*Office Depot Recommends That Stockholders Vote FOR Each Of The Company s Directors
On The WHITE Proxy Card*

Delray Beach, Fla., April 17, 2008 Office Depot, Inc. (NYSE: ODP), a leading global provider of office products and services, today announced that Glass Lewis & Co. and Egan-Jones Proxy Services, two independent proxy voting advisory services, have joined PROXY Governance and RiskMetrics/ISS in recommending that Office Depot stockholders vote to reject the two dissident directors nominated by Alan Levan and his company Woodbridge at Office Depot s Annual Meeting of Stockholders scheduled for April 23, 2008.

Commenting on the supportive recommendations of all four leading proxy advisory firms, Office Depot Chairman and CEO Steve Odland said, We appreciate the thorough analysis that these firms have undertaken and are pleased with their recommendation that our stockholders reject Alan Levan and his dissident nominees. Office Depot s board and management are disappointed with the Company s recent performance and we share our stockholders' frustration. However, the entire board as well as management are fully dedicated to enhancing Office Depot's operating performance and we are implementing a strong strategic plan designed to increase value for all of our stockholders.

In evaluating Alan Levan s and Woodbridge s nominees, Glass Lewis noted:**

- . . . shareholders should now take a closer look at the dissident nominees to see whether their qualifications and track records would be beneficial to Office Depot.

Edgar Filing: OFFICE DEPOT INC - Form DEFA14A

- . . . we do not believe that the [Levan/Woodbridge] nominees are the right individuals, nor is their proposed plan substantial enough, to effect long-term change at the Company.
In its analysis, Egan-Jones concluded:***

- While there is no doubt that the Company's management and board have considerable challenges ahead and their turnaround plans have merit, in our view that the dissidents' plans as publicly disclosed lack sufficient detail, we believe that support for the [Levan/Woodbridge] nominees for the Company and its shareholders.

Office Depot strongly recommends that its stockholders vote FOR each of the Company's directors and its proposals on the WHITE proxy card.

We encourage stockholders to vote electronically using the simple procedures to vote by telephone or Internet contained on their proxy cards. It will only take a few moments to ensure that their votes are received in time to be counted at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders, which is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. EDT on Wednesday, April 23, 2008.

Only the latest dated proxy that is received by the deadline will be counted. Please disregard any Gold proxy cards received from Levan, his company Woodbridge, or their agents.

Stockholders who have questions or need assistance in voting their shares should contact MacKenzie Partners, Inc. by calling toll-free (800) 322-2885.
