Edgar Filing: AmNet Mortgage, Inc. - Form 8-K

Item 12. Results of Operations and Financial Condition

The information contained herein and in the accompanying exhibit shall not be incorporated by reference into any filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission made by AmNet Mortgage, Inc. (the "Company") whether before or after the date hereof, regardless of any general incorporation language in such filing.

On May 13, 2004, the Company issued a press release which included certain disclosures relating to the Company's financial results for the fiscal quarter ended March 31, 2004. The full text of the Company's press release is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1. The main purpose of the press release was to report financial results of the Company for the quarter ended March 31, 2004.

The Company's press release contains certain non-GAAP financial measures (as defined under SEC regulations). In the first quarter, we reclassified certain mortgage portfolio assets which required us to make a one time mark to market valuation adjustment on these assets. Because of the unique nature of the valuation, and the fact that it will be a one time entry for these assets and is not part of normal Company operations, management believes that it is useful to analyze the quarterly results excluding the valuation adjustment.

We earn interest income and incur interest expense in both segments of our operations. In the Mortgage Banking Business, American Mortgage Network ("AmNet") earns interest on a loan from the date the loan is funded until final disposition of the loan sale. Accordingly, interest income is a function of the volume of loans funded, the interest rate on the loans and the length of time the loans are held prior to sale. To the extent AmNet funds loans with borrowings under its warehouse facilities, it records interest expense based on the same factors. Similarly, in the Mortgage Asset Portfolio Business, we generate revenue on the interest we receive on the mortgage loans we hold for investment and we incur interest expense on the borrowings used to fund our loan portfolio.

Because the interest income and interest expense in each segment of our business are closely related and dependant on many of the same factors, in particular the volume of loans we originate or hold for investment, management believes that it is helpful in understanding our operations to analyze the impact of interest income and expense together within each segment of our operations. For this reason, the press release text provides information regarding the net interest income (interest income less interest expense) generated by each segment. Management believes that this is consistent with how financial analysts typically consider interest in analyzing mortgage banking operations. For the same reasons, in our discussion of the Mortgage Banking Business, the discussion of expenses includes a discussion of our operating expenses, which excludes interest expense.

Because certain other expenses incurred by AmNet in the Mortgage Banking Business, such as commissions and contract labor, also vary with the volume of AmNet's loan originations, management also believes that it is important in understanding this business to consider the variable and the fixed expenses separately. Accordingly, we have included an estimated breakdown of variable amounts for our mortgage banking operating expenses. Management believes that this will enable a better understanding of the Company's results and the likely impact in the future of changes in our origination volumes.
