(i) Set forth below is the transcript of the audio message the Company plans to disseminate electronically to its employees:

TIM: Good morning. This is Tim and Mark speaking to you from Weston.

By now you will have seen this morning's exciting announcement that our Board of Directors approved a transaction under which Monster will combine with Randstad, a leading human resources services provider and one of our top staffing customers. This is a transformational day for our company.

Edgar Filing: MONSTER WORLDWIDE, INC. - Form SC14D9C

I wanted to personally reach out as soon as possible to convey my enthusiasm about this combination and the many opportunities it presents for all of our stakeholders – our employees, our customers, and our shareholders.

This transaction brings together two incredibly complementary visions for the recruiting industry, creating a unique opportunity that will allow us to accelerate our mission and connect more people to more jobs.

As you may know, Randstad is the second largest HR service provider in the world, with capabilities spanning outsourcing, staffing, consulting and other workforce solutions and a footprint that covers more than 90% of the total global HR services market.

We expect that together, the combination of Monster and Randstad will bring value to you, our employees, who will benefit from being part of this larger, more diversified company with access to greater resources; our customers will benefit from our ability to accelerate our delivery of the best recruiting media, technologies, and platforms; our shareholders will receive immediate value for their shares.

With that, I will ask Mark to say a few words about the great benefits this transaction will have for our customers and how important your commitment is throughout this process.

Thank you all for your dedication to Monster and I hope that you share my enthusiasm in joining Randstad and the exciting new chapter for our Company.

MARK: Thank you, Tim, and good morning, everyone.

I want to start by reiterating Tim's sentiments about what an exciting opportunity this is for Monster and the essential role you all will play to ensure that Monster continues to deliver the same outstanding service that our customers have come to rely on.

With Randstad, we will continue to pursue our mission, servicing our customers and their needs. However, now we intend to do it faster and more broadly, creating new and innovative capabilities that deliver greater value to individual job seekers, candidates, employers, and society as a whole.

Once the transaction closes, we intend to deliver for our customers as we always have, bringing humanity and opportunity to the job industry.

It is important to note, and we want to emphasize, that it is still early in this process. The transaction is subject to customary closing conditions. Until the combination is complete, which is expected to occur in the fourth quarter of 2016, subject to regulatory approvals, Monster and Randstad remain separate companies. In short, everything remains business as usual and it is important that we all stay focused on our responsibilities and our customers. Following close, Monster will operate as a separate and independent entity under the Monster name within Randstad.

I am sure that you will have many questions. There is a lot of work ahead of us. Please stay focused today on what you do best to meet and exceed our customers' expectations.

Tim?

TIM: Thanks Mark. We are excited about what the future holds for Monster, and we hope you are too. In the coming weeks, we will get together for a company All-Hands to review more information about this transaction and discuss next steps.

In conclusion, on behalf of our entire Board and management team, I d like to thank you for all that you do. In many ways, this exciting transaction is the culmination of all of your hard work, and for that you should be very proud.

- The transaction is subject to customary closing conditions. Following the transaction's close, which is expected to occur in the fourth quarter of 2016, subject to the satisfaction of customary closing conditions, Monster will continue operating as a separate and independent entity under the Monster name.

Transaction Benefits

- First, let me speak a little bit about how this opportunity came about, and why this transaction is so exciting.
- As you may know, Randstad is the second largest HR service provider in the world, with capabilities spanning outsourcing, staffing, consulting and other workforce solutions.
- They are one of our top staffing customers and we know them well.
- As you know, the global landscape is changing rapidly and keeping pace with technological advances is increasing the pressure on employers to find better ways to connect people and jobs.
- This transaction brings together two complementary visions for the recruiting industry, creating a unique opportunity that will allow us to accelerate our ability to connect more people to more jobs.

- This transaction is a win-win for all key stakeholders: you, our employees, will benefit from being part of this larger, more diversified company with access to greater resources; our customers will benefit from our ability to accelerate our delivery of the best recruiting media, technologies, and platforms; and our shareholders will receive immediate value for their shares.
- Moving forward, our mission remains the same. We intend to continue to create and deliver the best recruiting media, technologies, and platforms to service customers and their needs. However, now we intend to do it faster and more broadly, creating new and innovative capabilities that deliver greater value to individual job seekers, candidates, and employers alike.
- Importantly, as I mentioned earlier, Monster will operate as a separate and independent entity under the Monster name within Randstad, and we intend to continue to deliver for our customers as we always have, bringing humanity and opportunity to the job industry.

Next Steps for Employees

- It is important to note, and I must emphasize, that it is still early in this process.
- Until the combination is complete, Monster and Randstad remain separate companies.
- In short, everything remains business as usual.

- We must all stay focused on our responsibilities and our customers, and it is important to encourage your employees to do the same.
- We expect the combination with Randstad to bring many benefits to Monster employees, who will be part of a larger, more diversified company with access to greater resources.
- The tone we set as leaders plays a big role in how all of our stakeholders react to this news. Please remind your team members to remain focused on their day-to-day responsibilities and working hard to meet the needs of our customers.

The Role You Play as Leaders

- This transaction truly is a testament to the accomplishments we have achieved as a team and I thank each of you for your contributions.
- It is also important to communicate this same message to your teams and to encourage them to keep up their great work as we move forward and continue to grow the business.
- To help guide you in your conversations with employees and to ensure that our messages are consistent, we are also providing you with a communications toolkit.
- Please take the time to read through and familiarize yourself with the communications materials we want to ensure that our messages are consistent but remember all information is to be kept confidential until the press release crosses the wire tonight at 1:00 AM ET.
- As we engage with employees, it is important to keep in mind that how you discuss this transaction will affect how those under your supervision respond.
- Stay confident and forward-looking, and encourage employees to think and act constructively.

- Of course, there may be questions you do not have answers to. It is important that you don't speculate on anything that you don't know.

Communications Cadence

- To briefly review the plans for the next 24 hours:
- At 1:00 AM ET, Randstad and Monster will issue a joint deal press release. One minute later, Monster's earnings press release will cross the wire. Given the transaction announcement, Monster will not be hosting an earnings call.
- Immediately following, an employee letter and an employee voicemail will be distributed and posted to the Intranet.
- At the same time, a customer letter will be distributed and the team will begin customer outreach starting with Asia and Europe and then cascading to North America.
- Shortly after 1:00 AM ET, we will also distribute invites to separate sales force and staffing sales force calls that will occur in different regions through the day as follows:
- At 4:00 AM ET, Sanjay Modi will conduct the Monster Sales Force Call with India (1:30 PM IST).

- Simultaneously, Andrea Bertone will conduct the Monster Sales Force Call with Europe (10:00 AM GMT+2).
- At 4:15 AM ET, Andrea Bertone will conduct the Monster Staffing Sales Force Call with Europe (10:15 AM GMT+2).

- At 10:15 AM ET, Paul Forte will conduct the Monster Staffing Sales Force Call with North America.
- At 10:15 AM ET, Pat Manzo will conduct the Monster Global Customer Service Call.

- Throughout the day, the team and I will be talking with media, investors, and other key stakeholders – top customers, suppliers, etc.

- We encourage you to first talk with your direct reports early tomorrow morning and then hold conference calls with your respective organizations shortly thereafter. We want to ensure they understand the benefits of this transaction and are prepared for conversations with customers and other key stakeholders as appropriate.

- In the coming weeks, we will hold a company All Hands call, during which we will review more information about this transaction and next steps.

Sales Force Call Talking Points

Introduction

- Thank you for joining me on such short notice.
- As you know, early this morning, we announced that Monster will combine with Randstad, a leading human resources services provider and one of our top staffing customers.
- As our sales force, each of you will play an important role in helping our customers understand the key benefits of the transaction.

Why We Are Combining with Randstad

- First, let me highlight a few key points as to why this transaction, and why now.
- As you know and have seen firsthand, there has been a massive technological change that has challenged employers to identify better ways to find and hire people globally.
- With Randstad, the second largest HR service provider in the world, we can address that challenge.
- This transaction brings together two complementary visions for the recruiting industry, creating a unique opportunity to accelerate our ability to connect more people to more jobs.
- Together we intend to build the world's most comprehensive portfolio of HR services.
- With Randstad, we can accelerate our ability to connect more people to more jobs by bringing labor supply and demand closer together.

- We expect that this transaction will bring great benefits to our customers, which I will address in a moment, but also to our employees including you, our valued sales reps who will benefit from becoming part of a larger, more diversified company.
- We are excited to join and be supported by Randstad, as we continue to build the best recruiting media, technologies, and platforms. We look forward to working with the Randstad team to ensure a smooth transition.

What This Means for Our Customers

- That brings me to what this all means for customers and how you can help.
- First and foremost, it is important for customers to understand that until the transaction closes, which is expected to occur in the fourth quarter of 2016, subject to the satisfaction of customary closing conditions, we and Randstad remain separate companies. Customers should continue to do business with us as they always have. In short, it's business as usual.
- Following the close, Monster will operate as a separate and independent entity under the Monster name, continuing to service customers as we always have.
- It is important to reinforce with your customers that Monster intends to serve them as part of Randstad and you can reassure them that they should expect the same outstanding service that they have come to rely on from us.
- You can also remind them that all existing contracts will continue to be honored and their company contact will remain the same. The transaction is subject to customary closing conditions.
- We are excited to join and be supported by Randstad, and we intend to build the best recruiting media, technologies, and platforms.

Next Steps

- We are still early in the process and as I mentioned earlier, until the combination is complete, Monster and Randstad will remain separate companies.
- Today's announcement is just the first step, and we will keep you updated as we can.
- I understand that you may have questions. Please refer to the Talking Points/Q&A document that was distributed to the sales force earlier today.
- You may also reach out to your manager with any questions you may have.

Conclusion

- In summary, I want to thank you for your support, hard work and dedication to Monster.
- This transaction represents an exciting next chapter for all of us and I hope you share my enthusiasm.
