Petrobras maintains position on the Dow Jones Sustainability Index

(Rio de Janeiro September 4, 2008). PETRÓLEO BRASILEIRO S/A - PETROBRAS, [Bovespa: PETR3/PETR4, NYSE: PBR/PBRA, Latibex: XPBR/XPBRA, BCBA: APBR/APBRA], a Brazilian international energy company, announces that for the third year in a row, Petrobras earned the right to be listed on the Dow Jones Sustainability Index (DJSI), the world's most important sustainability index. With the renewal of the listing, the company consolidates itself as one of the eight most sustainable Brazilian companies.

To be listed on the index, which is used as an analysis parameter by socially and environmentally responsible investors, the economic, environmental, and social performances of upwards of 2,500 companies in 57 industries all over the world are assessed. Nowadays, 20 international petroleum and gas companies integrate the index.

According to the index's evaluation criteria, Petrobras stood out for its transparency, brand management, environmental performance, biodiversity, human resource development, and corporate citizenship, and its total score rose to 73 in 2008 (70 in 2007). The score increased in the Economic Dimension criterion, and the major highlight was the Exploration and Production criterion, which surged from 21% to 75%. Remaining listed on the index shows the efforts the Company has made in the past few years in the environmental area, in accounting process transparency, divulging, and in corporate governance have been acknowledged.

The results of this annual review will influence the decisions of asset managers in a global market of investors in socially and environmentally responsible companies. Nearly $6 billion are currently invested in funds based solely on companies listed on the DJSI.

In addition to aspects regarding sustainability, corporate governance, brand and risk management, the company assessment questionnaire also includes more specific issues such as climate change, requirements made of suppliers, and social project management.

The following Brazilian companies are listed on the DJSI: Aracruz Celulose, Banco Bradesco, Banco Itaú, Companhia Energética de Minas Gerais (CEMIG), Itaúsa Investimentos, Usiminas, and Votorantim Celulose e Papel. In the Oil and Gas sector, the list includes: AMEC, BG Group, BP, ENI, EnCana Corp., FMC Technologies, Gamesa Corporacion Tecnológica, Neste Oil Oyj, Nexen, Noble, Repsol YPF, and Royal Dutch.
