NAB plan to stabilise and rebuild the Australian business

Edgar Filing: NATIONAL AUSTRALIA BANK LTD - Form 6-K

A comprehensive plan to stabilise and rebuild the NAB's Australian business was outlined in a market update by the Executive Director and Chief Executive of the National's Australian operations, Mr Ahmed Fahour.

We are half-way through a three year turnaround, Mr Fahour said. We have the right people in place and they are focused on the right things. We have broadly stabilised the business and are now embarking on the rebuilding phase.

Highlights of the briefing include a three year plan to:

release new products and improve customer service in Australia

complete the integration and restructuring of the Australian businesses invest $1.8 billion in rebuilding the Australian business, and having regard to the $1.8 billion investment, keep underlying cost growth in the Australian business under 3% per annum

Four key priorities for the next three years include:

Helping our customers fulfil their aspirations

We have a clear purpose: to help our customers fulfil their aspirations, Mr Fahour said. We are freeing up our people to achieve this, by simplifying processes and policies.

We are also committed to reinvesting in skills and capability development, including new quality management approaches and systems that improve both the employee and customer experience.

We will continue to launch market-leading, customer-focused products. New products such as the Business Cash Maximiser, Personal Project Loan and iSaver Account have been launched recently.

Rebuilding critical infrastructure

As announced in May, we are also reinvesting $1.8 billion over three years in rebuilding the business, Mr Fahour said.

This will go to product and service innovation, building infrastructure, and compliance/regulatory issues.

In 2006 and beyond, the investment mix will shift towards projects that give us bottom line returns and rejuvenate our systems and infrastructure. This includes investments in our Retail branch network, re-engineering of our lending processes and building new products and services for our customers.

Becoming cost-competitive

We are still inefficient compared to best practice, Mr Fahour said. We intend to keep underlying cost growth under 3% per annum on average over the next three years.

Early gains have been achieved through a number of initiatives including the integration of support functions across the business, cancellation of low-value projects and reduction in the use of consultants.

The 1000 job reductions announced in May have been completed.

Longer-term, value-adding initiatives include process re-engineering to free up capacity, simplification of technology architecture and rationalisation of suppliers. We will right-source to ensure functions are performed in-house or externally in Australia or overseas as appropriate and this will mean another 1000 job reductions over the next two years, as announced in May.

Managing our portfolio of businesses

Each of the NAB's business units is at a different starting position, and each has a plan to become truly competitive, Mr Fahour said.

Business & Private Banking:

Business and Private is very strongly positioned. Features of the growth strategy include:

- Further specialisation in specific industry groups;
- Greater banker empowerment and authority;
- Cross-sell into transaction banking and wealth management.

Retail Banking:

The Retail business faces reinvigorated incumbents and a raft of new competitors. A major improvement program will include:

- Re-investment and training for sales and service;
- Re-investing in and upgrading our branches;
- Profit and Loss accountability to be managed by new local area markets;
- Increased sales capabilities to be put back into major outlets.

Wealth Management:

The Wealth Management business enjoys a strong brand and market position. There will be a strong focus on:

Improving service levels;

Revitalising the manager of managers platform;

Investment in product innovation;

Cross-sell into the bank channel.

These plans will ensure the Wealth Management business participates in the exciting growth opportunities available to it.

Cultural change is taking hold in Australia . . . it is a long journey

Corporate principles widely adopted

Very high levels of customer focus

Above 90% employee satisfaction score vs low 70% in 2003 on recent EOS Survey

Satisfaction and engagement scores flat over last 2 years

74% overall satisfaction score and 39% engagement flat score vs 2003

Middle management / longer serving employees not engaged on employee issues

Senior management feel very engaged

Significant progress has been made in stabilising the business

Summary

Culture and People

- Refresh Leadership team
- Build an integrated regional model organised around the customer
- Clear performance targets and accountability for achievements
- Embed our Corporate Principles

Business Efficiency/Cost Platform

- Business unit efficiency initiatives
- Halt discretionary spend
- Start to gain control of expenses
- Impose productivity improvements on suppliers
- Cancelled unnecessary projects

External Stakeholders

- Delivering on enforceable undertakings
- Embed a Compliance Gateway
- Make significant effort against audit items
- Strengthen relationship with regulators
- Re-engage with community groups

Revenue Growth

- Improve customer service proposition
- Develop several new products
- Stabilise market share in key segments
- Energise frontline
- Address credit settings
- Focus on margin management / asset quality
