Media Release

Hans-Ulrich Doerig remains Chairman of the Board of Directors of Credit Suisse AG until Annual General Meeting 2011

Urs Rohner to be appointed the next Chairman thereafter

Zurich, December 10, 2009 Credit Suisse Group AG today announced that Hans-Ulrich Doerig, 69, will remain as Chairman until the Annual General Meeting in April 2011 when he will be succeeded by the current Vice Chairman, Urs Rohner, 50. The Board of Directors is pleased that Hans-Ulrich Doerig has agreed to remain Chairman until 2011 and is very grateful to him for leading Credit Suisse during a challenging period.

Hans-Ulrich Doerig said: «I am pleased to have the opportunity to be Chairman at a very important time in the history of Credit Suisse and I look forward to continuing lead the company as we work to strengthen our position. My fellow Board members and I believe that continuity, consistency and the orderly transfer of responsibilities are at the heart of Credit Suisse's success. Urs Rohner has played a significant role in this success to date, both as Chief Operating Officer and General Counsel and, more recently, as Vice Chairman.»

Urs Rohner said: «I am honored to have been asked to lead Credit Suisse as Chairman and I am fully committed to our successful strategy. Credit Suisse has established a very strong position in the aftermath of a very challenging period for the industry and we have a great opportunity to continue to build on our differentiated, client focused and capital efficient business model.»

Words such as believes, anticipates, expects, intends and plans and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements but are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements. We do not intend to update these forward-looking statements except as may be required by applicable securities laws. By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties, both general and specific, and risks exist that predictions, forecasts, projections and other outcomes described or implied in forward-looking statements will not be achieved. We caution you that a number of important factors could cause results to differ materially from the plans, objectives, expectations, estimates and intentions expressed in such forward-looking statements. These factors include:

the ability to maintain sufficient liquidity and access capital markets;

market and interest rate fluctuations;

the strength of the global economy in general and the strength of the economies of the countries in which we conduct our operations, in particular the risk of a continued US or global economic downturn in 2009 and beyond;

the direct and indirect impacts of continuing deterioration of subprime and other real estate markets;

further adverse rating actions by credit rating agencies in respect of structured credit products or other credit-related exposures or of monoline insurers;

the ability of counterparties to meet their obligations to us;

the effects of, and changes in, fiscal, monetary, trade and tax policies, and currency fluctuations;

political and social developments, including war, civil unrest or terrorist activity;

the possibility of foreign exchange controls, expropriation, nationalization or confiscation of assets in countries in which we conduct our operations;

operational factors such as systems failure, human error, or the failure to implement procedures properly; actions taken by regulators with respect to our business and practices in one or more of the countries in which we conduct our operations;

the effects of changes in laws, regulations or accounting policies or practices; competition in geographic and business areas in which we conduct our operations;

the ability to retain and recruit qualified personnel;

the ability to maintain our reputation and promote our brand;

the ability to increase market share and control expenses;

technological changes;

the timely development and acceptance of our new products and services and the perceived overall value of these products and services by users;

acquisitions, including the ability to integrate acquired businesses successfully, and divestitures, including the ability to sell non-core assets;

the adverse resolution of litigation and other contingencies;

the ability to achieve our cost efficiency goals and other cost targets; and our success at managing the risks involved in the foregoing.

We caution you that the foregoing list of important factors is not exclusive. When evaluating forward-looking statements, you should carefully consider the foregoing factors and other uncertainties and events, as well as the information set forth in our Form 20-F Item 3 Key Information Risk Factors.
