Edgar Filing: ACL SEMICONDUCTOR INC - Form 10-Q

TRANSACTIONS WITH INTELLIGENT NETWORK TECHNOLOGY LTD.

During the three months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, and the nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, the Company received management fee income of $641, $0, $641 and $0, respectively, from Intelligent Network Technology Ltd. ("Intelligent"). Outstanding accounts receivable due from Intelligent totaled $641 and $0 as of September 30, 2005 and December 31, 2004, respectively.

Mr. Alan Yang, the Company's Chief Executive Officer, majority shareholder and a director, is a 75% shareholder of Intelligent. The remaining 25% of Intelligent is owned by a non-related party.

TRANSACTIONS WITH CITY ROYAL LTD.

In August 2004, the Company was in negotiation with The Dah Sing Bank Limited (the "Dah Sing Bank") for an additional amount of its available line of credit. As a condition to the extension of additional credit to the Company, Dah Sing Bank requested additional collateral to secure the increased amount on the line. In order to meet the increased security requirement, the Company loaned $611,446 to City Royal Limited ("City Royal") to pay off the mortgage loan on a residential property owned by City Royal Limited and pledged to Dah Sing Bank as collateral to secure the Company's borrowings from Dah Sing Bank. In consideration thereof, Dah Sing Bank made available additional borrowings of HK$10 million (approximately US$1,282,000). The loan is unsecured and bears no interest. In February 2005, City Royal sold the residential property and has repaid the loan through transferring the entire proceeds from the sale of HK$8,000,000 (approximately $1,025,641) to Dah Sing Bank as collateral for the Company's line which was subsequent reduced to HK$6,000,000 (approximately $769,231).

The loan to City Royal is non-interest bearing, in consideration of which City Royal did not charge an arrangement fee to the Company in respect of the security pledge in favor of Dah Sing Bank. The primary purpose of the loan, from the Company's perspective, was to advance the business of the Company by enabling it to secure additional lines of financing in excess of the loan amount from Dah Sing Bank. The Company settled this loan in February 2005 and received payment in the full amount of $611,446. City Royal loaned $414,195 to the Company during the three months ended March 31, 2005 and the Company repaid $86,276 to City Royal during the three months ended June 30, 2005. The outstanding loan balance due to City Royal was $327,919 as of September 30, 2005. The Company believes that the above-referenced loan to City Royal in 2004 does not violate the general prohibition against loans made by publicly-traded companies to its directors and executive officers set forth in Section 402 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 ("Section 402") as its primary purpose was to advance the business of the Company. However, no assurance can be given that the Securities and Exchange Commission or U.S. federal government will agree with the Company's position and, in the event such loan is determined to be a violation of Section 402, the criminal penalties of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, could apply.

Mr. Yang's wife and Mr. Yang's mother-in-law are shareholders of City Royal owning 100% of the capital stock thereof.

All the related party transactions taking place during the reporting periods were conducted during the normal course of business. The prices of products sold to or purchased from these related entities are in the same price ranges as those offered to other non related customers or purchased from other vendors.

4. CONVERTIBLE NOTE PAYABLE:

On December 31, 2003, the Company issued a 12% subordinated convertible note in the amount of $250,000 to Professional Traders Fund, Inc. ("PTF"). The borrowing amount was due and payable on December 31, 2004. The interest was payable in arrears on March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31, 2004. The Company was in default at December 31, 2004 and accordingly, interest began to accrue at a rate of 15% on and after the date of the default, and the Company became obligated to pay a default penalty equal to 30% of the unpaid principal and interest. At the option of the debt holder, such unpaid principal, interest and default penalty could have been paid with shares of the Company's common stock at conversion price, which is defined in the following paragraph.

The holder of this note, at its option, could convert the outstanding balance of the debt into shares of common stock at the conversion price, defined as 40% of the average closing price of the stock three trading days immediately prior to the Notice of Conversion date or the interest payment date or the debt maturity date, not to exceed $1 per share.

In addition, since this debt was convertible into equity at the option of the note holder at beneficial conversion rates, an embedded beneficial conversion feature was recorded as a debt discount and amortized using the effective interest method over the life of the debt in accordance with Emerging Issues Task Force No. 00-27, "Application of Issue No. 98-5 to Certain Convertible Instruments." Since the intrinsic value of the beneficial conversion feature exceeded the proceeds of the convertible debt, the amount of the discount assigned to the beneficial conversion feature was limited to the amount of the proceeds of the convertible debt. Therefore, the Company recorded a discount of $250,000, the face value of the debt in 2003. The Company fully amortized the discount of $250,000 during the year ended December 31, 2004.

Pursuant to the terms of a Limited Guarantee and Security Agreement, the debt was guaranteed by 1.2 million shares of the Company's common stock beneficially owned by three shareholders.

Edgar Filing: ACL SEMICONDUCTOR INC - Form 10-Q

The Company agreed to file a registration statement for the conversion shares within 60 days of the funding of the note and agreed to use reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to be declared effective within 150 days of the funding of the note. If the Company failed to meet either of such timelines, a 1% penalty per month on the funded amount of the note would be levied against the Company. The Company did not meet either timeline and, accordingly, the Company began incurring a 1% penalty per month on the funded amount of the note.

During the year ended December 31, 2004, PTF converted principal note balance of $100,000 into 222,980 shares of common stock and outstanding accrued interest of $12,385 into 29,579 shares of common stock which the Company satisfied through delivery of shares pledged by three shareholders. Accordingly, the Company's shareholders issued directly to PTF a total of 252,559 common shares. The value of the converted principal and accrued interest, totaling $112,385 at September 30, 2005 and December 31, 2004, has been recorded as a liability to the shareholders in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet. As of December 31, 2004, the gross outstanding balance of this note was $150,000.

On May 25, 2005, a Default Judgment was issued by United States District Court, Southern District of New York ordering the Company to pay PTF a total of in US$255,292 (comprised of principal in the amount of US$150,000; interest in the amount of US$10,541; penalties in the amount of to US$85,350; attorney fees amounting to US$4,781; and costs and disbursements of taking action against the Company pursuant to which the Company agreed to pay in the amount of US$4,620). The Company accrued the entire claimed amount in the three months ended June 30, 2005.

On August 16, 2005, the Company entered into a settlement agreement with PTF pursuant to which the Company agreed to pay $255,292 in seven monthly installments through February 28, 2006. The Company reclassified the outstanding loan balance and the related accrued interest and penalties to "Payable Related to Debt Settlement" on the accompanying consolidated balance sheets. During the three months ended

September 30, 2005, the Company paid $39,204 of the $255,292 balance owed to PTF in accordance with the terms of the settlement agreement.

5. BANK FACILITIES

With respect to all of the above referenced debt and credit arrangements, pursuant to a debenture deed dated April 20, 2001, the Company pledged its assets as collateral collectively to a bank group in Hong Kong comprised of Dah Sing Bank Limited, The Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation Limited, and DBS Bank (Hong Kong) Ltd. for all current and future borrowings from the bank group by the Company. In addition to the above pledged collateral, the debt is also secured by:

1. a personal guarantee given by Mr. Yang, limited to approximately US$6,900,000, to The Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation Limited;
2. a fixed cash deposit of $769,231 (HK$6,000,000) as collateral for loans from Dah Sing Bank Limited;
3. a personal guarantee given by Mr. Yang for unlimited amount together with a key man life insurance policy on Mr. Yang for $1,000,000 and a personal guarantee to Dah Sing Bank Limited.

6. ECONOMIC DEPENDENCE

The Company's distribution operations are dependent on the availability of an adequate supply of electronic components under the "Samsung" brand name which have historically been principally supplied to the Company by Samsung Electronics H.K. Co., Ltd. ("Samsung HK"), a subsidiary of Samsung Electronics Co., Ltd., a Korean public company. Samsung HK supplied approximately 77%, 82%, 77% and 77% of materials to the Company for the three months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, and the nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004 respectively. However, there is no written supply contract between the Company and Samsung HK and, accordingly, there is no assurance that Samsung HK will continue to supply sufficient electronic components to the Company on terms and prices acceptable to the Company or in volumes sufficient to meet the Company's current and anticipated demand, nor can assurance be given that the Company would be able to secure sufficient products from other third party supplier(s) on acceptable terms.

The Company is highly dependent on the product supplies from Samsung HK. If the relationship with Samsung HK is terminated, the Company may not be able to continue its business. The Company has been taking necessary steps to reduce its dependence on Samsung HK through its contemplated acquisition of Classic which is a reseller of various memory products.

For the three months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, and the nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, the Company purchased $21,097,135, $28,483,654, $63,940,646 and $76,614,899, respectively, from Samsung HK. At September 30, 2005 and December 31, 2004, included in accounts payable were $2,631,055 and $3,836,804, respectively, payable to Samsung HK.

7. SEGMENT REPORTING

The Company's sales are generated from Hong Kong and the rest of China and substantially all of its assets are located in Hong Kong.

8. RECENTLY ISSUED ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

In March 2005, the staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 107 ("SAB 107"). The interpretations in SAB 107 express views of the staff regarding the interaction between Statement of Financial Accounting Standards Statement No. 123 (revised 2004), "Share-Based Payment" ("Statement 123(R)") and certain SEC rules and regulations and provide the staff's views regarding the valuation of share-based payment arrangements for public companies. In particular

SAB 107 provides guidance related to share-based payment transactions with non-employees, the transition from public entity status, valuation methods (including assumptions such as expected volatility and expected term), the accounting for certain redeemable financial instruments issued under share-based payment arrangements, the classification of compensation expense, non-GAAP financial measures, first-time adoption of Statement 123(R) in an interim period, capitalization of compensation cost related to share-based payment arrangements, the accounting for income tax effects of share-based payment arrangements upon adoption of Statement 123(R), the modification of employee share options prior to adoption of Statement 123(R) and disclosures in Management's Discussion and Analysis subsequent to adoption of Statement 123(R).

In March 2005, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 47, "Accounting for Conditional Asset Retirement Obligations" ("FIN 47"). FIN 47 provides guidance relating to the identification of and financial reporting for legal obligations to perform an asset retirement activity. FIN 47 requires recognition of a liability for the fair value of a conditional asset retirement obligation when incurred if the liability's fair value can be reasonably estimated. FIN 47 also defines when an entity would have sufficient information to reasonably estimate the fair value of an asset retirement obligation. The provision is effective no later than the end of fiscal years ending after December 15, 2005. The Company will adopt FIN 47 beginning the first quarter of fiscal year 2006 and does not believe the adoption will have a material impact on its consolidated financial position or results of operations or cash flows.

In May 2005, the FASB issued SFAS No.154, "Accounting Changes and Error Corrections, a replacement of APB Opinion No. 20 and FASB Statement No. 3 ("SFAS No. 154"). SFAS No. 154 requires retrospective application to prior periods' financial statements of a voluntary change in accounting principle unless it is impracticable. APB Opinion No. 20 "Accounting Changes," previously required that most voluntary changes in accounting principle be recognized by including in net income of the period of the change the cumulative effect of changing to the new accounting principle. SFAS No. 154 is effective for accounting changes and corrections of errors made in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2005; however earlier adoption is permitted for accounting changes and corrections of errors made in fiscal years beginning after the date of issuance of SFAS No 154. The Company is in the process of evaluating whether the adoption of SFAS 154 will have a significant impact on the Company's overall results of operations or financial position.

In June 2005, the Emerging Issues Task Force, or EITF, reached a consensus on Issue 05-6, DETERMINING THE AMORTIZATION PERIOD FOR LEASEHOLD IMPROVEMENTS, which requires that leasehold improvements acquired in a business combination or purchased subsequent to the inception of a lease be amortized over the lesser of the useful life of the assets or a term that includes renewals that are reasonably assured at the date of the business combination or purchase. EITF 05-6 is effective for periods beginning after July 1, 2005. The Company does not expect the provisions of this consensus to have a material impact on its financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

9. SUBSEQUENT EVENT:

The debenture deed dated April 20, 2001 (refer to Note 5 above) in respect of pledging the Company's assets as collateral for the outstanding and future borrowings collectively from a bank group in Hong Kong, comprised of Dah Sing Bank Limited, The Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation Limited, and DBS Bank (Hong Kong) Ltd., was released on October, 2005.

10. RECLASSIFICATION:

Certain reclassifications have been made to the 2004 condensed consolidated financial statements to confirm to the 2005 presentation.

OVERVIEW

CORPORATE BACKGROUND

The Company, through its wholly-owned subsidiaries Atlantic Components Limited, a Hong Kong corporation ("Atlantic") and Alpha Perform Technology Limited, a British Virgins Island company ("Alpha"); provided, however that Alpha is no longer active, for the three months ended September 30, 2005, is engaged primarily in the business of distribution of memory products under "Samsung" brandname which principally comprise DRAM and Graphic RAM, FLASH, SRAM and MASK ROM for the Hong Kong and Southern China markets.

As of September 30, 2005, ACL had more than 120 active customers in Hong Kong and Southern China.

ACL is in the mature stage of operations. As a result, the relationships between sales, cost of sales, and operating expenses reflected in the financial information included in this document to a large extent represent future expected financial relationships. Much of the cost of sales and operating expenses reflected in our financial statements are recurring in nature.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") recently issued Financial Reporting Release No. 60, "CAUTIONARY ADVICE REGARDING DISCLOSURE ABOUT CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES" ("FRR 60"), suggesting companies provide additional disclosure and commentary on their most critical accounting policies. In FRR 60, the SEC defined the most critical accounting policies as the ones that are most important to the portrayal of a company's financial condition and operating results, and require management to make its most difficult and subjective judgments, often as a result of the need to make estimates of matters that are inherently uncertain. Based on this definition, ACL's most critical accounting policies include: inventory valuation, which affects cost of sales and gross margin; policies for revenue recognition and allowance for doubtful accounts. The methods, estimates and judgments ACL uses in applying these most critical accounting policies have a significant impact on the results ACL reports in its consolidated financial statements.

INVENTORY VALUATION. ACL's policy is to value inventories at the lower of cost or market on a part-by-part basis. This policy requires ACL to make estimates regarding the market value of our inventories, including an assessment of excess or obsolete inventories. ACL determines excess and obsolete inventories based on an estimate of the future demand for its products within a specified time horizon, generally 12 months. The estimates ACL uses for demand are also used for near-term capacity planning and inventory purchasing and are consistent with ACL's revenue forecasts. If ACL demands forecast is greater than ACL's actual demand it may be required to take additional excess inventory charges, which will decrease gross margin and net operating results in the future.

ALLOWANCE FOR DOUBTFUL ACCOUNTS. ACL maintains an allowance for doubtful accounts for estimated losses resulting from the inability of ACL's customers to make required payments. ACL's allowance for doubtful accounts is based on ACL's assessment of the collectibility of specific customer accounts, the aging of accounts receivable, ACL's history of bad debts, and the general condition of the industry. If a major customer's credit worthiness deteriorates, or ACL's customers' actual defaults exceed ACL's historical experience, ACL's estimates could change and impact ACL's reported results.

RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company conducts business with several affiliated companies. All the related party transactions taking place during the reporting periods were conducted during the normal course of business. The prices of products sold to or purchased from these related entities are in the same price ranges as those offered to other non related customers or purchased from other vendors.

In 2004, the Company entered into an acquisition agreement with the shareholders of Classic for the Company to acquire 100% of Classic. The acquisition is expected to close during the fourth quarter of 2005. Upon the closing of the acquisition, all the transactions with Classic, the Company's largest business partner, will be eliminated during the consolidation.

ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES; ANTICIPATED EFFECT OF GROWTH

Below is a brief description of basic accounting principles which the Company has adopted in determining its recognition of sales and expenses, as well as a brief description of the effects that the Company believes its anticipated growth will have on the Company's sales and expenses in the next 12 months.

16

Sales from Samsung are recognized upon the transfer of legal title of the electronic components to the customers. At September 30, 2005, ACL had more than 120 active customers.

The quantities of memory products the Company sells fluctuate with changes in demand from its customers. The prices set by Samsung that the Company must charge its customers are expected to fluctuate as a result of prevailing economic conditions and their impact on the market.

In the third quarter of 2005, large OEMs like DELL, IBM and many other personal computer manufacturers placed large orders for new memory standard DDR2 for personal computers. However, Intel could not meet the demand for their i945 Motherboard chip set full series. Consequently, the output for personal computers dropped substantially, which lead to a high level of memory module inventory at the personal computer manufacturers. These excess inventories were flooded into the market and the prices for DDR2 memory module dropped significantly. This reduction in prices caused our revenue to be lower than expected.

Starting from November 2005, the supplies of Intel i945 mother board chip set series is expected to grow steadily. Other parties like SIS (mother board chip set maker) and AMD (CPU maker) joined forces in supporting DDR2 standard. Demand for personal computers is expected to continue to increase especially during the period prior to Christmas.

Demand for Flash components, MP3, PMP, storage, etc, is expected to continue to increase in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2005 in light of the holiday season. Flash prices have also been rising rapidly due to the increased demand. Other Flash manufacturers like Hynix, Micron, ST-Micro are expected to increase supplies in order to meet projected demand. The shortage of Flash components in the market is expected to continue in the 4th quarter of the 2005.

The overall memory market is expected to improve in the last quarter of 2005 for both personal computer and consumer electronics products. Though our business in the last quarter of 2005 is expected to be difficult, we expect our financial performance to improve.

COST OF SALES

Cost of sales consists of costs of goods purchased from Samsung HK, and purchases from other Samsung authorized distributors. Many factors affect the Company's gross margin, including, but not limited to, the volume of production orders placed on behalf of its customers, the competitiveness of the memory products industry and the availability of cheaper Samsung memory products from overseas Samsung distributors due to regional demand and supply situations. Nevertheless, the Company's procurement operations are supported by Samsung HK, although there is no written long-term supply agreement in place between Atlantic and Samsung HK.

OPERATING EXPENSES

The Company's operating expenses for the three months and nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004 were comprised of sales and marketing and general and administrative expenses only.

Sales and marketing expenses consisted primarily of and external commissions paid to external sales personnel and costs associated with advertising and marketing activities. Sales and marketing expenses are expected to fluctuate as a percentage of sales due to the addition of sales personnel and various marketing activities planned throughout the year.

General and administrative expenses include all corporate and administrative functions that serve to support the Company's current and future operations and provide an infrastructure to support future growth. Major items in this category include management and staff salaries, rent/leases, professional services, and travel and entertainment. The Company expects these expenses to increase as a result of increased legal and accounting fees anticipated in connection with the Company's compliance with ongoing reporting and accounting requirements of the Securities and Exchange Commission and as a result of anticipated expansion by the Company of its business operations.

Interest expense, including finance charges, relates primarily to Atlantic's short-term and long-term bank borrowings, which the Company intends to reduce, and amortization of discount on the convertible debenture.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following table sets forth unaudited statements of operations data for the three months and nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004 and should be read in conjunction with the "MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS" and the Company's financial statements and the related notes appearing elsewhere in this document.

NET SALES

Net sales decreased by $5,905,641 or 17.01% from $34,715,179 in the three months ended September 30, 2004 to $28,809,538 in the three months ended September 30, 2005. This decrease resulted primarily from shortage of supplies of products to meet the demands. The Company expects the supplies to be increased in the 4th quarter of 2005 and 1st half of 2006.

COST OF SALES

Cost of sales decreased by $6,115,740 or 17.92% from $34,120,204 in the three months ended September 30, 2004 to $28,004,464 in the three months ended September 30, 2005. The cost of sales decreased in proportion to the decrease of net sales.

GROSS PROFIT

Gross profit increased by $210,099 or 35.31% from $594,975 in the three months ended September 30, 2004 to $805,074 in the three months ended September 30, 2005. The gross profit % increases slightly by 1.08% from 1.71% in the three months ended September 30, 2005 to 2.79% in the three months ended September 30, 2005. The increase was due primarily by rising prices of its products which was caused by the shortage of the products in the market.

OPERATING EXPENSES

Selling and marketing expenses increased by $121,756 or 2828.90% from $4,304 in the three months ended September 30, 2004 to $126,060 in the three months ended September 30, 2005. The increase was primarily attributable to the sales commission expenses incurred and paid to an external sales agent which brought in certain sales orders to the Company. No such sales were subject to commission during the same period of prior year.

General and administrative expenses decreased by $403,755 or 45.27% from $891,805 in the three months ended September 30, 2005 to $488,050 in the three months ended September 30, 2004. In August 2004, the Company suffered a loss of $475,591 as a result of the theft of certain of its inventory which were not covered by its insurance policy. Excluding this incident, the Company's general and administrative expenses would have increased by $84,295 which was primarily related to increase of payroll expenses.

INCOME (LOSS) FROM OPERATIONS

Income from operations increased by $492,098 or 163.41% to a profit of $190,964 in the three months ended September 2005 from a loss of $301,134 in the three months ended September 30, 2004. The increase was mainly due to increase in gross profit of its products caused by the shortage of memory products in the market.

OTHER INCOME (EXPENSES)

Interest expense decreased by $39,445 or 42.77% from $92,466 in the three months ended September 30, 2004 to $53,021 in the three months ended September 30, 2005. Excluding $59,217 interest expense incurred in the three months ended September 30, 2004 related to amortization of discount on convertible note payable which is non-cash in nature, interest expense was $33,249 in the three months ended September 30, 2004. After excluding the $59,217, discount amortization, interest expense increased by $19,772. Such increase is primarily due to increase in interest rates.

INCOME TAX

Income tax increased by $66,105 or 189.62% from a benefit of $34,862 in the three months ended September 30, 2004 to an expense of $31,243 in the three months ended September 30, 2005 due to an increase of net profit of $536,616 from the three months ended September 30, 2004 to the three months ended September 30, 2005.

NET INCOME (LOSS)

Net income increased by $470,511 or 130.25% from a net loss of $361,246 in the three months ended September 30, 2004 to a net profit of $109,265 in the three months ended September 30, 2005. It is primarily due to increase in gross profit and decrease in general and administrative expenses.

UNAUDITED NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2005 COMPARED TO THE NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2004

NET SALES

Net sales decreased by $13,593,015 or 13.93% from $97,549,421 in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to $83,956,406 in the nine months ended September 30, 2005. This decrease resulted primarily from shortage of supplies of products. The Company expects the supplies be increased in the 4th quarter of 2005 and 1st half of 2006.

COST OF SALES

Edgar Filing: ACL SEMICONDUCTOR INC - Form 10-Q

Cost of sales decreased by $13,249,365 or 13.92% from $95,187,218 in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to $81,937,853 in the nine months ended September 30, 2005. The cost of sales decreased in proportion to the decrease of net sales.

GROSS PROFIT

Gross profit decreased by $343,650 or 14.55% from $2,362,203 in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to $2,018,553 in the nine months ended September 30, 2005. The decrease in gross profit was primarily due to the decrease of sales. The gross profit % reduced slightly by 0.02% from 2.42% in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to 2.4% in the nine months ended September 30, 2005. The increase in selling prices for the 3rd quarter of 2005 could not overcome the drop in selling prices for the first two quarters of 2005.

OPERATING EXPENSES

Selling and marketing expenses increased by $344,004 or 1113.75% from $30,887 in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to $374,891 in the nine months ended September 30, 2005. The increase was primarily attributable to the sales commission expenses incurred and paid to an external sales agent which brought in certain sales orders to the Company. No such sales were subject to commission during the same period of prior year.

General and administrative expenses decreased by $711,934 or 32.99% from $2,157,959 in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to $1,446,025 in the nine months ended September 30, 2005. This decrease was principally attributable to professional costs for services performed after the Company became a publicly traded company. Majority of the accounting and legal services were performed during the nine months ended September 30, 2004. In addition, in August 2004, the Company suffered a loss of $475,591 as a result of the theft of certain of its inventory which were not covered by its insurance policy. The Company expects the general and administrative expenses to remain at the current level until the consolidation of Classic taking place.

INCOME FROM OPERATIONS

Income from operations increased by $24,280 or 14.01% from $173,357 in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to $197,637 in the nine months ended September 30, 2005. The decrease was mainly due to decrease in general and administrative expenses exceeding the decrease in gross profit and increase in selling & marketing expenses.

OTHER INCOME (EXPENSES)

Interest expense decreased by $173,007 or 53.06% from $326,082 in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to $153,075 in the nine months ended September 30, 2005. Excluding $216,677 interest expense incurred in the three months ended September 30, 2004 related to amortization of discount on convertible note payable which is non-cash in nature, interest expense was $109,405 in the nine months ended September 30, 2004. After excluding the discount amortization of $216,677, interest expense increased by $43,670. Such increase was primarily due to default interest owing to Professional Traders Fund, LLC and increase in interest rates.

INCOME TAX

Income tax increased by $49,389 or 571.17% from a benefit of $8,647 in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to an expense of $40,742 in the nine months ended September 30, 2005 due to net profit increase for the nine months ended September 30, 2005.

NET INCOME (LOSS)

Net income increased by $153,742 or 101.85% from a net loss of $150,950 in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to a net profit of $2,792 in the nine months ended September 30, 2005, primarily as a result of a reduction of operating and interest expenses.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The Company's principal sources of liquidity have historically been cash provided by operations, bank lines of credit and credit terms from suppliers. The Company's principal uses of cash have been for operations and working capital. The Company anticipates these uses will continue to be its principal uses of cash in the future. See Note 5 of the Notes to Financial Statements for a description of the Company's banking arrangements.

The Company may require additional financing in order to reduce its short-term debts and implement its business plan. In order to meet anticipated demand for Samsung's memory products in the Southern China market over the next 12 months, the Company anticipates an additional need of working capital of at least $2.0 million to finance the cash flow required to finance the purchase of Samsung memory products from Samsung HK one day in advance of the release of goods from Samsung HK's warehouse before receiving payments from customers upon physical delivery of such goods in Hong Kong which, in most instances, takes approximately two days from the date of such delivery. In certain limited instances, customers of Atlantic are permitted up to thirty (30) days to make payment for purchased memory products. As the anticipated cash generated by the Company's operations are insufficient to fund its growth requirements, it will need to obtain additional funds. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to obtain the necessary additional capital on a timely basis or on acceptable terms, if at all. The Company's business growth and prospects would be materially and adversely affected. Additionally, if such financing was an equity financing, the holders of the Company's common stock may experience substantial dilution. In addition, as its results may be negatively impacted and thus delayed as a result of political and economic factors beyond the management's control, the Company's capital requirements may increase.

The following factors, among others, could cause actual results to differ from those expected: pricing pressures in the industry; a downturn in the economy in general or in the memory products sector; an unexpected decrease in demand for Samsung's memory products; a decrease in its ability to attract new customers; an increase in competition in the memory products market; and the ability or inability of some of ACL's customers to obtain financing. These factors or additional risks and uncertainties not known to ACL or that it currently deems immaterial may impair business operations and may cause ACL's actual results to differ materially from its historical operating results.

Although ACL believes its expectations of future growth are reasonable, it cannot guarantee future results, levels of activity, performance or achievements. ACL is under no duty to update its expectation after the date of this report to confirm them to actual results or to make changes in its expectations.

Edgar Filing: ACL SEMICONDUCTOR INC - Form 10-Q

In the nine months ended September 30, 2005, net cash provided by operating activities was $766,037 while in the nine months ended September 30, 2004, net cash provided by operating activities was $205,504, an increase of $560,533. Increase was primarily due to decrease of accounts receivable which was partially offset by decrease of accounts payable.

In the nine months ended September 30, 2005, net cash used for investing activities was $153,617 while in the nine months ended September 30, 2004, ACL used $718,770 in investing activities, a decrease of cash used of $565,153. Increase was primarily due to the restricted cash held by the bank as collateral for borrowings which was partially offset by loan received from a related party.

In the nine months ended September 30, 2005, net cash used for financing activities was $927,121 while in the nine months ended September 30, 2004, net cash provided by financing activities was $868,629, a decrease of $1,795,750. Decrease was primarily due to cash repayment to reduce the short term and long term loans which were partially offset by loan borrowed from City Royal.

The transactions with City Royal were considered short term in nature. The cash borrowed from City Royal was used as collateral to secure a line of credit with DahSing Bank. During the three months ended September 30, 2005, the Company extended its line of credit agreement with DahSing Bank. Under the new terms, the maximum borrowing limit was reduced and consequently, the cash collateral amount was reduced from $1,025,641 (HK$8,000,000) to $769,231 (HK$6,000,000). Since the transactions involved both cash loaned to and from City Royal, net imputed interest expense and income is immaterial to the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

The Company is highly dependent on the product supplies from Samsung HK. If the relationship with Samsung HK is terminated, the Company may not be able to continue its business. The Company has been taking necessary steps to reduce its dependence on Samsung HK through potential acquisition of Classic which is a reseller of various memory products.

An essential element of the Company's growth in the future will be to obtain adequate additional working capital to meet anticipated market demand from PC users (business and personal) in the southern part of China.

ITEM 3: QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

ACL is exposed to market risk for changes in interest rates as its bank borrowings accrue interest at floating rates of 0.5% to 1.0% over the Best Lending Rate (currently at the range from 7.0% to 7.25% per annum) prevailing in Hong Kong. For the nine months ended September 30, 2005 and the nine months ended September 30, 2004, Atlantic did not generate any material interest income (expense). Accordingly, ACL believes that changes in interest rates will not have a material effect on its liquidity, financial condition or results of operations.

IMPACT OF INFLATION

ACL believes that its results of operations are not significantly impacted by moderate changes in inflation rates as it expects it will be able to pass these costs by component price increases to its customers.

SEASONALITY

Edgar Filing: ACL SEMICONDUCTOR INC - Form 10-Q

ACL has not experienced any material seasonality in sales fluctuations over the past 2 years in the memory products markets.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

The Company has established disclosure controls and procedures to ensure that material information relating to the Company, including Atlantic, is made known to the officers who certify the Company's financial reports and to other members of senior management and the Board of Directors.

EVALUATION OF DISCLOSURE CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES. Based on their evaluation as of September 30, 2005, our chief executive officer and chief financial officer have concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-14(c) and 15d-14(c) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act")) are effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in Securities and Exchange Commission rules and forms.

CHANGES IN INTERNAL CONTROLS. In connection with the evaluation of the Company's internal controls as of September 30, 2005, the Company's Principal Executive Officer and Principal Financial Officer have determined that there are no changes to the Company's internal controls over financial reporting that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially effect, the Company's internal controls over financial reporting.

The regulations implementing Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 require an assessment of the effectiveness of the Company's internal controls over financial reporting beginning with our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ending on or after July 15, 2007. The Company's independent auditors will be required to confirm in writing whether management's assessment of the effectiveness of the internal controls over financial reporting is fairly stated in all material respects, and separately report on whether they believe management maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2007.

As part of the assessment of our internal controls in connection with the process required by Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, management intends to continue to review, evaluate and strengthen our controls and processes. Management cannot state that material weaknesses in internal controls will not be determined. Management also cannot state that the process of evaluation and the auditor's attestation will be completed on time. If a material weakness is discovered, corrective action may be time consuming, costly and further divert the attention of management. The disclosure of a material weakness, even if quickly remedied, could reduce the market's confidence in the Company's financial statements and harm the Company's stock price, especially if a restatement of financial statements for past periods is required.

In the ordinary course of business the Company may be subject to litigation from time to time. There is no past, pending or, to the Company's knowledge, threatened litigation or administrative action (including litigation or action involving the Company's officers, directors or other key personnel) which in the Company's opinion has, had, or is expected to have, a material adverse effect upon its business, prospects financial condition or operations.

Professional Traders Fund, LLC ("PTF") had filed a complaint, dated February 8, 2005, against the Company in the Southern District of New York alleging breach of contract for the nonpayment of a 12% subordinated convertible note from the Company to PTF in the principal amount of $250,000. PTF was seeking $239,850 plus default interest, costs and attorneys fees. On August 16, 2005, the Company and PTF entered into a settlement agreement whereby the Company agreed to pay PTF pursuant to a payment schedule a total of $255,292, which amount includes all post judgment legal expenses and payment by PTF of $1,400 to the stock transfer agent.
