Item 1.02 Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement.

On February 5, 2009, Biolase Technology, Inc. (the "Company") terminated its Loan and Security Agreement (the "Loan Agreement") with Comerica Bank ("Comerica"), dated September 28, 2006. The Loan Agreement terminated was a revolving loan to the Company in the maximum principal amount of $10 million, with advances of up to $6 million without regard to a borrowing base that related to a $6 million minimum cash balance deposited with Comerica. The terminated loan was originally scheduled to revolve through September 28, 2008 and mature on September 28, 2009. On January 30, 2009, the Company delivered a compliance certificate to Comerica which set forth non-compliance with certain covenants under the Loan Agreement as of December 31, 2008. All outstanding balances and applicable interest have been repaid in full with cash available on hand, and under the terms of the Loan Agreement and related note, the Company and certain of its subsidiaries satisfied all of their obligations under Loan Agreement. There were no termination penalties incurred with this termination. The Company is currently pursuing other credit facilities that do not contain the cash deposit requirements set forth in the Comerica Loan Agreement; however, the Company cannot guarantee that it will be able to obtain such a line, or otherwise obtain financing to support its working capital needs.
