1. Description of Business and Basis of Presentation

Description of Business

In May 2000, Merck & Co., Inc. (Merck) and Schering-Plough Corporation (Schering-Plough) (collectively Management or the Partners) entered into agreements to jointly develop and market in the United States, Schering-Plough s then experimental cholesterol absorption inhibitor ezetimibe (marketed today in the United States as ZETIA and as EZETROL in most other countries) (the Agreements) and certain respiratory products. The cholesterol collaboration is formally referred to as the Merck/Schering-Plough Cholesterol Partnership (the Partnership). In December 2001, the Agreements were expanded to include all countries of the world except Japan. The Agreements provide for ezetimibe to be developed and marketed in the following forms:

- § Ezetimibe, a once daily non-statin cholesterol reducing medicine used alone or co-administered with any statin drug, and
- § Ezetimibe and simvastatin (Merck s existing ZOCOR statin cholesterol modifying medicine) combined into one tablet (marketed today in the United States as VYTORIN and as INEGY in many international countries).

ZETIA and VYTORIN were approved by the U.S. FDA in October 2002 and July 2004, respectively. To date, ZETIA and VYTORIN have been launched in more than 50 and 15 countries, respectively, outside of the United States. Together, these products, whether marketed as ZETIA, VYTORIN or under other trademarks globally, are referred to as the Cholesterol Products .

Clinical development activities of the respiratory partnership are ongoing and operations were not material in 2004 or 2003.

Under the Agreements, the Partners established jointly-owned, limited purpose legal entities in Canada, Puerto Rico, and the United States through which to carry out the contractual activities of the Partnership in these countries. An additional jointly-owned, limited purpose legal entity was established in Singapore to own the intellectual property of the Partnership and to fund and oversee research and development and manufacturing activities of the Partnership. In all other markets except Latin America, the Agreements provide for subsidiaries of Merck or Schering-Plough to effectively act in an agent capacity on behalf of the Partnership. These legal entity and agent market operations are collectively referred to as the Combined Companies . Latin American subsidiaries of Schering-Plough and Merck compete against one another in the cholesterol market and as such, activities for the Cholesterol Products within Latin America are not included in the Combined Companies.

The Partnership is substantially reliant on the infrastructures of Merck and Schering-Plough. There are limited employees of the legal entities of the Partnership and most activities are performed by employees of either Merck or Schering-Plough under service agreements with the Partnership. Profits, which are shared by the Partners under differing arrangements in countries around the world, are defined as net sales minus (1) agreed upon manufacturing costs incurred by the Partners and invoiced to the Partnership, (2) direct promotion costs incurred by the Partners and invoiced to the Partnership, (3) costs for a limited specialty sales force incurred by the Partners and invoiced to the Partnership and certain amounts for sales force physician detailing of the Cholesterol Products in the United States,

Puerto Rico and Canada, (4) administration costs based on a fixed percentage of 1.0% to 1.4% of Cholesterol Product sales, which are invoiced by one of the Partners, and (5) other costs incurred by the Partners that were not contemplated when the Agreements were entered into but that were subsequently agreed to by both Partners. Agreed upon research and development expenses incurred by the Partners and invoiced to the Partnership are shared equally by the Partners.

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying combined balance sheets and combined statements of net sales and contractual expenses, cash flows and partners' capital (deficit) include the activities of the Combined Companies. Interpartnership balances and profits are eliminated.

Net sales include the net sales of the Cholesterol Products sold by the Combined Companies. Expenses include costs that Merck and Schering-Plough have contractually agreed to directly invoice to the Partnership, or are shared through the contractual profit sharing arrangements between the Partners described above.

The accompanying combined financial statements were prepared for the purpose of complying with certain rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission, and reflect the activities of the Partnership based on the contractual agreements between the Partners. Such combined financial statements include only the expenses agreed by the Partners to be included in the calculation of profits under the contractual agreements of the Partnership, and are not intended to be a complete presentation of all of the expenses that would be incurred by a stand-alone pharmaceutical company for the discovery, development, manufacture, distribution, and marketing of pharmaceutical products. Under the Agreements, certain expenses are invoiced to the Partnership by the Partners based on contractually agreed upon allocations of Partner-incurred expenses as described below. In the opinion of Management, any allocations of expenses described below were made on a basis that reasonably reflects the actual level of support provided. All other expenses are expenses of the Partners and accordingly, are reflected in each Partner's respective expense line items in their separate consolidated financial statements. Future results of operations, financial position, and cash flows could differ materially from the historical results presented herein.

As described above, the profit sharing arrangements under the Agreements provide that only certain Partner-incurred costs are permitted to be invoiced to the Partnership by the Partners and are therefore part of the profit calculation. The following paragraphs list the typical cost categories that are generally incurred in the discovery, development, manufacture, distribution, and marketing of the Cholesterol Products and provide a description of how such costs are treated in the accompanying combined statements of net sales and contractual expenses, which is consistent with how such costs are treated for purposes of determining profits under the contractual agreements.

- § Manufacturing costs All contractually agreed upon manufacturing plant costs incurred by the Partners related to the manufacture of the Partnership products are included as Cost of sales in the accompanying combined statements of net sales and contractual expenses, including certain production variances and standard costs for plant services and administration, materials management, technical services, quality control, and asset utilization. All other manufacturing costs incurred by the Partners not agreed to be included in the determination of profits under the contractual agreements are not invoiced to the Partnership and therefore are excluded from the accompanying combined financial statements. These costs include but are not limited to yield losses in excess of jointly agreed upon yield rates and excess/idle capacity of dedicated assets.
- § Direct promotion costs Direct promotion represents direct and identifiable out-of-pocket costs incurred by the Partners, including but not limited to contractually agreed upon expenses related to market research, detailing aids, agency fees, direct-to-consumer advertising, meetings and symposia, trade programs, launch meetings, special sales force incentive programs and product samples. All such contractually agreed upon costs are included in Selling, general and administrative in the accompanying combined statements of net sales and contractual expenses. All other promotion costs incurred by the Partners not agreed to be included in the determination of profits under the contractual agreements are not invoiced to the Partnership and therefore are excluded from the accompanying combined financial statements.

§ Sales force costs The agreed upon costs of a limited specialty sales force for the United States market that calls on opinion leaders in the field of cholesterol medicine is included in Selling, general and administrative in the accompanying combined statements of net sales and contractual expenses. Certain other agreed upon amounts in the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico are also included in Selling, general and administrative. Reimbursements made to Schering-Plough and Merck for physician details in North America were $121 million and $99 million respectively, in 2004 and $70 million to each partner in 2003. All other selling costs incurred by the Partners not agreed to be included in the determination of profits under the contractual agreements are not invoiced to the Partnership and therefore are excluded from the accompanying combined financial statements. These costs include the total costs of the general sales forces of the Partners detailing the Cholesterol Products in most countries outside of the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico.

§ Administrative costs Amounts based on a fixed percentage ranging from 1.0% to 1.4% of Cholesterol Product sales are invoiced to the Partnership by the Partner providing the administrative support. Such amounts are included in Selling, general and administrative in the accompanying combined statements of net sales and contractual expenses. Selected contractually agreed upon direct costs of employees of the Partners for support services are also included in Selling, general and administrative . All other costs incurred by the Partners not agreed to be included in the determination of profits under the contractual agreements are not invoiced to the Partnership and therefore are excluded from the accompanying combined financial statements. These costs include, but are not limited to, U.S. managed care services, Partners local product managers and subsidiary management in most international markets, and other indirect expenses such as corporate overhead and interest.

§ Research and development (R&D) expense R&D activities are performed by the Partners and agreed upon costs are invoiced to the Partnership. These agreed upon costs generally represent an allocation of each Partner s estimate of full time equivalents devoted to the research and development of the Cholesterol Products. These contractually agreed upon allocated costs are included as Research and development in the accompanying combined statements of net sales and contractual expenses. All other R&D costs that are incurred by the Partners but are not jointly agreed upon are not invoiced to the Partnership and therefore are excluded from the accompanying combined financial statements.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Principles of Combined Financial Statements

The combined financial statements include results for the jointly-owned, legal entities in the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and Singapore, as well as allocated balances for markets where Merck or Schering-Plough effectively act in an agent capacity on behalf of the Partnership, which are most other markets worldwide where Cholesterol Products are sold except for Latin America and Japan. Interpartnership balances and profits are eliminated.

Use of Estimates

The combined financial statements are prepared based on contractual agreements between the Partners, as described above, and include certain amounts that are based on Management s best estimates and judgments. Estimates are used in determining such items as provisions for sales discounts and returns. Because of the uncertainty inherent in such estimates, actual results may differ from these estimates.

Foreign Currency Translation

The United States dollar is the functional currency for the Partnership's foreign operations.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash equivalents are comprised of certain highly liquid investments with original maturities of less than three months.

Inventories

Substantially all inventories are valued at the lower of first in, first out cost or market.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets consist of licenses, trademarks and trade names owned by the Partnership. These intangible assets have been recorded at the Partners' historical cost at the date of contribution, which for the intangible assets held by the Partnership was a nominal value.

Revenue Recognition

Revenues from sales of Cholesterol Products are recognized when title and risk of loss pass to the customer. Recognition of revenue also requires reasonable assurance of collection of sales proceeds and completion of all performance obligations. In the United States, sales discounts are issued to customers as direct discounts at the point-of-sale or indirectly through an intermediary wholesale purchaser, known as chargebacks, or indirectly in the form of rebates. Additionally, sales are generally made with a limited right of return under certain conditions. Revenues are recorded net of provisions for sales discounts and returns, which are established at the time of sale.

Income Taxes

No provision has been made for federal, foreign or state income taxes as taxable income or losses of the Partnership are allocated to the Partners and included in their income tax returns.

Concentrations of Credit Risk

The Partnership's concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of accounts receivable. Three customers represented, in aggregate, approximately 80% of the Partnership's Accounts receivable at December 31, 2004. Bad debts have been minimal. The Partnership does not normally require collateral or other security to support credit sales. The Partnership derived approximately 83% in 2004 and 88% in 2003 of its combined net sales in the United States.

The Partnership sells Cholesterol Products to the Partners for this purpose and these sales are included in Net sales in the accompanying combined statements of net sales and contractual expenses. In 2004, sales to Merck and Schering-Plough for Latin America were $12 million and $30 million, respectively. In 2003, sales to Merck and Schering-Plough for Latin America were $2 million and $7 million, respectively.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Partners of the Merck/Schering-Plough Cholesterol Partnership

We have audited the accompanying combined balance sheet of the Merck/Schering-Plough Cholesterol Partnership as of December 31, 2004, as described in Note 1, and the related combined statements of net sales and contractual expenses, partners' capital (deficit) and cash flows as described in Note 1 for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the management of Merck & Co., Inc. and Schering-Plough Corporation, collectively Management or the Partners. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Partnership's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying statements were prepared for the purpose of complying with certain rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and, as described in Note 1, are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position, results of operations or cash flows of all of the activities of a stand-alone pharmaceutical company involved in the discovery, development, manufacture, distribution and marketing of pharmaceutical products.

In our opinion, the statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the combined financial position of the Merck/Schering-Plough Cholesterol Partnership, as described in Note 1, as of December 31, 2004, and the combined results of its net sales and contractual expenses and its combined cash flows, as described in Note 1, for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
