Jeffrey C. Sprecher, Chairman and CEO of ICE, said, "We are extremely pleased to be hosting this event in response to the overwhelming number of requests we have received from CBOT members for a face-to-face meeting. We believe it will provide a useful forum to outline in greater detail the strategic and financial merits of an ICE/CBOT combination and to address member questions directly.

Sprecher continued "We look forward to a constructive dialogue with the CBOT membership regarding our proposal, which would result in greater immediate and long-term value creation, as well as superior growth prospects for shareholders, members, customers and employees than the alternative transaction that the CBOT has agreed to with the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. We have more confidence than ever that ICE's growth trajectory, superior currency, demonstrated ability to integrate new businesses,
