GOL Recognized for Best Financial Management in 2004

São Paulo, September 16, 2005 GOL Linhas Aéreas Inteligentes (NYSE: GOL and Bovespa: GOLL4), Brazil's low-fare, low-cost airline, was recognized for best Financial Management in 2004, according to a survey conducted by the magazine IstoÉ DINHEIRO in partnership with the auditing firm Deloitte.

More than 500 companies were evaluated in four key areas: financial management, social responsibility, human resources and technological innovation. The magazine's methodology allowed for an in-depth and comprehensive evaluation of the Brazilian business sector, recognizing the top-performing company in each of the four categories above.

We are very pleased to receive this award as the GOL team has worked hard to implement best practices throughout the Company. The dedication of our employees has been key to our success and this recognition demonstrates that we continue to work in the right direction said Richard Lark, CFO of GOL. The Company's strong financial performance is the result of our commitment to our virtuous cycle maintaining low costs, low fares and profitable growth which has enabled us to become one of the fastest growing companies in Brazil.

Complete results will be published in the As Melhores da Dinheiro edition of Isto É DINHEIRO on September 17, 2005, and will also be available online at <http://www.terra.com.br/istoedinheiro/>.
