Joins with Glass Lewis in Supporting Both Barington Group Nominees

Believes the Company s Value Potential is Not Being Realized under its Current Board of Directors and that the Board would Benefit from the Additional Skills and Experience of the Barington Group s Nominees

New York, New York, May 14, 2015 The Barington Group, a significant long-term shareholder of The Eastern Company (NASDAQ: EML), today announced that it has received the support of Egan-Jones Proxy Services, one of the top independent proxy advisory firms in the United States, for the election of its two highly qualified director nominees to the Eastern Board of Directors at the May 20th Annual Meeting of Shareholders.

In its report, Egan-Jones states, "We believe that support for voting the Dissident ballot is merited and that voting the dissident ballot (WHITE PROXY CARD) is in the best interest of the Company and its shareholders. Egan-Jones also states, "We believe that the Company's value potential is not being realized under its current Board of Directors. We believe that the current Board's failure to address board and management renewal has put the Company in significant risk. We are also concerned that there may be other equally important issues that may have been overlooked. The Barington Group is committed to seeking to enhance the long-term value of the Company's common stock and ensuring that shareholder interests are represented in the boardroom, we recommend support for their director nominees.

Barington Group nominee James A. Mitarotonda, commenting on the report, stated, "Egan-Jones Proxy Services has expressed what we are hearing from many of our fellow Eastern shareholders—that the Company would benefit from the skills and experience of our nominees who are committed to helping improve long-term value and protecting shareholder interests at Eastern. As Egan-Jones rightfully notes, this is a critical time for the Company. We strongly encourage all Eastern shareholders to follow the recommendation of proxy advisory firms Egan-Jones and Glass Lewis and vote for the Barington Group's nominees on our WHITE proxy card. With your support, we are confident that the 2015 Annual meeting can mark the beginning of a new era at Eastern.
