On 24 May 2008, the Ministry of Industry and Information, the National Development and Reform Commission and the Ministry of Finance issued the Announcement on Deepening the Reform of the Structure of the Telecommunications Sector. The Announcement clearly states that the principal goals for the reform of the structure of the telecommunications sector are: to grant three 3G licences and to support the formation of three market competitors where each has nationwide network resources, relatively comparable strength and scale as well as full services operation capabilities with enhanced competitiveness. In light of the current telecommunications industry landscape and for the purpose of implementing such goals, the acquisition of the CDMA network (including assets and subscribers) of China Unicom by China Telecom, the merger of China Unicom and China Netcom, the transfer of the basic telecommunications business of China Satellite Communications into China Telecom and the merger of China Tietong into China Mobile are encouraged. Such reform and restructuring is associated with the grant of 3G licences which will be granted upon completion of the restructuring. Further details on the necessity, guidance thoughts, main principles and goals, associated policy measures and the implementation requirements in relation to deepening the reform of the structure of the telecommunications sector are set out in detail in the Announcement which can be found on the website of the Ministry of Industry and Information (www.mii.gov.cn).

The Company will issue a further announcement to inform investors and shareholders at an appropriate time. In the meantime, trading in the shares of the Company will remain suspended.
