SANDRIDGE ENERGY, INC. FILES DEFINITIVE CONSENT REVOCATION MATERIALS

AND SENDS LETTER TO STOCKHOLDERS

Recommends Stockholders Support Current Highly Qualified Board and

Reject the TPG-Axon Group's Nominees and Proposals

OKLAHOMA CITY, January 18, 2013 SandRidge Energy, Inc. (the Company or SandRidge) (NYSE: SD) today announced that it filed definitive consent revocation materials with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) in connection with the TPG-Axon Group's consent solicitation. SandRidge also launched a dedicated website for information pertaining to the Company's response to the TPG-Axon Group's consent solicitation at www.SupportSandRidge.com.

In addition, SandRidge sent a letter urging stockholders to support the Company and Board by disregarding any mailings sent by the TPG-Axon Group and signing, dating and returning SandRidge's WHITE consent revocation card.

Included below is the full text of the letter to SandRidge stockholders:

January 18, 2013

Dear Fellow Stockholder:

YOUR SUPPORT IS CRITICAL

TO PROTECTING THE VALUE OF YOUR INVESTMENT IN SANDRIDGE ENERGY

Please sign, date and return the enclosed WHITE CONSENT REVOCATION CARD today!

Please DO NOT sign or return any materials sent to you by the TPG-Axon Group.

Over the last several years, your Board and management team have taken strategic actions to transform SandRidge into the leading operator in the Mississippian Lime play of northern Oklahoma and western Kansas. These actions have established SandRidge as an industry leader in what is widely considered to be one of the most valuable oil-rich basins in the United States.

OUR STRATEGIC FOCUS ON THE MISSISSIPPIAN PLAY IS CREATING SIGNIFICANT VALUE FOR STOCKHOLDERS

Our position in the Mississippian play is enabling us to capitalize on what we believe to be among the highest rates of return for horizontal drilling in the U.S. today and to create significant current and future value for stockholders.

To position SandRidge for significant growth, we have undertaken a number of initiatives to improve our liquidity and the overall financial strength of the Company. In particular, the announced sale of our mature Permian assets for $2.6 billion will generate cash proceeds of over $1.4 billion in excess of our net investment, dramatically reduce our net debt balances and give us the resources needed to fund our growth in the Mississippian.

DON'T LET NOMINEES HAND-PICKED BY HEDGE FUND TPG-AXON TAKE CONTROL OF YOUR INVESTMENT;

REJECT THE TPG-AXON GROUP'S NOMINEES AND PROPOSALS

TPG-Axon is a New York-based hedge fund that:

was formed by the former co-head of Goldman Sachs' proprietary trading department;

purchased the vast majority of its SandRidge shares only in the first half of 2012;

is focused on its own short-term objectives and has sold shares of the Company's stock five times in the last year and three times since July 2, 2012, including as recently as December 10, 2012; and is seeking to replace all members of your duly elected Board with its own nominees but has failed to identify proposed directors or a management team with expertise in oil and gas exploration and development generally or in the Mississippian Lime play, the Company's principal asset. Furthermore, Mr. Singh, one of TPG-Axon's nominees and the Chief Executive Officer of TPG-Axon Capital, has no experience in running an operating business.

Through multiple letters, regulatory filings and media interviews, TPG-Axon has engaged in a false and misleading campaign and "consent solicitation" filled with half-truths and unsubstantiated statements regarding management, the Board and the Company. TPG-Axon has repeatedly made inflammatory and false statements with one simple goal—they want to distract you from the facts regarding SandRidge and its strategy for creating value as they attempt to replace your experienced Board with nominees they have selected, most of whom possess no relevant oil and gas exploration and production experience at all. If successful, the TPG-Axon Group's proposals would turn control of the Company over to a new board of directors nominated exclusively by TPG-Axon. The election of the TPG-Axon Group's nominees would not provide you with any control premium for your shares and we believe that their nominees would immediately encourage and facilitate a major restructuring or a premature sale of SandRidge designed to benefit short-term investors. Don't allow TPG-Axon to turn a quick profit at the expense of investors who care about generating long-term value.

The TPG-Axon Group's proposals place your investment in SandRidge at risk by asking you to turn control of the Company over to nominees lacking relevant experience and with no clear strategic plan to maximize value. In addition, the TPG-Axon Group's plan, if successful, could constitute a "change of control" under certain SandRidge agreements requiring the Company, among other things, to offer to buy back over $4.3 billion of its senior notes, which could be materially harmful to the Company.

Because of TPG-Axon's self-interested campaign, you will likely receive multiple mailings from them asking you to change the way SandRidge's directors are elected and to replace the current Board. Please do not sign or return any materials sent to you by TPG-Axon or its affiliates. Doing so puts your investment in SandRidge at risk. The only action we recommend you take is to sign, date and return the enclosed SandRidge WHITE CONSENT REVOCATION CARD.

YOUR EXPERIENCED BOARD AND MANAGEMENT TEAM

ARE WORKING HARD TO BUILD VALUE FOR YOU

In response to the sharp decline in gas prices in 2008 and the persistently depressed prices for natural gas, your Board and management team have been singularly focused on transforming the Company into an oil-focused producer while growing the Company's asset base and improving its financial position. Over the past several years, we have built a strong platform to drive future performance and stockholder value. This includes:

Successfully repositioning SandRidge from a company with 76% of its revenues attributable to natural gas in 2008 to a company with 86% of its revenues coming from oil today

Becoming the industry leader in one of the most valuable basins in the U.S.—the Mississippian Lime play—where our production has grown over 18x from the third quarter of 2010 to the third quarter of 2012 based on our ability to leverage our operational expertise and experience across our high quality, high return assets

As a first mover in the Mississippian, SandRidge invested $500 million to accumulate approximately two million acres in the play. SandRidge has developed highly critical scale and infrastructure in the region while positioning the Company as the most efficient operator in the play.

In 2011 and early 2012 SandRidge sold approximately 550,000 net acres in the play through offerings in publicly traded royalty trusts and joint ventures for total consideration of over $2 billion in cash, drilling carries and royalty trust units providing capital to support the Company's continued growth.

Strengthening the Company's financial position significantly

As a result of the actions described above, together with proceeds from the divestiture of non-core assets, the Company has significantly improved its financial strength and liquidity. In particular, the Company has reduced its net debt to EBITDA, a metric used by the Company's lenders, from 4.6x at September 30, 2011 to 3.2x at September 30, 2012. Further, the Company expects that upon receipt of proceeds from the sale of Permian Basin assets, the Company's net debt to EBITDA ratio will drop to under 2.0x. Additionally, the Company has reduced its 2013 capital expenditure budget by 19%, as compared to 2012.

Generating significant value from Permian Basin assets

The Permian Basin assets were a key part of our transition to an oil-rich E&P company. Through our investments in the region we grew production to approximately 30,000 Boe/d – a 165% increase in production growth over the past three years. Importantly, our strength in the basin allowed us to capitalize on the demand for mature, conventional Permian assets through our recently announced sale of most of these assets for $2.6 billion, generating cash proceeds of over $1.4 billion in excess of our net investment. Including the sale and after applying a portion of the proceeds to debt reduction, our pro forma cash balance and liquidity at September 30, 2012 would have been approximately $2 billion and $2.8 billion, respectively. Following the sale, our increased cash and liquidity position leaves us with a stronger balance sheet and the ability to fund capital expenditures to support future development in the higher growth Mississippian play.

THE PERMIAN SALE RECEIVES BROAD SUPPORT FROM A VALUATION AND BALANCE SHEET PERSPECTIVE¹

...the sale price was above the high end of our $1.7B-$2.3B expectation and likely above broader Street expectations.

Hsuliu Peng, Baird Equity Research, December 19, 2012

On our estimates, the deal brings a solid improvement to 2013 debt metrics, a slim benefit to 2014, and more importantly, supports funding through 2014 and removes any liquidity risk.

Ryan Todd, Deutsche Bank Securities Inc., December 20, 2012

This transaction bolsters SD's liquidity position, improves 2013 leverage metrics, and provides room for increased focus on its core Mississippian asset

Joseph Stewart, Citi Research, December 20, 2012

With the balance sheet now improved [following the Permian sale], as the company spends money to aerially test the acreage and gets more production profiles behind existing wells, investor comfort with the NAV will increase and the stock should move up over time.

Amir Arif, Stifel Nicolas, December 20, 2012

...it appears SandRidge continues to adapt to what makes the most economic sense.

Neal Dingmann, SunTrust Robinson Humphrey, December 20, 2012

OUR STRATEGIC PLAN BEST POSITIONS SANDRIDGE TO DELIVER VALUE

Building on our strong foundation, the Board and management are aligned on a strategy to capitalize on SandRidge's leading position and operating efficiencies in the Mississippian to deliver enhanced value to stockholders.

The Mississippian is Poised for Value-Creating Growth

Significant investments beginning in January 2010—including $500 million in the acquisition of leaseholds and $1.7 billion in drilling capital and infrastructure—allowed the Company to grow production in the Mississippian to 30.2 Mboe/d, increasing 138% from the third quarter of 2011 to the third quarter of 2012. During 2012, the Company drilled 396 wells to end the year with 600 wells operating in the region, making it the largest operator and most active driller across the play. SandRidge continues to hold 1.85 million net acres in the play, on which there are over 11,000 future drilling locations to support development over the next 18 years. Plans to expand from 32 rigs at the end of 2012 to 41 rigs in 2013 will facilitate continued high-return growth in the region.

Operating Efficiencies Drive Returns

SandRidge has created a unique advantage in the Mississippian Lime through its extensive investment in critical infrastructure, including a proprietary saltwater disposal system and electrical infrastructure. Our investments have resulted in the lowest operating costs in the play. Going forward, per well drilling and completion costs are expected to continue to decrease, further enhancing returns and stockholder value.

INFORMED WALL STREET ANALYSTS AGREE ON THE VALUE OF

SANDRIDGE'S ASSETS IN THE MISSISSIPPIAN

Our thesis remains that the Miss Lime play is an attractive resource play with better overall economics than the Permian or Bakken. SD's exposure to the play provides meaningful exposure to the Miss Lime and strong underlying NAV.

Amir Arif, Stifel Nicolaus, December 20, 2012

With the Permian soon in the rearview mirror, SandRidge intends to focus on the Mississippi Lime play. Thus far the play has shown strong production gains and, despite some fears that it is more gassy than first thought, the returns have been strong. With SandRidge now in a better liquidity position, we expect activity in the play to move significantly higher as the company focuses on the Mississippi Lime as its growth driver going forward.

Jason Wangler, Wunderlich Securities, January 2, 2013

The most recent change is toward the company's highest returns as numerous Horizontal Mississippian well results now indicate returns can be as much as 20% higher than the Permian at corresponding commodity prices.

Neal Dingmann, SunTrust Robinson Humphrey, December 20, 2012

YOUR BOARD IS HIGHLY QUALIFIED AND HAS

EXTENSIVE EXPERIENCE IN THE OIL AND GAS INDUSTRY

SandRidge has strong, independent and experienced directors who are highly qualified to continue to lead the Company in executing its strategic plans and who are focused on serving all of the Company's stockholders. Collectively, the Board brings relevant expertise and experience in many important areas, including expertise in the exploration and production sector of the oil and gas business as well as specific experience in developing the Mississippian Lime play and the sophisticated techniques required to succeed in this area; significant senior management experience; oversight of public company financial management matters; and background in investing and capital raising activities. Altogether, with this set of skills and credentials, this is the right Board to guide and manage a publicly-traded oil and gas company in making the necessary investments and capital allocation decisions to capitalize on the high-return growth potential across its asset base.

THE TPG-AXON GROUP'S NOMINEES LACK RELEVANT EXPERIENCE NECESSARY TO LEAD YOUR COMPANY;

CEDING CONTROL TO THE TPG-AXON GROUP'S NOMINEES PLACES YOUR INVESTMENT AT RISK

In contrast to SandRidge's highly-qualified Board, the nominees TPG-Axon has chosen are not familiar with the Company's operations and assets and five of the seven nominees have no relevant oil and gas exploration and production experience at all. Furthermore, the TPG-Axon Group's nominees possess almost no relevant upstream energy experience, and specifically have no experience in developing the Mississippian Lime or with today's horizontal drilling and other oil and gas development techniques that are critical to SandRidge's future growth plans. In short, the TPG-Axon Group is asking you to turn control of the Company over to nominees who lack the expertise and strategic plan necessary to create long-term value, placing your investment at risk.

NOW IS NOT THE TIME TO DISRUPT THE EXECUTION OF SANDRIDGE'S STRATEGIC PLAN

Your Board and management team has taken and is committed to taking substantial steps to enhance performance and increase stockholder value going forward. Don't give up your right to share in the superior value that the current SandRidge team is poised to deliver over the long term.

Do not be misled by TPG-Axon, a New York-based hedge fund created by the former co-head of Goldman Sachs' proprietary trading department.

Collectively, the Board brings relevant expertise and experience in many important areas, including expertise in the exploration and production sector of the oil and gas business as well as specific experience in developing the Mississippian Lime play and the sophisticated techniques required to succeed in this area; significant senior management experience; oversight of public company financial management matters; and background in investing and capital raising activities. Altogether, with this set of skills and credentials, this is the right Board to guide and manage a publicly-traded oil and gas company in making the necessary investments and capital allocation decisions to capitalize on the high-return growth potential across its asset base.

THE TPG-AXON GROUP'S NOMINEES LACK RELEVANT EXPERIENCE NECESSARY TO LEAD YOUR COMPANY; CEDING CONTROL TO THE TPG-AXON GROUP'S NOMINEES PLACES YOUR INVESTMENT AT RISK

In contrast to SandRidge's highly-qualified Board, the nominees TPG-Axon has chosen are not familiar with the Company's operations and assets and five of the seven nominees have no relevant oil and gas exploration and production experience at all. Furthermore, the TPG-Axon Group's nominees possess almost no relevant upstream energy experience, and specifically have no experience in developing the Mississippian Lime or with today's horizontal drilling and other oil and gas development techniques that are critical to SandRidge's future growth plans. In short, the TPG-Axon Group is asking you to turn control of the Company over to nominees who lack the expertise and strategic plan necessary to create long-term value, placing your investment at risk.

NOW IS NOT THE TIME TO DISRUPT THE EXECUTION OF SANDRIDGE'S STRATEGIC PLAN

Your Board and management team has taken and is committed to taking substantial steps to enhance performance and increase stockholder value going forward. Don't give up your right to share in the superior value that the current SandRidge team is poised to deliver over the long term.

Do not be misled by TPG-Axon, a New York-based hedge fund created by the former co-head of Goldman Sachs proprietary trading department.

Welcome

Welcome to our website. Here you will find information pertaining to SandRidge's response to TPG-Axon's consent solicitation.

The SandRidge Board and management team are focused on and committed to delivering significant value for stockholders. In fact, over the last several years, SandRidge has taken strategic actions to transform the Company into an oil-focused producer and the leading operator in the Mississippian Lime play of northern Oklahoma and western Kansas. These actions have established SandRidge as an industry leader in what is widely considered to be one of the most valuable oil-rich basins in the United States.

Importantly, SandRidge has strong, independent and experienced directors who are highly qualified to continue to lead the Company in executing its strategic plans and who are focused on serving all of the Company's stockholders. This is the right Board to guide and manage a publicly-traded oil and gas company in making the necessary investments and capital allocation decisions to capitalize on the high-return growth potential across its asset base.

Hedge fund TPG-Axon has begun a misleading campaign and consent solicitation to try to replace SandRidge's experienced Board. If successful, TPG-Axon's proposals would turn control of the Company over to a new board of directors nominated exclusively by TPG-Axon. The election of TPG-Axon's nominees would not provide you with any control premium. The SandRidge Board has unanimously determined that the TPG-Axon consent solicitation is not in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders and therefore urges stockholders to disregard any mailings sent by TPG-Axon. The only action the Board recommends stockholders take is to sign, date and return SandRidge's WHITE consent revocation card.

This website provides information about SandRidge's response to TPG-Axon's consent solicitation, including SandRidge's Consent Revocation Statement, press releases, letters and other useful information. We encourage you to read the materials carefully and continue to visit often for any updates.

We thank you for your continued support.
