EXPRESS SCRIPTS COMMENTS ON DELAWARE COURT OF CHANCERY RULING
Court Again Enjoins Caremark Vote On Acquisition by CVS, This Time For At Least 20 Days
Recognizes Caremark Stockholders Have Appraisal Rights

St. Louis, February 23, 2007 Express Scripts, Inc. (Nasdaq: ESRX) today commented on the ruling by the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware that it has again enjoined Caremark Rx, Inc. (NYSE: CMX) from holding a stockholder vote regarding the CVS acquisition, this time until at least 20 days after Caremark discloses to stockholders their right to seek appraisal and the structure of fees paid to Caremark's bankers.

The Court ruled that the $6.00 special dividend to be paid to Caremark stockholders following an acquisition by CVS constitutes cash merger consideration and entitles stockholders to appraisal rights. In reaching this conclusion, the Court made several observations regarding the conduct of Caremark's directors:

[It] is not without some irony: it is plaintiffs, not Caremark's directors, who have convincingly asserted an entitlement to appraisal.

So long as payment of the special dividend remains conditioned upon shareholder approval of the merger, Caremark shareholders should not be denied their appraisal rights simply because their directors are willing to collude with a favored bidder to launder a cash payment.

The current disclosures already suggest a certain indifference on behalf of the Caremark board and supine acceptance of any additional consideration that might descend like manna from heaven from CVS.

It is an unfortunate and disappointing spectacle, however, to watch a board of directors insist that it simultaneously deserves the protection of the business judgment rule because the company is not changing hands, while a massive personal windfall is bestowed because it is.

Express Scripts commented: We agree with the Court's observations concerning inadequacies in the Board's process in the sale of Caremark. Given today's ruling, we are hopeful that the best interests of Caremark stockholders can finally be served.

We remain ready to sit down and start discussions with the Caremark Board. The Express Scripts offer provides superior value and we look forward to commencing confirmatory due diligence as soon as possible. The advantages of an Express Scripts-Caremark combination are strategically and financially compelling. Express Scripts is offering Caremark stockholders a superior currency and greater certainty of value than CVS and has taken a number of tangible and important steps to consummate a transaction. The Company is confident that an Express Scripts-Caremark combination will deliver superior value to our respective stockholders, plan sponsors and patients. Caremark stockholders are reminded that their vote is important. Stockholders may be able to vote their shares by telephone or by the Internet, and are advised that if they have any questions or need any assistance in voting their shares, they should contact Express Scripts' proxy advisor, MacKenzie Partners, Inc. Toll-Free at 800-322-2885.
