

The following is a summary description of the Subsidiaries and the Joint Venture:

NAME OF SUBSIDIARY	YEAR OF ESTABLISHMENT	OWNERSHIP PERCENTAGE	LOCATION	CAPACITY PER YEAR (MT)	PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

PRODUCTS

The Company produces various compound fertilizers. Compound fertilizers are the end product made from the combination of the three primary nutrients: nitrogen (N), phosphate (P) and potassium (K), together with other elements, such as iron, zinc, copper and manganese. These elements are blended in different proportions and are made into pellets and packed into bags of 50 kilograms ("kg") each. Compound fertilizers are also commonly called NPK fertilizers. The Company's compound fertilizers are designed and formulated for the specific climate, soil and crop requirements of each individual market.

According to irrigated area consumption of fertilizer figures compiled by the State Statistical Bureau, People's Republic of China, and published in the China Statistical Yearbook (1998), compound fertilizers have become increasingly popular in China over the last 20 years. The Company believes this trend is because compound fertilizers can provide crops and plants with balanced nutrients and maintain the Ph values of the soil. The following is a list of the main compound fertilizers developed by the Company:

N-P-K RATIO -----	APPLICATIONS -----
15-6-9	Paddy rice
8-18-10	Wheat
14-6-10	Cotton
12-9-9	Corn
5-10-10	Tobacco
12-8-10	Sugar cane
16-16-16	General application
12-10-8	Eucalyptus plantation
12-12-8	Aspen plantation
10-7-8	Fruit tree

The Company's compound fertilizers are sold under the brand name "AgroCan Three Leaves" (see "Marketing and Distribution").

PRODUCTION

In order to maintain the consistency of quality and corporate image, the fertilizer plants are designed and built with standard production facilities. The Company's management and employees are trained to operate the plants in the same manner. Standard operation procedures have been devised. These procedures are based on the requirement of ISO 9000 standards. The ISO 9000 standards were developed by the International Organization for Standardization, a non-governmental organization with membership from 120 countries. The ISO is not part of the United Nations Organization, although it has strong links with nearly all bodies and specialized agencies of the United Nations family. The ISO 9000 standards represent an international consensus on good management practice. These standards give organizations guidelines on what constitutes an effective quality management system, which in turn can serve as a framework for continuous improvement. The standard procedures include:

- raw material storage practices
- material feeding steps and speed of the production line
- fertilizer blending control
- production capability analysis (Cpk)
- packing and weighting of finished products
- storage and procurement

All of the Company's products are made from urea, phosphate, potash and other non-hazardous chemicals. The production process does not cause any chemical reaction. The Company does not incur any additional costs for compliance with environmental laws in China.

QUALITY CONTROL

The quality and level of nutrient output can be obtained by blending different proportions of NPK input. Water and other necessary ingredients have a significant impact on output cost and quality. All plants operated by the Company are equipped with computer systems to assist in cost and quality control. Quality assurance (QA) and quality control (QC) are priorities for the Company. Continuous improvement in product quality is vital to enhancing competitiveness. The Company plans to establish and implement a comprehensive quality-upgrading program that will lead to ISO 9000 certification. The Company emphasizes the training of quality control personnel.

The laboratories of each plant are continually conducting research for better formulae to meet plant/crop requirements and at the same time to optimize material combinations. The laboratories are also responsible for testing output to ensure the appropriate level of quantity and quality.

SEASONS AND INVENTORY CONTROL

There are two planting seasons (spring and fall) in China. Prices of fertilizers fluctuate between the two planting seasons. The prices of fertilizer increase during planting seasons and decrease during other periods. Companies generally obtain raw materials by signing purchase contracts at the end of the off-seasons when prices generally drop to the lowest level.

The Company's product mix allows sales of compound fertilizers with crop rotations in different months. However, the Company's sales revenues are lower in the off-season as a result of decreased sales volume and lower prices.

PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT

The Company places considerable emphasis on the research and development of new products and technology. The Company benefits from its relationships with major national and local agricultural and soil research institutes in China, as well as the Ministry of Agriculture, State Petroleum and Chemical Bureau, and State Forestry Bureau. The Company regularly engages the various institutes to conduct discrete research projects and testing on its behalf. The Company's management regularly meets with the government ministry and bureaus to obtain information on national policies and statistics with regard to the fertilizer and agricultural industries and advises these governmental agencies of industry developments. The Company retains a group of leading engineers and scientists as consultants to support the research teams at each subsidiary. The Company has not applied for any patents, since it believes that patent protection is not available to protect the formulations of the Company's products since the ratios and proportion of the different materials change in accordance with soil, plant, season and weather conditions.

MARKETING AND DISTRIBUTION

The State Internal Trade Bureau of the PRC maintains distribution systems and channels from provincial to local levels. The Company's main customers are the farming supplies bureaus and cooperatives under the State Internal Trade Bureau. These entities act as wholesalers to individual farmers. State-owned farms and plantations are also major accounts of the Company, and are serviced by the Company's sales representatives at each Subsidiary. These direct sales units of the Company are responsible for maintaining good working relationships with the customers. The Company has also established its own provincial distribution channels in the target market. As of September 30, 2000, the Company had established a total of 250 retail points of sales in Guangxi and Jiangxi provinces. During the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000, the Company had five customers that accounted for more than 10% of total sales: Chunsun Development Co. Ltd., Zhongce Industrial and Commercial Investment Co., Ltd., Zhanjiang Jinhua Agriculture Co., Ltd., Jinhua Co., Ltd. and Gaoyao Forestry Trading & Development Co., Ltd.

The Company conducts soil and vegetation surveys on a regular basis and provides technical support to customers. Prior to the launching of any new compound fertilizers, testing fields are established and data is collected for further studies. The tests are conducted in collaboration with customers and the test results are certified by customers. Management believes that such close collaboration with customers enhances customer satisfaction and promotes customer loyalty.

Market prices of fertilizers and constituent ingredients generally follow a seasonal fluctuation worldwide as well as in China. The Company has adopted a purchasing policy to order raw materials during the low price seasons so that product cost can be minimized. The Company has recently started to source raw material like urea from the producers directly. Previously, the Company purchased all of its raw material through intermediaries. This approach is expected to reduce the Company's reliance on intermediaries and thus reduce raw material costs. The Company purchases its raw materials from over thirty different suppliers. During the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000, the Company had two suppliers that provided more than 10% of the Company's raw materials: Hainan Fudao Chemical Co. Ltd. and Chungqing Jiangjan Chemical Fertilizer General Factory. The Company is not reliant on any single supplier for its raw material supply.

Selling prices of the Company's fertilizers are basically in line with the market prices in the respective markets where the Company's plants are located. However, the Company is generally able to charge a slight premium (2% to 4%) over its competitors because of the stability and high quality of its products. The Joint Venture Agreement for Jiangxi Fenglin Chemical Industry Company Limited provides that the product price shall be calculated, in general, as the cost of raw materials plus 12% gross profit. However, as the controlling party of the Joint Venture, the Company has the right to increase or decrease prices without the approval of any governmental unit or other party.

THE MARKET

According to the population and its composition statistics published in the 1998 China Statistics Yearbook, in 1997, 70% of the population (about 866 million people) live in rural areas of China. The per capita irrigated land of China is 0.04 hectare, which is only approximately 50% of that of the United States. Total arable land area was reduced between 1961 and 1978 when China initiated the open-door economic policy. Arable area has been further reduced since 1978. However, during this period, grain output has increased two- to three-fold. The output per hectare also increased in a similar way. The following comparative table shows the trend:

YEAR	ARABLE LAND (MILLION HECTARES)		GRAIN OUTPUT (MILLION METRIC TONS)		OUTPUT PER HECTARE (METRIC TONS)
1961	103.4		109.9		1.06
1978	97.3	- 5.9%	272.9	+ 167%	2.74	+ 158%
1997	94.9	- 2.4%	443.5	+ 62%	4.67	+ 71%

Source: FAO & China Statistical Yearbook (1998)

With the reduction of usable land, there is a significant need in China to increase the output of crops per hectare. China is the world's largest importer of fertilizers, importing over 25% of its fertilizer requirements. In 1997, China imported 2,592,214 metric tons of NPKs, up 21.8% from the previous year's 2,128,280 metric tons. The Chinese government imposes an import quota system to control the import of various types of fertilizers.

THE WORLDWIDE MARKET

Average annual worldwide consumption of fertilizers was about 130 million metric tons between 1991 and 1997. In that period, developing countries in the aggregate consumed an average of 59 million metric tons annually, accounting for 45.7% of the total consumption. China was the most significant fertilizer user in the world, consuming an average of 30 million metric tons between 1991 and 1997, accounting for 23.5% of total worldwide consumption. During 1997, China's consumption increased to a record high of 36.5 million metric tons, representing 27% of total worldwide consumption. India's fertilizer consumption ranked second, with annual consumption of 14.3 million metric tons in 1997, accounting for 10.1% of the world total. These statistics were obtained from two worldwide Organizations, the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) and Fertilizer Advisory Development and Information Network for Asia and the Pacific (FADINAP), under a United Nations commission.

MARKET TREND OF CHINA

China is the world's largest producer of fertilizer, with total output in 1997 of 27.6 million metric tons, which accounted for 18.6% of world production. Despite being the world's largest fertilizer producing country, China still had a shortage of 8.9 million metric tons of fertilizer, equivalent to 24% of its requirement. Therefore, China had to rely on imports to make up the shortage.

Edgar Filing: AGROCAN CORP - Form 10KSB

Between 1980 and 1997, total consumption of fertilizer in China increased from 16.7 metric tons to 35.9 million metric tons, representing an average of 6.7% per annum. The annual average growth for NPK compound fertilizers was 14.5%, 13.4%, 11.7%, 9.5% and 8.6% from 1993 to 1997, respectively. The Company believes that demand for fertilizers in the next decade will continue to grow at the same pace as in the last decade.

In order to improve efficient utilization of fertilizers, the PRC Ministry of Agriculture opted for using more NPK compound fertilizers instead of single nutrients, such as urea. It is expected that demand for NPK compound fertilizers will gradually increase over the years. This demand can be satisfied either by increasing imports or local production. In 1996, in order to capitalize on the market growth in NPK compound fertilizers, the Company established its first NPK compound fertilizer production plant in Guangxi and further expanded into Jiangxi in 1997. As of September 30, 2000, the Company's total annual production capacity is approximately 125,000 metric tons.

THE COMPANY'S MARKETS

In 1999, the usage of fertilizer in selected provinces and cities in the PRC was as follows:

PROVINCE OR CITY -----	ARABLE LAND (MILLION HECTARES) -----	FERTILIZERS CONSUMED (1,000 MT) -----	FERTILIZERS CONSUMED (KG PER HECTARE) -----	NPK CONSUMED (1,000 MT) -----

For China's 9th Five-Year Plan (1996-2001), these provinces and cities were allocated more resources for development of the agricultural sectors by the Central Government. The Company has established one plant in Guangxi and two plants in Jiangxi. The Company plans to establish at least one plant in each of the above listed provinces and cities (the "Target Markets"). The Target Markets are prime agricultural developing provinces in China. Total cultivated land of these provinces constitutes 38.3% of the PRC total and their fertilizer consumption exceeds 55.6% of the national total. Fertilizer consumption per hectare in these provinces is above the Chinese national average.

Fertilizer applications in these provinces and cities are mainly paddy rice, wheat, corn, sugar cane, tobacco, cotton, vegetables, tree plantation and fruit trees.

COMPETITION

LOCAL SUPPLIERS

There are many small fertilizer producers in China, each with annual output of less than 10,000 metric tons that supply low quality fertilizers and compound fertilizers. Because of their small size, these producers are generally less cost effective, have low quality control and minimal product development capabilities. Generally, the single or dual chemical nutrients supplied by these producers are less effective at boosting the growth of plants as compared to the Company's custom-made compound fertilizers.

INTERNATIONAL SUPPLIERS

The second group of competitors of the Company consists of international producers and the traders who import fertilizers into China, including Agrium Inc., Cargill Group, Norsk Hydro Group, Kemira Agro Group, BASF Group, Marubeni Corporation, Mitsubishi Corporation, Canpotex Ltd. and Sinochem Group (China National Chemicals Import & Export Corp.). The products that are imported and traded range from single chemical elements like urea, phosphate and potash, to standard NPK compound fertilizers. The NPK ratios of imported products are in the range of 15-15-15. Qualities of imported products are generally higher and more stable than existing locally made fertilizers. Due to import duties, import license fees and shipping and transportation expenses, imported fertilizers are normally priced 10% to 25% higher than local products. The total quantities imported are also limited by the import quota system imposed by the Chinese government.

There are presently a small number of joint venture fertilizer plants in China. Most of these plants are Sino-Foreign Equity Joint Venture companies between Chinese-owned enterprises and foreign companies. They mainly produce basic fertilizer ingredients such as urea. These fertilizer producers do not constitute direct competition for the Company because their plants are isolated and are unable to supply the whole country as China's infrastructure is still under development. Moreover, these plants do not maintain their own laboratories to develop new formulations and therefore do not have the capability to manufacture custom-made compound fertilizers that suit individual markets. These joint venture fertilizer plants can provide a stable supply of raw materials to the Company's plants in different provinces.

COMPETITIVE EDGES

The Company specializes in producing compound fertilizers, which are custom-made to suit local conditions, such as plant, soil and climate. There are no more than two competitors in the Company's selected markets capable of producing custom fertilizer products. The Company believes that it has the following competitive advantages:

- the Company's operations are located within a 200 kilometer radius of its market, resulting in savings in transportation costs, responsive customer services and market intelligence
- the Company emphasizes quality, as its compound fertilizer is unmatched as compared to locally supplied compound fertilizer
- the Company has a wide variety of products for different needs by local farmers
- the Company conducts proactive product and market development
- the Company is local, thus avoiding the import quota system, and combines local and foreign expertise, and works closely with local farming supplies bureaus and cooperatives

EXPANSION PLANS

The Company's strategy in establishing operations in China is to first seek out operating production facilities suitable for the Company's product lines. Once a potential site is targeted, the Company will endeavor to implement a consistent strategy. Typically, the strategy is to form a joint venture with a local partner and provide initial capital. On-site management and financial, accounting and sales personnel are also provided, and management personnel of the Company are expected to actively participate in the management and operations of the joint venture. Facilities are updated as needed. The Company then will provide technology to the joint venture with the goal of developing fertilizers suitable for the local market. Management has determined that the capital outlay for this type of operation is lower than forming a new operation.

The Company's short-term objective is to build annual production capacities of up to 200,000 metric tons in selected provinces other than Guangxi and Jiangxi, thus establishing standardized compound fertilizers plants in these growing markets. At the same time, quality control programs for ISO 9000 certification will be implemented in the Company's operations. Advertising and marketing programs will be launched to enhance the "AgroCan Three Leaves" brand locally and nationally.

The Company's long-term objective is to become an influential participant in the modernization of the agricultural industry in China. The Company believes that China's agricultural industry requires high quality fertilizers, pesticides, seedlings and other necessary inputs for the next century. In order to raise total land productivity with limited arable land, China must apply modern technology to the agricultural industry. The Company is evaluating opportunities to bring biotech and genetic technologies, which are already available and used in developed countries, to China.

JOINT VENTURE

The Company owns a 70% interest in the Joint Venture pursuant to a Joint Venture Contract dated October 18, 1996. The validity, interpretation, execution and settlement of disputes is governed under PRC law and disputes are submitted for arbitration to the Foreign Economic and Trade Arbitration Commission of China Council for the Promotion of International Trade. Despite some progress in developing a legal system, China does not have a comprehensive system of laws. The interpretation of Chinese laws may be subject to policy changes reflecting domestic political factors. Enforcement of existing laws, including laws pertaining to PRC joint ventures, may be uncertain and sporadic, and implementation may be inconsistent.

EMPLOYEES

Edgar Filing: AGROCAN CORP - Form 10KSB

As of September 30, 2000, the Company had approximately 44 full-time employees. There are 4 employees based in the Company's corporate office in Hong Kong and 40 employees based in China. Of the 40 employees based in China, 18 employees are involved with sales related activities and 22 employees are technical personnel in the agricultural field.

ITEM 2. DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTIES

HONG KONG. The Company occupies office space in Wanchai, Hong Kong, consisting of 810 square feet. The lease expires May 9, 2001.

NANNING, GUANGXI. The Company's subsidiary, Guangxi Linmao Fertilizer Company Limited, owns a fertilizer manufacturing plant in Nanning, Guangxi, consisting of 25,500 square feet. The plant was newly constructed in 1997 and is in good condition. The land lease expires January 28, 2017.

NANCHANG, JIANGXI. The Company's joint venture, Jiangxi Fenglin Chemical Industry Company Limited, leases a fertilizer manufacturing plant in Nanchang, Jiangxi, consisting of 21,800 square feet. The lease expires October 17, 2001.

FUZHOU, JIANGXI. The Company's subsidiary, Jiangxi Jiali Chemical Industry Company Limited owns a fertilizer manufacturing plant in Fuzhou, Jiangxi, consisting of 28,010 square feet. The plant was newly constructed in the fourth quarter of 1997 and completed in the first quarter of 1998 and is in good condition. The land lease expires June 30, 2057.

ITEM 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

There are no pending or threatened legal proceedings against the Company, including its Subsidiaries and the Joint Venture.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS

No matters were submitted to a vote of the Company's security holders during the fourth quarter of the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000.

PART II.

ITEM 5. MARKET FOR COMMON EQUITY AND RELATED STOCKHOLDER MATTERS

Since July 14, 2000, the Company's common stock has been listed for trading on the OTC Bulletin Board under the symbol "AGRN". The trading market is limited and sporadic and should not be deemed to constitute an "established trading market".

The following table sets for the range of bid prices of the Company's common stock as quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board during the periods indicated. Such prices reflect prices between dealers in securities and do not include any retail mark-up, mark-down or commission and may not necessarily represent actual transactions. The information set forth the below was obtained from America Online.

DIVIDEND POLICY

The Company has never paid dividends on its common stock and does not anticipate paying dividends on its common stock in the foreseeable future. It is the present policy of the Board of Directors to retail all earnings to provide for the future growth of the Company. Earnings of the Company, if any, are expected to be retained to finance the expansion of the Company's business. The payment of dividends on the Company's common stock in the future will depend on the results of operations, financial condition, capital expenditure plans and other cash obligations of the Company and will be at the sole discretion of the Board of Directors.

RECENT SALES OF UNREGISTERED SECURITIES

The following is information for all securities that the Company has sold within the past three years without registering the securities under the Securities Act:

1. On December 31, 1997, the Company issued an aggregate of 1,598,646 shares of common stock to the shareholders of AgroCan (China) Inc. in exchange for all of the outstanding capital stock of AgroCan (China) Inc. The shares were issued in a private transaction not involving an offering pursuant to Section 4(2) of the Securities Act. This transaction was characterized as a reincorporation and had no financial impact on the Company.

2. During March 1998, the Company issued 47,914 shares of common stock to Critical Success Ltd., a third party with a pre-existing business relationship with the Company, for cash consideration of RMB 256,680. The shares were issued in a private transaction not involving an offering pursuant to Section 4(2) of the Securities Act.

3. On August 25, 1998, the Company issued an aggregate of 250,000 units, each unit consisting of one share of common stock and 1/10th of a warrant to purchase one share of common stock at $0.10 per share, to 43 accredited investors for an aggregate cash purchase price of RMB 4,140,000. Of the 43 investors, 6 investors had pre-existing personal relationships with the Company's officers and/or directors and 37 investors were introduced to the Company by financial consultants of the Company who were affiliated with registered broker-dealers. The shares were issued in a private placement pursuant to Rule 504 of Regulation D.

4. On August 25, 1998, the Company issued 20,000 shares of common stock and two-year warrants to purchase 125,000 shares of common stock at $0.10 per share to an accredited unrelated financial consultant for services rendered in connection with the private placement discussed in Transaction 3. The securities were issued pursuant to Rule 504 of Regulation D.

5. On August 25, 1998, the Company issued two-year warrants to purchase 150,000 shares of common stock at $1.50 per share to an accredited unrelated financial consultant for services rendered in connection with the private placement discussed in Transaction 3. The securities were issued pursuant to Rule 506 of Regulation D.

6. On August 25, 1998, the Company issued two-year warrants to purchase 25,000 shares of common stock at $0.10 per share to an accredited unrelated financial consultant for services rendered in connection with the private placement discussed in Transaction 3. The shares were issued pursuant to Rule 504 of Regulation D.

7. On August 25, 1998, the Company issued 150,000 shares of common stock to an accredited unrelated financial consultant for services rendered in connection with the private placement discussed in Transaction 3. The shares were issued pursuant to Rule 506 of Regulation D.

8. On April 6, 1999, the Company issued 100,000 shares of common stock to an accredited unrelated financial consultant for services rendered in connection with the private placement discussed in Transaction 3. The shares were issued pursuant to Rule 504 of Regulation D.

9. From October 1998 to December 1998, warrants issued in the private placement in Transaction 3 were exercised for an aggregate of 2,200 shares of common stock. The shares were issued pursuant to Rule 504 of Regulation D.

Cautionary Statement Pursuant to Safe Harbor Provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995:

This Annual Report on Form 10-KSB for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000 contains "forward-looking" statements within the meaning of the Federal securities laws. These forward-looking statements include, among others, statements concerning the Company's expectations regarding sales trends, gross and net operating margin trends, political and economic matters, the availability of equity capital to fund the Company's capital requirements, and other statements of expectations, beliefs, future plans and strategies, anticipated events or trends, and similar expressions concerning matters that are not historical facts. The forward-looking statements in this Annual Report on Form 10-KSB for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000 are subject to risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those results expressed in or implied by the statements contained herein.

Overview:

AgroCan Corporation (the "Company") was incorporated on December 8, 1997 in the State of Delaware. Effective December 31, 1997, the Company issued 1,598,646 shares of common stock, which represented all of the capital stock outstanding at the completion of this transaction, to the shareholders of AgroCan (China) Inc., a corporation incorporated in the British Virgin Islands, in exchange for all of the capital stock of AgroCan (China) Inc.

Prior to this transaction, the Company had no significant operations. This transaction was accounted for as a recapitalization of AgroCan (China) Inc., as the shareholders of AgroCan (China) Inc. acquired all of the capital stock of the Company in a reverse acquisition. Accordingly, the assets and liabilities of AgroCan (China) Inc. were recorded at historical cost, and the shares of common stock issued by the Company were reflected in the consolidated financial statements giving retroactive effect as if the Company had been the parent company from inception.

The Company, through AgroCan (China) Inc., currently owns 100% interests in two wholly-owned subsidiaries, Guangxi Linmao Fertilizer Company Limited ("Guangxi Linmao") and Jiangxi Jiali Chemical Industry Company Limited ("Jiangxi Jiali"). The Company, through AgroCan (China) Inc., also owns a 70% interest in Jiangxi Fenglin Chemical Industry Company Limited, a Sino-Foreign Equity Joint Venture ("Jiangxi Fenglin"). All of the aforementioned entities are located in the People's Republic of China ("China" or the "PRC").

The Company accounts for its interest in Jiangxi Fenglin similar to a majority-owned subsidiary because of its 70% interest, its contractual ability to appoint four out of six directors to the Board of Directors, which is the highest authority for the joint venture, and the Company's right to appoint the Chairman of the Board. Due to the rights asserted by the PRC partner under customary joint venture agreements, joint venture interests in the PRC are generally not consolidated in the financial statements of companies that report under the periodic reporting requirements of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. However, as a result of the aforementioned factors specific to Jiangxi Fenglin, management believes that it is appropriate to consolidate the joint venture's operations into the Company's consolidated financial statements.

AgroCan (China) Inc. was established in 1996 to develop, produce and sell fertilizers and other products and technologies to enhance the agricultural output of China. The Company produces various compound fertilizers, which are the end product made from the combination of three primary nutrients, nitrogen, phosphate and potassium, mixed together with other elements such as iron, zinc, copper and manganese. These ingredients are blended in different proportions and packed into 50 kilogram bags. The Company designs its compound fertilizers for specific climate, soil and crop requirements of each individual geographic market. As of December 31, 2000, the Company had established an annual production capacity of 125,000 metric tons for compound fertilizers in Guangxi and Jiangxi, two of the largest agricultural provinces in China, and the Company intends to enter markets in other provinces in China.

The Company's customers are all located in the PRC, and sales to such customers are generally on an open account basis. During the fiscal years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999, the Company relied on a small number of customers for most of its sales. During the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000, four customers accounted for 59% of total sales (18%, 15%, 15% and 11% of total sales). During the fiscal year ended September 30, 1999, three customers accounted for 62% of total sales (29%, 17% and 16% of total sales). As of September 30, 2000, approximately 67% of accounts receivable were generated by trade transactions with five significant customers, of which one customer accounted for approximately 51% of the accounts receivable balance. As of September 30, 1999, approximately 86% of accounts receivable were generated by trade transactions with five significant customers, of which one customer accounted for approximately 57% of the accounts receivable balance.

The Company has also relied on a small number of suppliers located in the PRC for its raw material purchases. During the fiscal years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999, two suppliers accounted for 54% and 58%, respectively, of total purchases. As of September 30, 2000 and 1999, 75% and 78%, respectively, of accounts payable were generated by trade transactions with such significant suppliers.

The consolidated financial statements of the Company include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned and majority-owned subsidiaries. All material intercompany balances and transactions are eliminated at consolidation. The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States and have been presented in Chinese Renminbi ("RMB"). The functional currency of the Company's PRC operations is the RMB. The accounts of foreign operations are prepared in their local currency and are translated into RMB using the applicable rate of exchange. The resulting translation adjustments are included in comprehensive income (loss). Transactions denominated in currencies other than the RMB are translated into RMB at the applicable exchange rates. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in other currencies are translated into RMB at the applicable rate of exchange at the balance sheet date. The resulting exchange gains or losses are credited or charged to the consolidated statements of operations.

Consolidated Results of Operations:

Fiscal Years Ended September 30, 2000 and 1999:

Revenues. Revenues for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000 were RMB 51,526,030, as compared to revenues of RMB 40,733,729 for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1999, an increase of RMB 10,792,301 or 26.5%. The increase in revenues in 2000 as compared to 1999 was a result of several factors, including an increase in selling prices and an increase in demand from both existing and new customers.

Gross Profit. Gross profit for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000 was RMB

Edgar Filing: AGROCAN CORP - Form 10KSB

9,581,094 or 18.6% of revenues, as compared to RMB 5,434,398 or 13.3% of revenues for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1999, an increase of RMB 4,146,696 or 76.0%. The gross profit margin increased in 2000 as compared to 1999, both on an absolute basis and as a percentage of revenues, as a result of the Company raising its prices to focus on higher-margin customers and fluctuations in the cost of certain raw material components.

Administrative and General Expenses. Administrative and general expenses for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000 increased by RMB 1,257,151 or 33.2%, to RMB 5,040,379 or 9.8% of revenues, as compared to RMB 3,783,228 or 9.3% of revenues for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1999. For the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000, directors' remuneration of RMB 747,000 was included in administrative and general expenses. For the fiscal year ended September 30, 1999, non-cash consulting fees of RMB 1,510,600 were included in administrative and general expenses. Administrative and general expenses, particularly compensation and related costs, increased in 2000 as compared to 1999 in part as a result of an increase in costs incurred to support and expand business operations, including costs related to office operations, salaries and travel, as well as the legal and professional fees associated with the operation of a public company.

Selling Expenses. Selling expenses for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000 increased by RMB 505,117 or 96.3%, to RMB 1,029,642 or 2.0% of revenues, as compared to RMB 524,525 or 1.3% of revenues for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1999. Selling expenses increased in 2000 as compared to 1999 as a result of the Company's continuing efforts to broaden its customer base and thereby reduce its reliance on sales to a small number of customers. The Company incurred increased costs to support expanded marketing and selling efforts, including office operations, salaries and travel, as well as product promotion costs.

Other Income (Expense). The Company recorded subcontracting income of RMB 1,025,000 and RMB 1,200,000 for the fiscal years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999, respectively. The Company recorded commission income of RMB 251,100 and RMB 857,880 for the fiscal years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999, respectively. The Company recorded interest income of RMB 31,747 and RMB 56,325 for the fiscal years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999, respectively. The Company recorded amortization of loan fees of RMB 616,283 for the fiscal years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999.

Income Taxes. The Company is subject to income taxes on an entity basis on income arising in or derived from the tax jurisdiction in which each entity is domiciled. The Company's British Virgin Islands subsidiary is not liable for income taxes. The Company's PRC subsidiaries consist of two wholly-owned foreign enterprises and a 70%-owned Sino-Foreign Equity Joint Venture. PRC companies are generally subject to income taxes at an effect rate of 33% (30% national income tax plus 3% state income tax). As manufacturing companies, the Company's subsidiaries operate in special zones, which entitles them to a reduced national income tax rate of 24%, and the subsidiaries are exempt from state income tax. Further, pursuant to the approval of the relevant PRC tax authorities, the subsidiaries have been granted a "tax holiday", whereby the subsidiaries are fully exempt from PRC income taxes for two years starting from the year profits are first recognized, followed by a 50% exemption for the next three years. In 1999, the two-year, 100% exemption expired for Jiangxi Fenglin and Guangxi Linmao, subjecting them to an income tax at a rate of 12%. Effective October 1, 2000, the two-year, 100% exemption expired for Jiangxi Jiali, subjecting it to an income tax at a rate of 12%. Losses incurred by joint ventures may be carried forward for five years.

The Company recorded income taxes of RMB 464,966 and RMB 656,998 for the fiscal years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

Minority Interest. For the fiscal years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999, the Company recorded a minority interest of RMB 78,527 and RMB 26,120, respectively, to reflect the interest of the Company's 30% joint venture partner in Jiangxi Fenglin.

Net Income. Net income was RMB 3,711,551 for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000, as compared to net income of RMB 1,889,042 for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1999.

Consolidated Financial Condition:

Liquidity and Capital Resources - September 30, 2000:

Operating. For the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000, the Company's operations utilized cash resources of RMB 3,381,008, as compared to generating cash resources of RMB 2,780,379 for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1999. The Company's operations utilized cash resources in 2000, as compared to generating cash resources in 1999, primarily a result of an increase in accounts receivable resulting from increased revenues, which was only partly offset by an increase in accounts payable. The Company had net working capital at September 30, 2000 of RMB 17,557,262, as compared to net working capital of RMB 12,713,791 at September 30, 1999, reflecting a current ratio of 1.54:1 at September 30, 2000, as compared to 2.15:1 at September 30, 1999.

Accounts receivable increased by RMB 24,133,591, to RMB 38,030,840 at September 30, 2000, from RMB 13,897,249 at September 30, 1999. Accounts receivable increased during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000 as a result of increased revenues.

Accounts payable increased by RMB 16,159,698, to RMB 21,159,642 at September 30, 2000, from RMB 4,999,944 at September 30, 1999. Accounts payable increased during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000 as a result of increased purchases of raw materials to support increased revenues.

Investing. During the fiscal years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999, additions to property, plant and equipment aggregated RMB 445,943 and RMB 752,228, respectively.

The Company had no significant capital expenditure commitments outstanding at September 30, 2000.

Financing. During the fiscal year ended September 30, 1999, the Company incurred a short-term bank loan of RMB 700,000, with interest at 5.61% per annum, to fund operations. This bank loan was secured by the Company's cash deposit of US$120,000 (RMB 996,000), and was repaid during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000.

During the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000, the Company borrowed RMB 4,580,212 pursuant to advances and short-term loans from various third parties, of which RMB 600,000 had been repaid at September 30, 2000. With respect to the remaining balance outstanding of RMB 3,980,212 at September 30, 2000, RMB 1,510,212 consisted of unsecured notes, with interest at 5% per annum, which are repayable within one year, and RMB 2,470,000 consisted of non-interest bearing advances which are repayable on demand.

During the fiscal year ended September 30, 2000, the Company issued 164,510 shares of common stock upon exercise of common stock purchase warrants and received net proceeds of RMB 136,541.

During the fiscal year ended September 30, 1999, the Company's minority interest partner contributed capital to the joint venture of RMB 138,187.

The Company anticipates, based on currently proposed plans and assumptions relating to its existing operations, that its projected cash flows from operations, combined with cash that the Company expects to generate from the issuance of its securities and from borrowings, will be sufficient to support its planned operations for the next twelve months. Depending on the Company's rate of growth, the Company may seek additional capital in the future to support expansion of operations and acquisitions.

Inflation and Currency Matters:

In recent years, the Chinese economy has experienced periods of rapid economic growth as well as relatively high rates of inflation, which in turn has resulted in the periodic adoption by the Chinese government of various corrective measures designed to regulate growth and contain inflation. Since 1993, the Chinese government has implemented an economic program designed to control inflation, which has resulted in the tightening of working capital available to Chinese business enterprises. The success of the Company depends in substantial part on the continued growth and development of the Chinese economy. During the fiscal years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999, inflation and changing prices have had a minor impact on the Company's operations and financial position. The actual rate of inflation in the agricultural sector has been nominal, and the price level of fertilizer products has been stable.

Foreign operations are subject to certain risks inherent in conducting business abroad, including price and currency exchange controls, and fluctuations in the relative value of currencies. Changes in the relative value of currencies occur periodically and may, in certain instances, materially affect the Company's results of operations. In addition, the Renminbi is not freely convertible into foreign currencies, and the ability to convert the Renminbi is subject to the availability of foreign currencies. Effective December 1, 1998, all foreign exchange transactions involving the Renminbi must take place through authorized banks in China at the prevailing exchange rates quoted by the People's Bank of China. The Company expects that a portion of its revenues will need to be converted into other currencies to meet foreign exchange currency obligations, including the payment of any dividends declared.

Although the central government of China has repeatedly indicated that it does not intend to devalue its currency in the near future, recent announcements by the central government of China indicate that devaluation is an increasing possibility. Should the central government of China decide to devalue the Renminbi, the Company does not believe that such an action would have a detrimental effect on the Company's operations, since the Company conducts virtually all of its business in China, and the sale of its products is settled in Renminbi. However, devaluation of the Renminbi against the United States dollar would adversely effect the Company's financial performance when measured in United States dollars.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements:

In June 1997, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement No. 130, "Reporting Comprehensive Income" ("SFAS No. 130"), which is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 1997. SFAS No. 130 establishes standards for the reporting and display of comprehensive income, its components and accumulated balances in a full set of general purpose financial statements. SFAS No. 130 defined comprehensive income to include all changes in equity except those resulting from investments by owners and distributions to owners. Among other disclosures, SFAS No. 130 requires that all items that are required to be recognized under current accounting standards as components of comprehensive income be reported in a financial statement that is presented with the same prominence as other financial statements. The Company's only current component of comprehensive income is foreign currency translation adjustment. The Company adopted SFAS No. 130 for its fiscal year beginning October 1, 1998. Adoption of SFAS No. 130 did not have a material effect on the Company's financial statement presentation and disclosures.

In June 1997, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement No. 131, "Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information" ("SFAS No. 131"), which supersedes SFAS No. 14, "Financial Reporting for Segments of a Business Enterprise" and which is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 1997. SFAS No. 131 establishes standards for the way that public companies report information about operating segments in annual financial statements and requires reporting of selected information about operating segments in interim financial statements. SFAS No. 131 also establishes standards for disclosures by public companies regarding information about their major customers, operating segments, products and services, and the geographic areas in which they operate. SFAS No. 131 defines operating segments as components of an enterprise about which separate financial information is available that is evaluated regularly by the chief operating decision maker in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance. SFAS No. 131 requires comparative information for earlier years to be restated. The Company operates in only one segment, the manufacture and sale of fertilizer products. The Company adopted SFAS No. 131 for its fiscal year beginning October 1, 1998. Adoption of SFAS No. 131 did not have a material effect on the Company's financial statement presentation and disclosures.

In February 1998, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement No. 132, "Employers' Disclosures about Pensions and Other Post Retirement Benefits" ("SFAS No. 132"), which is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 1997. SFAS No. 132 revises employers' disclosures about pension and other post retirement benefit plans. SFAS No. 132 requires comparative information for earlier years to be restated. The Company does not have any pension or other post retirement benefit plans. The Company adopted SFAS No. 132 for its fiscal year beginning October 1, 1998. Adoption of SFAS No. 132 did not have a material effect on the Company's financial statement presentation and disclosures.

In June 1998, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" ("SFAS No. 133"), which, as amended, is effective for financial statements for all fiscal quarters of all fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2000. SFAS No. 133 standardizes the accounting for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts, by requiring that an entity recognize those items as assets or liabilities in the statement of financial position and measure them at fair value. SFAS No. 133 also addresses the accounting for hedging activities. The Company will adopt SFAS No. 133 for its fiscal year beginning October 1, 2000. The Company currently does not have any derivative instruments nor is it engaged in any hedging activities, thus the Company does not believe that implementation of SFAS No. 133 will have a material effect on its financial statement presentation and disclosures.

Edgar Filing: AGROCAN CORP - Form 10KSB

In December 1999, the Staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101, "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements" ("SAB No. 101"). SAB No. 101, as amended by SAB No. 101A and SAB No. 101B, is effective no later than the fourth fiscal quarter of fiscal years beginning after December 15, 1999. SAB No. 101 provides the Staff's views in applying generally accepted accounting principles to selected revenue recognition issues. The Company believes that it currently complies with the accounting and disclosures provisions described in SAB No. 101. Accordingly, the Company does not believe that implementation of SAB No. 101 will have a material effect on its financial statement presentation and disclosures.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of
AgroCan Corporation

We have audited the consolidated balance sheets of AgroCan Corporation and subsidiaries as of September 30, 2000 and 1999 and the consolidated statements of income, shareholders' equity and cash flows for each of the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of AgroCan Corporation and subsidiaries as of September 30, 2000 and 1999, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

AGROCAN CORPORATION
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and basis of consolidated financial statements

- (a) AgroCan Corporation (the "Company") was incorporated on December 8, 1997 in the State of Delaware, and currently has a wholly-owned subsidiary AgroCan (China) Inc., which has two wholly-owned subsidiaries, Guangxi Linmao Fertilizer Company Limited and Jiangxi Jiali Chemical Industry Company Limited.
- (b) The Company was incorporated with authorized share capital of 25,000,000 shares of common stock with a par value of US$0.0001 per share and 10,000,000 shares of preferred stock with a par value of US$0.0001 per share. The shares of preferred stock may be issued in series having such designations, powers, preferences, rights and limitations, and on such terms and conditions as the board of directors may from time to time determine including the rights, if any, of the holders thereof with respect to voting, dividends, redemption, liquidation and conversion. As of September 30, 2000, no shares of preferred stock had been issued.
- (c) On November 3, 1996, AgroCan (China) Inc. entered into a joint venture agreement with FuZhou Grain and Oil Industry Corp., a state majority-owned enterprise in the People's Republic of China ("PRC"), for the establishment of a Sino-Foreign Equity Joint Venture, Jiangxi Jiali Compound Fertilizer Company Limited, in the PRC. The Group's share in the equity interest in this joint venture as of September 30, 1997 was 55%. On April 5, 1998, the Group acquired the remaining 45% interest. On the same date, the subsidiary changed its name to Jiangxi Jiali Chemical Industry Company Limited ("Jiangxi Jiali"). Jiangxi Jiali is engaged in the manufacture and trading of compound fertilizers with production having commenced on May 1, 1998.

- (d) On October 8, 1996, AgroCan (China) Inc. entered into a joint venture agreement with another state majority-owned enterprise in the PRC Nanchang Organic Fertilizer Factory ("Nanchang") for the establishment of a Sino-Foreign Equity Joint Venture, Jiangxi Fenglin Chemical Industry Company Limited ("Jiangxi Fenglin"), in the PRC. AgroCan (China) Inc.'s share in the equity interest of Jiangxi Fenglin is 70%. The joint venture has a term of 30 years from November 28, 1996, the date of incorporation.

Under the terms of the joint venture agreement, Nanchang and AgroCan (China) Inc. are required to contribute capital of US$101,449 (RMB840,000) and US$236,715 (RMB1,960,000), respectively, in the form of cash and business assets relating to the manufacture and retailing of compound fertilizers to the joint venture. On October 28, 1998, all of the above required capital had been contributed by Nanchang and the Company.

- (e) Guangxi Linmao Compound Fertilizer Company Limited was formed on September 19, 1996 and became a wholly-owned subsidiary of AgroCan (China) Inc. during the year ended September 30, 1997 and changed its name to Guangxi Linmao Fertilizer Company Limited ("Guangxi Linmao") on December 25, 1997. Guangxi Linmao is engaged in the manufacture and trading of compound fertilizers.

1. Organization and basis of consolidated financial statements (continued)

- (f) Effective December 31, 1997, the Company issued 1,598,646 shares of common stock at US$0.0001 par value to the shareholders of AgroCan (China) Inc. in exchange for their interest in AgroCan (China) Inc. and its three subsidiaries in the PRC. Prior to the exchange, the Company had no substantial operations and, under generally accepted accounting principles, the transaction was accounted for as a recapitalization, as the shareholders of AgroCan (China) Inc. acquired all of the stock of the Company. Accordingly, there was no revaluation of assets or liabilities for financial statement accounting purposes. The transaction resulted in the following subsidiaries:

Name of company	Country of incorporation and operation	Percentage of equity interest held	Principal activity
AgroCan (China) Inc.	the British Virgin	100	Investment holding

Guangxi Linmao Fertilizer Company Limited	The People's Republic of China	100	Manufacturer and trading of compound fertilizers
Jiangxi Jiali Chemical Industry Company Limited	The People's Republic of China	100	Manufacturer and trading of compound fertilizers
Jiangxi Fenglin Chemical Industry Company Limited	The People's Republic of China	70	Manufacturer and trading of compound fertilizers

- (g) For financial reporting purposes, the consolidated financial statements reflect the above-mentioned reorganization similar to a pooling of interests, with assets and liabilities recorded at historical cost. Because the transaction has been accounted for as a reverse acquisition, the shares issued by the Company have been reflected in the financial statements giving retroactive effect as if the Company had been the parent company from inception. The consolidated financial statements incorporate the results of operations and assets and liabilities of the Company and its subsidiaries (hereinafter referred to as the "Group" or "Company"). All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated upon consolidation.
- (h) During the period ended September 30, 1998, the Company authorized a US$750,000 (RMB6,210,000) private placement, consisting of 375,000 units at US$2.00 (RMB16.56) per unit, with each unit containing one share of common stock and 1/10th of a two-year warrant to purchase shares of common stock at US$0.10 (RMB0.828) per share. In connection with the private placement, the Company also issued 150,000 two-year warrants to purchase common stock at US$0.10 (RMB0.828) per share to its financial advisors.

1. Organization and basis of consolidated financial statements (continued)

In August 1998, 250,000 units comprising 250,000 shares of common stock and 25,000 two-year warrants expiring in August 2000 were issued pursuant to the above private placement for consideration of US$450,716 (RMB3,731,928), net of offering costs. Each warrant entitles the holder upon exercise to receive from the Company one share of common stock at the purchase price of US$0.10 (RMB0.828) per share. These warrants were not exercised and expired in August 2000.

Also in August 1998, the Company issued 20,000 shares of common stock, two-year warrants to purchase 125,000 shares of common stock at US$0.10 (RMB0.828) per share and two-year warrants to purchase 150,000 shares of common stock at US$1.50 (RMB12.42) per share to a consultant for services rendered in connection with the private placement.

In addition, the Company issued two-year warrants to another consultant to purchase 25,000 shares of common stock at US$0.10 (RMB0.828) per share for services rendered in connection with the private placement.

Edgar Filing: AGROCAN CORP - Form 10KSB

- (i) Pursuant to a board of directors' resolution of August 25, 1998, the Company issued 150,000 shares of common stock to its financial advisor for services rendered in connection with the private placement.
- (j) Pursuant to a board of directors' resolution passed on December 31, 1998, the Company issued 100,000 shares of common stock at US$1.82 (RMB15.11) per share to a consultant. The Company recognized RMB1,510,600 of general and administrative expense related to this transaction.
- (k) During the years ended September 30, 1999 and 2000, warrants were exercised to acquire 3,900 shares and 164,510 shares, respectively.
- (l) The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("US GAAP"), and are presented in Chinese Renminbi ("RMB"), the national currency of the PRC (note 2(e)).

2. Principal accounting policies

- (a) The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its subsidiaries. Material intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated on consolidation.

- (b) Cash and cash equivalents

For financial reporting purposes, the Company considers all highly liquid investments purchased with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

- (c) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is provided over their estimated useful lives, using the straight line method, at the following annual rates:

Land use rights	2% - 5%
Buildings	4.5%
Furniture and equipment	18% - 33 1/3%
Machinery	9% - 20%
Motor vehicles	18%
Leasehold improvements	20%

Repairs and maintenance costs are expensed as incurred.

Management assesses the carrying value of its long-lived assets for impairment when circumstances warrant such a review. Management considers projected future operating results, cash flows, trends and other circumstances in its assessment. Based on its review, management does not believe that any impairment has occurred as of September 30, 2000.

- (d) Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Cost includes the cost of raw materials computed using the first-in, first-out method and, in the case of work in progress and finished goods, direct labor and an appropriate proportion of production overhead. Net realizable value is determined by reference to the sales proceeds of items sold in the ordinary course of business after the balance sheet date or management estimates based on prevailing market conditions.

(d) Inventories (continued)

Inventories are comprised of the following as of September 30:

	2000 ----- US DOLLARS	2000 ----- RMB	1999 ----- RMB
Raw materials	$ 269,681	2,238,353	731,196

(e) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value of the Company's related parties receivables and payables are not practicable to estimate due to the related party nature of the underlying transactions. Management believes that the carrying amounts of the Company's other financial instruments approximates their fair values primarily because of the short-term maturities of these instruments.

(f) Translation of foreign currencies

Transactions and monetary assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than RMB are translated into RMB at the respective applicable rates of exchange quoted by the People's Bank of China (the "Exchange Rate"). Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in other currencies are translated into RMB at the applicable Exchange Rate at the respective balance sheet dates. The resulting exchange gains or losses are credited or charged to the consolidated statements of income. Currency translation adjustments arising from the use of different exchange rates from period to period are included as a separate component in shareholders' equity.

The translation of amounts from RMB into US dollars for the convenience of the reader has been made at the rate of exchange quoted by the People's Bank of China on the respective balance sheet dates of US$1.00 equals RMB8.30 and accordingly, differs from the underlying foreign currency amounts. No representation is made that the RMB amounts could have been, or could be, converted into US dollars at that rate on the respective balance sheet dates or at any other date.

(g) Operating leases

Leases where substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of assets remain with the lessors are accounted for as operating leases. Rentals under operating leases are charged to expense over the lease term.

(h) Construction in progress

Construction in progress represents the accumulated costs of factories under construction, which comprise all expenditures on land use rights and other direct costs attributable to construction, including the cost of financing. Construction in progress also includes the cost of machinery under development and construction for production.

No charge for depreciation is made until assets are placed in service.

(i) Deferred costs

Loan fees are deferred and amortized by equal installments over five years or the term of the related financial instrument.

(j) Revenue recognition

Revenue from sales of goods by the Company, its subsidiaries and the joint venture is recognized on the delivery of goods to customers.

(k) Income taxes

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statements carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in the consolidated statement of income in the period that includes the enactment date.

2. Principal accounting policies (continued)

(l) Use of estimates in the preparation of financial statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Management makes these estimates using the best information available at the time the estimates are made; however actual results could differ materially from these estimates.

(m) Offering costs

Costs incurred by the Company for its private placement offerings of shares of common stock were charged to capital in excess of par at the completion of the offerings.

(n) Staff welfare reserve

PRC rules and regulations governing joint ventures and enterprises require allocation of a portion of annual net income, if any, to a welfare reserve fund. The amounts to be reserved are stipulated by PRC laws and regulations. The reserve cannot be used for purposes other than those for which it is created and is not distributable as cash dividends.

(o) Stock-based compensation

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, defines a fair-value-based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation and transactions in which an entity issues its equity instruments to acquire goods or services from non-employees, and encourages but does not require companies to record compensation cost for stock-based employee compensation at fair value. The Company has chosen to account for stock-based employee compensation using the intrinsic value method prescribed in Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees and related interpretations.

(p) Earning per share

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No.128 ("SFAS 128"), earnings per share, requires dual presentation of basic and diluted earning per share ("EPS") with a reconciliation of the numerator and denominator of the EPS computations. Basic earning per share amounts are based on the weighted average share of common stock outstanding. Diluted earning per share assume the conversion, exercise or issuance of all potential common stock instruments such as options, warrants and convertible securities, unless the effect is to reduce a loss or increase earnings per share.

(q) Comprehensive income

In June 1997, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement No. 130, "Reporting Comprehensive Income," ("SFAS No. 130"). SFAS No. 130 established standards for the reporting and display of comprehensive income, its components and accumulated balances in a full set of general purpose financial statements. SFAS No. 130 defines comprehensive income to include all changes in equity except those resulting from investments by owners and distributions to owners. Among other disclosures, SFAS No. 130 requires that all items that are required to be recognized under current accounting standards as components of comprehensive income be reported in a financial statement that is presented with the same prominence as other financial statements. During the year ended September 30, 1999, the Company adopted SFAS No. 130. The Company's only current component of comprehensive income is foreign currency translation adjustment.

(r) Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In June 1997, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement No. 131, "Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information" (SFAS No. 131), which supersedes SFAS No. 14, "Financial Reporting for Segments of a Business Enterprise" and which is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 1997. SFAS No. 131 established standards for the way that public companies report information about operating segments in annual financial statements and requires reporting of selected information about operating segments in interim financial statements. SFAS No. 131 also establishes standards for disclosures by public companies regarding information about their major customers, operating segments, products and services, and the geographic areas in which they operate. SFAS No. 131 defines operating segments as components of an enterprise about which separate financial information is available that is evaluated regularly by the chief operating decision maker in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance. The Company adopted SFAS No. 131 in 1999. The Company's results of operations and financial position were not affected by implementation of SFAS No. 131 as it operates in only one segment, fertilizer manufacturing.

In February 1998, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement No. 132, "Employers' Disclosures about Pensions and Other Post Retirement Benefits" ("SFAS No. 132"). SFAS No. 132 revises employers' disclosures about pension and other post retirement benefit plans. The Company adopted SFAS No. 132 in 1999. The Company's results of operations and financial position were not affected by implementation of SFAS No. 132.

In June 1998, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" ("SFAS No. 133"), which, as amended, is effective for financial statements for all fiscal quarters of all fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2000. SFAS No. 133 standardizes the accounting for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts, by requiring that an entity recognize those items as assets or liabilities in the statement of financial position and measure them at fair value. SFAS No. 133 also addresses the accounting for hedging activities. The Company currently does not have any derivative instruments nor is it engaged in hedging activities, thus the Company does not believe implementation of SFAS No. 133 will have a material impact on its financial statement presentation or disclosures.

In December 1999, the Staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101, Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements ("SAB No. 101"). SAB No. 101, as amended by SAB No. 101A and SAB No. 101B, is effective no later than the fourth fiscal quarter of fiscal years beginning after December 15, 1999. SAB No. 101 provides the Staff's views in applying generally accepted accounting principles to selected revenue recognition issues. Currently, the Company believes that it complies with the accounting and disclosures described in SAB No. 101. Accordingly, management believes that SAB No. 101 will not impact the Company's financial statements.

3. Taxation

The Company is subject to income taxes on an entity basis on income arising in or derived from the tax jurisdiction in which each entity is domiciled. The Company's British Virgin Islands subsidiary is not liable for income taxes. The Company's PRC subsidiaries consist of two wholly-owned foreign enterprises and a 70% held Sino-Foreign Equity Joint Venture. Companies in the PRC are generally subject to income taxes at an effective rate of 33% (30% national income tax plus 3% state income tax). As manufacturing companies, the Company's subsidiaries operate in special economic zones, which entitles them to a reduced national income tax rate of 24%, and the subsidiaries are exempt from state income tax. Further, pursuant to the approval of the relevant PRC tax authorities, the subsidiaries have been granted a "tax holiday", whereby the subsidiaries are fully exempt from PRC income taxes for two years starting from the year profits are first made, followed by a 50% exemption for the next three years. In 1999, the two-year, 100% exemption expired for Jiangxi Fenglin and Guangxi Linmao, subjecting them to income tax at a rate of 12%. Effective October 1, 2000, the two-year, 100% exemption expired for Jiangxi Jiali, subjecting it to income tax at a rate of 12%. Losses incurred by joint ventures may be carried forward for five years.

4. Significant concentrations

The Company grants credit to its customers, generally on an open account basis. The Company's customers are all located in the PRC. Approximately 59% and 62% of the Company's sales were generated from four customers and three customers, respectively, during the years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999, respectively. Sales to each of these customers were 18%, 15%, 15% and 11% of total sales for the year ended September 30, 2000, and 29%, 17% and 16% of total sales for the year ended September 30, 1999.

At September 30, 2000 and 1999, approximately 67% and 86%, respectively, of accounts receivable were from trade transactions with five customers, of which one customer accounted for approximately 51% and 57%, respectively, of the accounts receivable balance.

8. Related party balances and transactions (continued)

(c) Transactions with shareholders

On February 6, 1998, certain shareholders made a loan of US$300,000 (RMB2,490,614) to the Company. The loan is repayable at the earlier of three years from May 1, 1998 or sixty days after demand by all and/or individual shareholders. In consideration of the loan, the Company granted to these shareholders options to purchase 754,117 shares of common stock of the Company at an exercise price of US$1.50 (RMB12.42) per share exercisable during a two year period beginning February 6, 1998. The options were valued at US$241,317 (RMB1,998,105) based upon the market value of the common stock underlying the options resulting in deferred loan costs of that amount. Of this amount, RMB616,283 has been recognized as an expense during each of the years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999, and RMB352,690 has been deferred at September 30, 2000. The deferred amount is being amortized to expense through May 1, 2001.

9. Lease commitments

The Company leases land, buildings and other equipment under various contracts. Rental expenses for the years ended September 30, 2000 and 1999 were RMB180,000. The future total minimum rental payments required under operating leases that have remaining non-cancellable lease terms at September 30, 2000 are as follows:

	RMB
Year ending September 30, 2001	180,000 =====

10. Warrants and options

The Company adopted a stock option plan (the "Plan") as of February 6, 1998. The Plan allows the Board of Directors, or a committee thereof at the Board's discretion, to grant stock options to officers, directors, key employees, and consultants of the Company and its affiliates. An aggregate of 250,000 shares of common stock has been reserved for issuance upon exercise of the options granted under the Plan. Pursuant to the Plan, the exercise price shall in no event be less than the fair market value of the shares of common stock at the date of grant. As of September 30, 2000, no stock options have been granted under the Plan.

11. Risk considerations

As a majority of the Company's operations are conducted in the PRC, the Company is subject to special considerations and significant risks not typically associated with investments in equity securities of North American and Western European companies. The Company's operations may be adversely affected by significant political, economic and social uncertainties in the PRC.

Although the PRC government has been pursuing economic reform policies for the past several years, no assurance can be given that the PRC government will continue to pursue such policies or that such policies may not be significantly altered, especially in the event of a change in leadership, social or political disruption, or unforeseen circumstances affecting the PRC's political, economic and social life. There is also no guarantee that the PRC government's pursuit of economic reforms will be consistent or effective.

The Company expects that substantially all of its revenues will be denominated in RMB. A portion of such revenues will need to be converted into other currencies to meet foreign currency obligations such as payment of any dividends declared. Both the conversion of RMB into foreign currencies and the remittance of foreign currencies abroad requires the PRC government's approval.
