Item 5.02 Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

On July 25, 2016, Starbucks Corporation (the Company or Starbucks) announced the following senior leadership changes to be effective September 1, 2016.

Cliff Burrows, group president, U.S. and Americas, will assume the role of group president, Siren Retail. In this new role, Mr. Burrows will have global responsibility for the Starbucks Reserve® Roastery & Tasting Rooms, as well as the Starbucks Reserve®-only stores. He will also lead the expansion of stand-alone Princi locations including integration of Princi as the exclusive food purveyor at the Starbucks Reserve® Roastery & Tasting Rooms and the Starbucks Reserve®-only stores. In addition, Mr. Burrows will have responsibility globally for the Teavana retail business. He will remain a member of Starbucks senior leadership team and will report to Howard Schultz, chairman and ceo.

John Culver, group president, China/Asia Pacific (CAP), Channel Development (CPG) and Emerging Brands will assume the role of group president, Starbucks Global Retail, with responsibility for Starbucks retail sales around the world. Reporting directly to Mr. Culver will be the senior Starbucks leaders overseeing the EMEA and CAP regions, as well as the Americas company-operated and licensed stores. He will remain a member of the Starbucks senior leadership team and will continue to report to Kevin Johnson, president and chief operating officer.

In addition to Mr. Burrows and Mr. Culver, also reporting directly to Mr. Johnson will be Scott Maw, executive vice president, chief financial officer, Lucy Helm, evp, general counsel and secretary, Michael Conway, president, Global Channel Development, as well as the senior leaders of the Company's supply chain, technology, partner (human) resources and marketing organizations.

As part of these leadership changes, Mr. Schultz will increase his focus on global strategy, global store development and store design innovation to position Starbucks for its next wave of global growth. He will also continue to work closely with his Senior Leadership Team to ensure continued disciplined growth and operational excellence around the world.
